The sharp advance in wheat was the subject much excited gossip among grain dealers Posterday. The rise is not local. It extends ever the whole continent. The immediate cause is the decrease in the visible supply, a remarkable circumstance considering the season of the year. This decrease has accentuated the already existing feeling of firmness. All of the leading markets show advances. September wheat closed at Chicago on Monday at 99c and last night at $1.02. December wheat at New York opened at $1.01; on Monday and last night at $1.025. Toledo's December closed at 96;c on Monday and il. Jil yesterday. The most remarkable advance was in Dulluth; December wheat opened there at $1.01; on Monday and closed at $1.01; on Monday and closed

He makes the probable requirements of the importing countries at 340,000,000 bushels in 1887, against actual imports in 1887-85 of 293,500,000 bushels, or 36,400,000 bushels larger requirements in 1888-89, has sufficed in 1887-85. He makes the probable exportable supplies of the exporting countries in 1889-89, 25,000,000 bushels less than the actual exports in 1887-88 from those countries.

OPINIONS OF THE ENGLISH OROP.

The Mark Lane Express, September 10, is of the opinion that the English wheat crop will be found greater than many suppose, and that the quality will prove about up to the average, although it will be some time before the wheat is incondition for the market.

The London Miller of the same date states that the markets of the past week have had across the Don, and who has done so much to develop that part of the city.

Just now his head is full of the "Tcronto Passenger Transport Co," which has already received the first instalment of their new patent side-door coaches. Two of these coaches will be placed on the streets of Toronto on Monday, running on Withrow-avenue, down Broadview-avenue to King and Queen-streets, along these to Bay, along Bay to Front, along Front to York, down York to Union station, across to Simcoe-street, up Simcoe and along Front by this route reversed back to Withrow-avenue. The coaches will be driven around the citys othat people can see them. Twenty of these coaches will be placed on the principal streets of Toronto for public use before many months. These twenty coaches will come from Athens. Pennsylvania, but the large additions to the number, which the company intend ultimately making, will be manufactured in Toronto.

The new coach line will run to all parts of the city. They will run on Jarvis street, through the Park and in various other localities. The fare will be 5 cents a trip, with the customary reduction for $1 worth of tickets.

The True Philosophy of Medication is not to dose for symptoms, but to root out disease. Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, the Great Blood Purifier, has proved itself equal to this task. It is a most searching without being a violent remedy for Constipation, Billioneness and Indigestion. It is as well adapted to the needs and physical temperaments of delicate females as to the more robust sex, and is a fine preventive of disease as well as remedy for it.

THE SHAH OF PERSIA TO LEO XIII. From The Annals of the Propagation of the Patth.
We have learned with joy that your Holiness, taking into consideration the fifty years of happy initiation into the sacerdotal service, is about to celebrate your jubiles.

Regarding the friendly relations which we maintain with the venerable person of your Holinese, and considering the high dignity of the pastor who is recognized everywhere as the Chief of the Catholia religion, we have dethe Chief of the Casholia seligion, we have desired not to let such an occasion pass without offering you our good wishes and felicitations. It is would indeed be inconceivable that under the present agreeable circumstances, when all eyes are turned toward the Vatican, we should remain indifferent on this point, especially when it is remembered that relations of friendship have, from times long gone by, been solidly established between the sovereigns of Persia and the court of Rome, and that our anxious desire is to continue and strengthen to the very utmost the foundations of this understanding.

We have also learned with great satisfaction We have also learned with great satisfaction that, thanks to the wisdom and intervention of your Holmess, the differences arising between the various nations have been amoothed away and a general peace has been everywhere maintained, and we applaud with the confidence which everyone feels in the justice and innate probity enstrined in the venerated person of your Holmess, the triumphant results which you have achieved with regard to all difficulties that have been submitted to your arbitration.

We will hope that with the grace of God your Holmess will yet for many years continue to exercise this disinterested mediation.

Our Criminal Classes.

From The Week.

It was publicly stated at the opening of the Toronto Exhibition that the police had intimated to certain well-known therees that for the term of a fortnight their absence would be considered good company, and that the in re-porters' language "crooks" stood not on the considered good company, and that the—in reporters' language—'crooks' stood not on the order of their going, but went at once. The circumstance necessarily draws public attention to the fact that Toronto, and, in fact, all Canada, has made such advances in civilization as to be afflicted with a professional criminal class, people who make a living by stealing and otherwise acquiring by unlawful means the goods of their neighbors. It also shows that the city police is well acquainted with the law breakers, and at any moment can lay hands upon them. The question irresistibly suggests itself—if the police can clear the city of crooks for a fortnight, why do they not exclude them permanently? On the surface there seems to be no reason for precautions for the safety of Exhibition visitors which does not apply to the citizens, not perhaps so innocently unsuspicious, but having vastly more property and lives as valuable to be protected. There is said to be a legal difficulty in the way. A man known to the police can be snapped up on a charge of vagrancy and kept in juil for a short period, but if no other charge can be proved against him he must perforce be released. This would have been the result if the thieves in squestion had not yielded to the hints of the police and left the city.

The lesson which our legislators, judges, and magistrates have to learn is, that habitual criminals cannot be cured by short terms of imprisonment if they are afterwards permitted to venture to their old haunts, and that some other remedy must be tried. A first offence may be dealt with leniently, but a second ought to be regarded as a proof that the culprit is a permanent enemy of the community, and that steps must be taken to deprive him of the power of doing further mischief. Sending him off to a new territory seems to offer the best propect of as once relieving the nation of the propect of as once relieving the nation of the propect of as once relieving the nation of the propect of as once relieving the nation of the propect of as
