-The principle of manual training i making sure though somewhat slow progress in our schools. It is now ceded by our foremost educators that cessary if the rising generation of Nova Scotia is to hold its own in the Industrial world. The general introtraining of our children must develop in them habits of accuracy in all their work, and form a basis broad and deep on which to build a higher course of technological training, should such a course be adopted. Its value as a factor in general education is high, developing, as it does, the application of knowledge gained, through the medium of the hands and brains. The work in Nova Scotia is in charge of an accomplished and able promoter in training of our children must develop an accomplished and able promoter in of our citizens.

-We append herewith a commun ication from a Boston fruit exporter dealing with the much mooted question of improved packages in which to transport and market apples.

From the evidence of English con mission merchants and of Canadian and American shippers, as well as that of independent observers there doubt that a change such as our correspondent suggests would mean a very decided advantage enter the competition. to our apple growers. The fact has already been fully discussed at different agricultural meetings, but as yet there from Ottawa. 'Capt. Allen intends this to our apple growers. The fact has alhas been no general movement on the part of the farmers to introduce the new packago. were to produce the required box and place it on the market it would go a long way toward bringing them into use.

To the Iditor:

All my foreign correspondents agree that the epple crop of Europe is a failure this year, and that there will be an incunces demand for American apples in consequence. With the great improvement in the steamship service between Boston and England, whereby the passage is now made in seven or eight days, and their perfect ventile teams have had sharp practice of late and should the weather conditions to market in Europe a great many of the teams are many of the teams the first would be an invested and sharp tractice of late and should the weather conditions to market in Europe a great many of the teams are many of the teams and should the weather conditions to market in Europe a great many of the teams are many of the teams after the control of the cooper shop at Beeler & Peter's factory last the cooper shop at Beeler & Peter's factory last Thursday afternoon, and for a time threatened the destruction of the whole plant. I have had growers experiment with it extensively, so that now it is admitted that it is quite sefe to ship any of the rel varieties of fall apples, and where the fruit is well selected I have been enabled, through my agents in Europe, to net growers as much per left. The wand en Monday almost reached the velocity of a gale and gave the trees a bad shaking. Owing largely to the sound and vigorous condition of the apples comparatively few of them felf. The rafters had just been erocted on the house being built for Mr. H. H. Wade and many of them were blown off and broken.

—It is understood that the Govern-have been enabled, through my agents in Europe, to net growers as much per box as that of a barrel, and for varieties that heretofore have been too delicate to stand the voyage in barrels.

This box is somewhat similar to the orange case. It can be made of any kind of wood. The ends and middle piece of the box should be made of a mich wood, to be 12½ inches long and wide. The pieces forming the sides, top and bottom should be made of a inch wood, and to consist of two or three pieces for each side, top and bottom, and in nailing the box together these pieces should be left a inch apart, for ventilation.
