

very feeling way—how thankful he is to Christian ladies for thinking of such poor creatures as himself and his band. He hoped the day was not far away that they would hear that they gave up their heathen ways. He has had his last heathen dance this spring. This is the first time we have heard him express himself in this manner. Certainly they cannot but appreciate the kindness of the ladies to them in their destitute state. The Sunday school papers are very acceptable, also a few mother's catechisms for the young ones. I shall close for the present, wishing you and the rest of the kind Christian ladies much success in your labours of love.

ARMADALE MISSION, July 24, 1889.

MISS C. B. MACKAY.—Your kind letter reached us safely last week. We are pleased to know our goods will reach us earlier this fall. Everything was so suitable last year that we cannot expect to have the like this year. If the ladies can send us a piece of print for the school girls' summer dresses or some dark material for that purpose, I would be so pleased. I would allow each one to make her own; they would be so delighted to have the privilege.

[The Board would draw the attention of all societies interested in supplying clothing, etc., for our Indian schools, to the following letter kindly furnished by Miss Kerr, Galt. Although the supplies for this year are almost completed, the details furnished will be helpful for future guidance. Presbyterian officers will read it with special interest.]

BIRTLE, N.W.T., July 30, 1889.

MISS McLAREN.—Your letter of July 8th and card of the 13th are both before me; the first was awaiting me on my return, the card came a few days after. I fully intended visiting you when I was in your neighbourhood in Ontario, but my stay was so short it was impossible. Any information I may have given
