

"father don't like 'em." "Oh, well, I'll give you the money to go, Johnny," said the man. "Father don't approve of them," answered Johnny. "Well go for once and I'll pay for you." "No, sir," said Johnny, "My father would give me money if he thought it were best; besides I got twenty-five cents in my strong box, enough to go." "I'd go, Johnny, for once. It is wonderful the way the horses do," said the man; "your father needn't know it." "I shant," said the boy. "Now why?" asked the man. "Cause," said Johnny, twirling his bare toes in the sand, "after I'd been I could not look my father right in the eye, and I can now."

VI. HOW TO TEACH THE LESSON STORY: Tell it here as another illustration of the approach to the lesson.

VII. HOW TO TEACH THE APPLICATION; David honoured his father. When he was a boy he obeyed him. His father sent him to tend the sheep, and he went. He sent him to the battle-field for something to his brothers; he obeyed, and because he honoured his father, God honoured him by giving him victories over the lion, and the bear, and the Philistine giant. Absalom dishonoured his father and his days upon earth were short; but God has promised that if we honour father and mother our days will be long upon the land which the Lord our God giveth us. Seek, therefore, to do our Father's will. The will of our father on earth, and also the will of our Father in heaven.
