Missionary Boxes and suitable Reward Books upon Missionary subjects have just arrived from the Mission-House, London. Superintendents of Circuits and Missions, desiring any of these for special or ordinary purposes may be supplied from the Mission-Rooms.

REQUEST TO MISSIONARIES.

While it is expected by the Conference that every Minister, having a Mission in charge, will furnish annually a full, official Report of his work at the May District Meeting, it is very desirable that more frequent correspondence should take place with the Mission Rooms. All particulars need not be embraced in it; but remarkable success in old fields, the occupancy of new ground, the formation of congregations, classes, and schools, the erection of churches, school houses, and parsonages, the organization of Branch Missionary, or Tract Societies, Dedicatory and Anniversary occasions, Special efforts in spiritual or temporal things, striking incidents, and above all the conversion of precious souls—these are facts which cannot be too soon recorded; and if chronicled with brevery, and for the glory of God, should, if practicable, be published. We need facts, not comments. The publication of Wesleyan Missionary Notices in Canada presents an opportunity for gathering up, and rendering useful all such matter. The issue for the present is quarterly. In this way “the knowledge of the Lord” is intended to be diffused, and the means necessary for the accomplishment of the holy object for which our respected Brethren only live, be more fully attained and applied.

The thanks of the Committee are presented to John McNabb, Esq., Toronto, County Attorney, for two “Maps of Road connecting the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans,” for Messrs. G. Young and G. McDougall.
