

The Record-Breaker

THE Standard cream separator has justly been named "The Record-Breaker" by creameries and dairymen. It has certainly made some remarkable skimming records at Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, at Dominion of Canada Experimental Farms, Ottawa, at Warton Creamery, at Stratford Creamery and others. The report of the records made by the Standard

at the Easton Dairy School at Kingston, and at the Kerwood Cheese and Butter Factory, were published a short time ago. They proved, conclusively that the Standard cream separator was unequalled for close-skimming. They go to show that right here in Canada is made the "World's Greatest Separator"—a fact, we believe, all Canadian dairymen will be proud of. If you are not familiar with the skimming records established by the Standard cream separator, write us. We will gladly send you particulars. But the best record of all, will be the record the Standard will make for you in everyday use in your dairy. It will do the same for you as it has done at Experimental Farms. All Standard Separators, of the same capacity, are identically alike. One Standard is as good as another, no matter who owns it.

Agencies Everywhere in Canada.

The Sframotor Co. is the only Canadian firm in its line having an American branch, manufacturing in the United States, where they have been established for twelve years.

A Brass Sframotor costs little more than an iron machine.

With 16 years' experience in making Sframotors exclusively it would be a wonder if we did not make them better, as well as cheaper, than any other manufacturers who make sprayers as a side line. Our business life depends upon the success of the Sframotor. Our eggs are all in one basket, and you may be sure we watch that basket.

Having specialized on Sframotors and having a larger trade than all others combined, we make them better and cheaper than others.

They are built to endure. There are some Canadians who prefer American machines and buy them, while the Sframotor is being bought by the best people in the United States.
