

The Rev Mr Bayley was formerly an Episcopalian minister. He was received into the Catholic Church some four or five years ago. We understand that when his Protestant friends discovered his tendencies, they told him that he could not learn what 'Popery' was, from books, or in his country at all—that he should go to Rome, and there he would soon see enough to 'cure' his 'Popish' leanings. Mr Bayley took the hint, went to Rome, and returned a fervent Catholic, although he was disinherited for the act.

It is, perhaps, a little remarkable that on the occasion above mentioned there were no less than three persons present, including the Rev preacher, who were formerly clergymen of the Protestant Episcopal denomination.—P. C. Hld.
