

MUNICIPAL Cemeteries, 87.

NAVIGATION of the River St. Lawrence, 204.

OFFICIALITY of the Bishops of Quebec, 10.

POWERS of Courts to pronounce upon the Constitutionality of Federal and Provincial Statutes. Case of Robert Dickson, 170.—Opinion of Judge Monk, 171.—Opinion of Judge Badgley, 171.—B. N. A. Act of 1867, 172.—The case of R. v. Rose, 174.—The law in Great Britain, 174.—The law in the U. S., 174.—Remarks of Alexander Hamilton, 175.—Case of Marbury and Madison, 175.—Remarks of Dr. Von Holendorff, 178.—Case of the Queen and Chandler, 180.—Case of Ex parte Pepin, 182.—Case of Delisle v. L'Union St. Jacques de Montreal, 182.—Remarks of Mr. Justice Ramsay, in Pope and Griffith, 183.—The duty of the Courts, 184.

POWERS of Provincial Legislatures under the British Act, 49.—Powers granted to Federal Parliament, 50.—Constitutional question with regard to Municipalities, 51.—Criminal law and Procedure under the jurisdiction of the Dominion Parliament, 53.—Definition of Crime, 54.—Case of Hearne and Garton, 54.—Case of Attorney General and Radloff, 55.—Case of Bancroft and Mitchell, 56.—Case of Graves in re Prince, 57.—Remarks of T. A. Saunders, 58.—Remarks of J. F. Stephen, 58.—Remarks of Le Sellyers, 59.—Provincial Legislature can only punish by fine, 61.—Provincial Act 34 Vic. so far as regards procedure in Criminal matters null and void, 63.—Powers of Colonial Parliaments, 334.

PRIVILEGES of General Assembly, 132.

PRIVY COUNCIL. Article of the London Times, 465.—Constitution and practice, 465.—Letter from London, 467.—The simplicity of the Court, 468.

PROMESSES DE MARIAGE. The jurisprudence of England and America, 358. and also of Lower Canada, 358.—The law of the Code, 359. The old law of France, 359.—The Roman jurisprudence, 360.—Remarks of Judge Slidell, 360.—The Prussian Code, 361.—The Swiss Code, 361.—The Code Napoleon, 362.—Remarks of Pezzani, 363.—Remarks of Toullier, 384.—Authorities cited, 365.—Remarks of Parsons, 366.—Judge Mondelet's decision, 372.—Decision of Judge Badgley, 377.—Case of Mathieu v. Laflamme, 379.—The law as regards seduction, 380.

PUBLIC lands, 44, 45, 46.

QUEEN'S prerogative as to Corporations, 342.

QUESTION DES REGISTRES. Contestations both civil and religious, 430.—The right of erecting parishes, 430.—Authentication of the registers, 430.—Questions of M. Trudé to the Provincial Legislature, 430.—Decision of Judge Mackay, 431.—What is a Roman Catholic parish, 432.—Action of the Bishop, 433. Authorities cited, 434.—Municipal parishes, 439.—Objections, 441.—The appeal to Rome, 443.—Petition of Rev. A. Mercier, and decision of Judge Mackay, 444.—What is a succursale Church, 446.