

SPONSORED

Refers to a class of bona fide research and experimental studies and application demonstrations conducted in furtherance of the objectives of the Project and approved by the Parties individually or jointly. They generally result from either agreements between government agencies or a proposal submission and peer review process such as would normally be expected to lead to the acceptance or rejection of funding of the proposal.

THIRD PARTIES

Any person, organization, or agency who is neither a part of nor sponsored by, according to the provisions of Article 11.5, the executive branch of the countries represented by the Parties.

VALUE-ADDED PRODUCTS

Products resulting from the interpretation of SAR data, and/or the addition of data or information from other sources.