SUGGESTED AGENDA FOR THE MEETING OF FIRST MINISTERS
ON THE CONSTITUTION
OTTAWA, JUNE 9, 1980

1. Review of developments since the Constitutional Conference of February, 1979.
2. Principles for a new Canadian Constitution.
3. The process for achieving a new constitution including:
 - (a) the subjects to be given priority consideration;
 - (b) the arrangements for federal-provincial meetings and other work over the coming months.

A STATEMENT OF PRINCIPLES FOR A NEW CONSTITUTION

We, the people of Canada, proudly proclaim that we are and shall always be, with the help of God, a free and self-governing people.

Born of a meeting of the English and French presence on North American soil which had long been the home of our native peoples, and enriched by the contribution of millions of people from the four corners of the earth, we have chosen to create a life together which transcends the differences of blood relationships, language and religion, and willingly accept the experience of sharing our wealth and cultures, while respecting our diversity.

We have chosen to live together in one sovereign country, a true federation, conceived as a constitutional monarchy and founded on democratic principles.

Faithful to our history, and united by a common desire to give new life and strength to our federation, we are resolved to create together a new constitution which:

shall be conceived and adopted in Canada,
shall reaffirm the official status of the French and English languages in Canada, and the diversity of cultures within Canadian society, shall enshrine our fundamental freedoms, our basic civil, human and language rights, including the right to be educated in one's language, French or English, where numbers warrant, and the rights of our native peoples, and shall define the authority of Parliament and of the legislative assemblies of our several provinces.

We further declare that our Parliament and provincial legislatures, our various governments and their agencies shall have no other purpose than to strive for the happiness and fulfillment of each and all of us.

PRIORITIES FOR NEW CANADIAN CONSTITUTION PROPOSED BY THE GOVERNMENT OF CANADA ON JUNE 9, 1980

The time has come for the Government of Canada and the governments of the provinces to join together in the task of drafting a new Canadian Constitution.

As it enters upon that task, the Government of Canada is dedicated to a full review of all constitutional measures now applying to our federation.

The whole task constitutes a great enterprise and will take time to achieve. Not all of it can be accomplished at once, nor can we wait until all of it is done to demonstrate to the people of Canada that tangible progress is being made.

The Government of Canada believes, therefore, that intensive work should now begin on a list of items of particular priority to the people of Canada and to governments, with the understanding that some or all of these could well become the subject of early adoption as parts of the new Canadian Constitution.

The list of proposed items is this:

A statement of principles
A charter of rights, including language rights
A dedication to Sharing and/or to Equalization: the reduction of regional disparities
The patriation of the constitution
Resource ownership and interprovincial trade
Offshore resources
Fisheries
Powers affecting the economy
Communications, including broadcasting
Family law
A new Upper House, involving the provinces
The Supreme Court, for the people and for governments

The government also proposes that the leadership of the native peoples continue to be involved in the discussion of constitutional changes which directly affect the native peoples, in the context of the joint work on the item "Canada's Native Peoples and the Constitution". In addition, governments would pay special heed to representations from them on the items in the package set out above.

CALENDAR FOR FUTURE MEETINGS OF FIRST MINISTERS AND MINISTERS ON THE CONSTITUTION PROPOSED BY THE GOVERNMENT OF CANADA

- (a) June 17: An organizational meeting of ministers would be held in Ottawa or at some other convenient location. At that time a schedule for consideration of particular items during the summer months would be worked out and agreed upon.
