

- force, i. 104, 105; falls back to the Great Meadows, i. 105; attacked by Jmonville (brother), i. 105; capitulates with the French, i. 105; annoyed by the conduct of the French, i. 106; his opinion of Braddock, i. 111; in Braddock's expedition, i. 112, 116; in the attack, i. 118; on the conduct of the Virginians and the regulars, i. 118, 119; on the wilderness of the Mississippi Valley, i. 162; i. 170.
- Wasson, Chief, in command of the Ojibwas at Detroit, i. 282; causes the death of Campbell, i. 309, 310; attends Bradstreet's council at Detroit, ii. 195; his speech, ii. 195, 196.
- Watersnake, the, in the Illinois country, ii. 264.
- Watson, on the efforts of the Pennsylvania borderers to secure protection from the Assembly, ii. 147.
- Wawatam, the Ojibwa chief, forms a friendship for Henry, i. 347; his dream, i. 348; tries to warn Henry of the coming attack, i. 348, 349; his speech in behalf of Henry, i. 369, 370; buys Henry's release from the Indians, i. 370; i. 371, 374, 375.
- Wayne, Fort, i. 163.
- Webb, General, disgraceful retreat of, i. 152.
- Weequetank, the Moravian settlement of, ii. 142; expedition of the Pennsylvania borderers against, ii. 142; their plan defeated, ii. 142; removes to Nazareth, ii. 142.
- Weendigoes, i. 41.
- Weiser, Conrad, ii. 403.
- Welsh, the, in Pennsylvania, ii. 91.
- Welsh, John, the English trader, captured by the Canadians, i. 290; murdered by the Ottawas, i. 290.
- Wenniway, spares Henry's life, i. 360, 361, 362, 368.
- Western posts, the, mostly transferred to the English, i. 163.
- Western tribes, the, rise against the English after Braddock's defeat, i. 148; urged by the Canadian Indians to bury the hatchet, ii. 81; form the ambushade of the Devil's Hole, ii. 87; treatment accorded to prisoners by, ii. 252; Pontiac among, ii. 276; attend Johnson's council with Pontiac at Detroit, ii. 323; ii. 333, 341; the condition and temper of, ii. 409-411.
- Western Virginia, the settlers of, ii. 88.
- West Indies, the, i. 203; ii. 33, 61.
- Westminster Abbey, i. 130.
- Wharton, Captain Joseph, ii. 387.
- White Cat, the, a Miami chief, prepares to torture Morris, ii. 205.
- White Hills, the, i. 33.
- Whittlesey, ii. 213.
- Wildcat, the, in the Illinois country, ii. 263.
- Wilkins, Major, i. 251; his letters to Amherst, i. 271; in command at Fort Niagara, i. 277; his report on Cuyler's defeat, i. 277; marches to the Devil's Hole, ii. 85; advances to the relief of Detroit, ii. 87, 115; assailed by the Indians at Niagara, ii. 87; driven back to Fort Schlosser, ii. 87; reaches Lake Erie, ii. 87; forced back to Niagara, ii. 87;