

ment, almost precisely at the hour of six, on the morning of Tuesday, 12th June, 1900.

During the days immediately succeeding, as everything that devotion could prompt was done for the patient sufferer while living, so everything that love could devise was done to pay tribute of loving respect to his memory when deceased.

On Friday afternoon, 15th June, a brief service was held at Mr. Hine's late home, 78 Hazelton Avenue, Toronto.

The exercises commenced with a brief prayer, after which, with the assistance of the organist, leader and several members of the church choir, the following beautiful and appropriate hymn by Margaret MacKay was softly and sweetly sung.

Asleep in Jesus ! blessed sleep
From which none ever wake to weep,
A calm and undisturbed repose,
Unbroken by the last of foes, etc., etc.

There were then read suitable Scripture selections, followed by a short address by the pastor, bearing testimony to the sterling Christian character of the departed, to his consistent walk, his devoted life and peaceful death. A tender and special appeal was also made to any present who could not claim an interest in Christ as their personal Saviour, to seek it instantly, before the final call came and the soul's destiny be forever fixed. In giving point to this appeal the pastor said solemnly, "If those lips now hermetically sealed could once again break the long silence imposed, what, think you, would be the message they would deliver to us, the living? Would it not be this?—" Be ye also ready, for in such an
