Resolutions of Regret Passed to the Retiring Chairman and Trustees -Mr. Greenlees' Valedictory -The Business of the Meeting.

The -ard of education of 1897 held its final meeting last night, and the proceedings were characterized by general good-nature and pleasantness. The features were the valedictories of the retiring members, Chairman Andrew Greenlees, Trustees John Stephenson and George Burdick. Mr. Charles

On the completion of routine business Trustee Macpherson was moved to the chair, when Dr. Teasdall rose, and said it was with feelings of mingled sorrow and regret that he moved the following: "That this board desire to place on record their appreciation of the very able manner in which the retiring chairman, Mr. A. Greenlees, has presided over the deliberations of the board for the year 1897-48, and wish to express their regret that he has seen fit to retire from the membership of the board to the list. of trustees, and hope that in his new sphere of influence he may be a benefit not only to the city, but also to the board of education."

Mr. James Logan seconded, and in doing so referred to the promotion which Mr. Greenlees had received, and hoped he would do his duty in the council as well as he had on the board. Mr. Greenlees, in replying, thanked the members for their kindly expressions, and referred to his four years on the board as happy ones, in which he had made many friends and spent a pleasant time. Regarding his promo-tion, Mr. Greenlees said that to be elected an alderman and be placed on No. 2 committee was a "promotion backwards." "With reference to doing my duty," said he, "I may say that my chief duty seems to be muddling around sewers and drains, etc. i have had no training for that class of work, and know nothing about it, and would much have preferred to remain at the class of service to which my attention has been devoted for the past four years." He did not know what success he was going to meet with during the year, but promised his efforts would be for the best interests of the city, as they had been in the past. (Applause.) Trustee Martyn moved a resolution expressing the board's appreciation of the other retiring members, and Dr. sav. English seconded, with a few appropri-

The standing of the Collegiate Institute then was not so high as now, and for that reason people then sent their children to St. Thomas and other places. He was pleased to say he had taken an active part in placing the present principal, Mr. Merchant, in the institute. The new board knew the duties devolving upon them, and he hoped that the same efforts to advance the standard of the schools, and protect and foster the interest of education would characterize the new board as they had the dying one. (Applause.) Trustee George Burdick, in expressing his thanks, referred to No. 2 committee as a most economical body, who had handled the finances with great care, so much so that a surplus of $2,000 remained. Trustee Macpherson, before leaving the chair, said he concurred heartily in all that had been said of the retiring members. The appointment of a chairman, though largely a political question, left no ill-feeling, if the man chosen made himself agreeable and affable. This Mr. Greenlees had done with great success. Mr. Greenlees, in delivering his valedictory, drew attention to a few facts connected with the board, and to some matters which would come before the trustees this year. The greatest economy had been practiced, as $700 remained to be carried over from the Collegiate Institute funds, and in addition to this $1,200 was due from the county, and would be applied to the Collegiate Institute purposes for 1898. As an evidence that the board had kept within the limited expenditure on public schools account, $1,700 surplus remained—all the more creditable, as the board began the year with an overdrawn account of $400. By request of the council, the estimates had been reduced by over $1,000. Many children now enjoyed the advantages of a kindergarten education at King street school. A new school had been erected on Waterloo street south, and would soon be ready for occupation. From time to time the Collegiate Institute inspector had urged upon the board the necessity of better accommodation at the high school, and additions to the teaching staff. The staff, in consequence, had been increased, and the architect had been instructed to provide plans for a new four-room school on the institute grounds. They have also considered the proposal of an estimate of the cost of placing the upper story of the Collegiate Institute in condition suitable for the reception of new classes already formed, and which are now receiving their lectures in the basement of the building. These matters would be left to the new board. The question of better school accommodation in No. 2 ward would also be

were continued, there could be no just cause for complaint. He again thank-ed the members for their kindness, and took his seat. THE BUSINESS

The report of No. 2 committee was dopted. During the year the committee held 23 meetings, attended as follows: G. Burdick, 23: C. J. McCormick, 21; R. A. Bayly, 14; Thos. Evans. Final Meeting of the Board of 23; W. T. Strong, 14; A. Greenlees, 16; Thomas Gillean, 11; A. Wilkins, 19; E. R. Martyn, 8; Dr. Campbell, 20. Dr. Teasdall's report of No. 1 showed the record of the past twelve months as follows: Total number of meetings, 18, of which Dr. Teasdall attended 17; Dr. Wilson, 8; O. J. Bridle, 12; C. D. Johnston, 11; Dr. English, 14; John Macpherson, 11; J. M. Logan, 15; John Stephenson, 12; T. J. Murphy, 11; A. Greenless, 10

Greenless, 10.
Dr. English moved to place Miss Jessie Nichol and Miss Minnie Cripps on the staff of substitute teachers. Inspector Carson said there were 26 substitute teachers on the staff now. Several trustees had lady friends whom they wished placed on the list, and the propositions came so thick and fast that Secretary McElheran took this opportunity to warn the trustees of the superfluity now. They could not all secure employment, and many of them, because they were not appointed, had said unbecoming things about

Dr. Teasdall wanted to know if a few more teachers could not be found in Johnston also retires, but he was not the city to be placed on the list.

Mr. Thomas Gillean thought that if the inspector could only secure a few more there would be no more applications, as teachers would know there was nothing in it.
Trustee Macpherson said that if the trustees had no more relatives to ap-point it would be just as well to proceed to business.

The motion of Dr. English carried, and besides these two Miss Trudell, Miss Penny, Miss Pannock, Miss Jef-fery, Miss Fisher, Miss Edith Whittaker, Miss Williams, Miss D. Porteous and Miss C. J. Thompson were added

The members present were Trustees Greenless (chairman), Dr. Campbell, Dr. English, Dr. Teasdall, Geo. Burdick, W. Martyn, Thos. Gillean, John Mac-pherson, John Stephenson, W. Wilkins, Charles McCormick and T. Evans.

Connection Between Halifax

Montreal, Feb. 2.—The Canadian Pacific Railway announce that their direct cable connection between Halischools and taught more children at fax and Jamaica is now open for business. The rate from Montreal to Jamaica is 48 cents per word. The old matter what it was, whether merchan- rate between these points, which has been in existence for some years, was $1 19 per word. Heretofore telegrams between England and the West India Islands were sent from the landing of Atlantic cable in Nova Scotia, through Canada to New York, thence to Florida over the Western Union lines, and from there over the International Ocean Cable Company's lines to Cuba, along the shores of Cuba, via the Cuba Sub-Company to Jamaica, entailing endless delay. Press and market reports furnished the West India Islands were also transmitted through the same sources. Hereafter press and market news will be sent through Canada. This with the cheaper rate is expected to largely influence trade between these countries.

Ex-President Cleveland Victimized by a Joker.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Feb. 2.—Dr. Murray Lohenthal, a young, unmarried and decorous physician, of No. 623 Carroll street, Brooklyn, found a very aristocratic-looking letter in his mail recentcratic-looking letter in his mail recently. The letter ran: "Princeton, Jan. 17, 1898. Mr. Murray Lohenthal, No. 623 Carroll street, Brooklyn: Dear Sir,—I cheerfully accede to your request and acknowledge the compliment paid to my wife and daughter by bestowing their names upon your twin daughters, and I hope these children may be spar-ed to be of constant comfort and joy to their parents. Sincerely yours, Grover Cleveland." "Dr. Lohenthal's brain reeled. Being a bachelor and having no acquaintance with the ex-president, he couldn't understand it at all," says the Citizen. The mystery was solved yesterday, when a friend of his on the Park Slope, a mighty Democratic politician, met him. The politician had made a bet with a cynical friend that any American statesman would personally reply to a courteous letter from the humblest of his countrymen. The cynic took him up and named Grover Cleveland. The terms of the bet were that the answer to a letter mailed on Jan. 3, the night of the bet, must be received before Jan. 25.

Signing the doctor's name, the politician wrote of how his marriage had been blessed by twin daughters. Would the wily politician won his bet.
