Note and Comment

While extraordinary attention has been directed to the Canadian turf recently the local owners have kept cool under the circumstances, and have actually made fewer nominations for the four On tario Jockey Club stakes that close or March 1, entries for which are given herewith. The King's Plate shows a alling off, 34 to 37, while the Stanley Produce Stakes has a gain of seven, and the Maple Leaf Stakes one. There are nine less in the Breeders' than one yea

In the O. J. C.'s feature race of the geting, and the richest of the year, Mr. seagram seems to have a strong hand. if numbers count for anything the race is all over but the cheering. At all events, if there were a winter book made on the event, the Waterloo stable would to-day likely figure favorite at even money or

But there may be a hot one or two moder cover among the other 27, that the uniet speculation the next few days, or the early trials a little later, will be sure

The list of King's Plate entries, however is a good one, and surely better in quality, if fewer in numbers, than last spring, and thus the first appearance of the names of some Woodbine performers indicates that the devotees of the sport of kings will enjoy the best of racing, May 22 to June 5.

With Toronto training in Chatham, Pat Powers evidently thought it warm enough to open the season up here, and the Maple Leafs may enjoy the unique experience this season of playing their first championship games at home.

with the aid of his own press agent. Hugh McIntosh, the Australian impressario, has left England for New York to talk fight with the retired champion. He thinks Jeff and Jack Johnson the best possible attraction for his club at Rush-

A little bird interrupted Jimmy Murphy of the Torontos yesterday in his heart-to-heart talk with Art Warwick and Braden his two stellar lacrosse players. The lacrosse manager's greeting to the flyer was more of a command than anything else, altho it fluttered around there long enough to learn that Art Warwick is just recovering from a broken collar-bone, the enough to learn that Art warwick is just recovering from a broken collar-bone, the result of a bad fall, while the retreat to the door was met by the advance guard of Hibernians on their way to conflab with the man who made megaphones famous, as to the best way of celebrating the Seventeenth of March should St. Michaels win the senior O.H.A. championship.

Stratford has the habit of having two teams in the finals, two years ago it was senior and junior, both landing the bacon, while last season, altho both were in, they were forced to be content with the junior championship. This year both intermediate and junior are represented and it behooves the juniors once again to uphold the hockey record of the classic city. However, their chances will be better known after to-night's game with the

Ontario Jockey Club Stakes Nominations for Four Events

Mr. Seagram Has Seven Candidates for the Guineas-No Less Than 91 Named for Stanley Produce.

The entries for the King's Plate, to be run on Saturday, May 22, the opening day of the spring meeting of the Ontario Jockey Club, show about the same Canadian owners striving once more for the guineas given annually by His Majesty the King. Mr. Seagram tops them all in numbers, with seven, while John Dyment and the Valley Farm Stable have only two each. The Waterloo turfman thus has a long lead right off the reel and unless something phenomenal turns up among the smaller stables 1909 looks like a repeat year. There are three less altogether than last season. The Stanley Produce Stakes show liberal nominations, including Mrs. Livingston of Brockville, seven more than in 1908, while the Breeders' Stakes and Maple Leaf Stakes are about the same.

Following are the entries for the O.J.C. Stakes that closed March 1:

King's Plate, the oldest fixture run. The King's Plate, the lodest fixture runs and the same this continent for guiness. The state of the continent for guiness. The state of the continent for guiness and the same this continent for guineas and the same than the same th
