THE BY-ELECTIONS

Nothing could be more pleasing to the Liberals than the news which comes from Carleton and Northumberland counties. The nominees of the Liberal convention in each county stand to win with ease. So far as Carleton county is concerned the Conservative cause was regarded as so hopeless that the stronger men of the party declined to make the sacrifice. Therefore Mr. Owens received the nomination, so that the seat would not go by default to the Liberals. The party has no hope of electing Mr. Owens.

In Northumberland county the nomination of Mr. Burchill by the Liberal convention, and the universal expression of satisfaction with his candidature, leave no room for doubt of his triumphant election. An effort is being made by a portion of the Conservative press to claim Mr. Burchill as almost a government candidate, but this is a subterfuge designed to break the force of Mr. Hazen's fall. For Mr. Burchill has accepted the Liberal nomination and as a Liberal contests the county. There is a Conservative candidate, who is partially claimed and partially rejected by the government press, but his candidature is not seriously regarded by the Northumberland electors. Every effort is being made in some quarters to create prejudice against Mr. Burchill, and statements which utterly contradict each other are made in the Conservative press concerning him. This merely proves, that the government party is demoralized and has been thrown into panic by the nomination of Mr. Burchill. The outlook for the Liberals in provincial politics grows brighter every day.

Where, in this exigency, is Mr. Hazen? He has not visited either Carleton or Northumberland county. Apparently he lacks confidence in his own leadership. One would expect the leader of a government to be the most conspicuous figure in a campaign involving two seats in the legislature, especially when the party prospects are so extremely poor, and when there are the first by-elections to test the strength of the two parties. Mr. Hazen cannot well afford to lose these two seats, following so quickly after the disaster of the federal campaign in this province, but he has evidently come to the conclusion that the loss must be sustained.

THE Y. M. C. A.

The formal proceedings in connection with the opening of the new Y. M. C. A. building will conclude today. It will then remain for those in charge of the institution to make it of the greatest possible benefit to the boys and young men of the city. There will be ample opportunity for those who believe that every man is in some sense his brother's keeper to make this institution a medium through which helpful and ennobling influences may be brought to bear upon many who are even now at the parting of the ways. Addressing the Every Day Club last evening, Rev. Dr. Raymond, speaking advisedly, declared that there is more drinking among young men of seventeen to twenty-one years in St. John today than at any time in his twenty-five years' experience as a clergyman here. This statement, which no observant citizen is likely to question, should not only startle the citizens but arouse them to action. Dr. Raymond rightly says that great reforms cannot be brought about by mere act of parliament. Hence the value of such institutions as the Y. M. C. A., if conducted in the true spirit of service. If the boys and young men merely go to the new building for what they can get, there may be a degree of self-improvement, and a getting away from temptation; but those who will make the institution a real benefactor will be the members who go to give as well as to get—not to give merely the financial consideration which entitles them to privileges but that personal service which draws others and helps to mould character. If the new Y. M. C. A. does not become a centre from which will radiate influences which will reach down and lift up many who are outside the pale of the institution, then it will fall very far short of its opportunity and duty. It is of little use to erect buildings, and found institutions, and call the citizens together to admire, if under their shadow men and women and boys and girls are still to go unheeded to the depths of infancy and ruin. Therefore the new Y. M. C. A. will be judged by its fruits. There never was a time in this city when earnest work among and for and by young men was more urgently needed. Very many will not go to the Y. M. C. A. if it is to do that which it should do, the Y. M. C. A. must go to them. It is a matter of personal devotion to the service of humanity.

SIGN OF BETTER TIMES

The generally expressed opinion that better times are at hand is confirmed by the fact that the railroads are placing large orders for rolling stock. The following from the Montreal Gazette will be read with interest and satisfaction: "That a decided improvement in railway conditions has occurred within the past few months is shown by the orders that have been given of late by the leading Canadian railways for new equipment. There is no surer index of railway prosperity than orders for new rolling stock. During the recent depression orders were at a minimum, in marked contrast to last year, when all the supply houses were working overtime catching up with work. The pendulum is now swinging back to the prosperity side, as indicated by the recent orders that have been given for new equipment. While it is difficult to secure definite figures of new stock being ordered by the leading Canadian railways, information obtainable at present shows that within a few weeks past orders easily approximating ten million dollars have been placed for rolling stock. Probably the real orders on hand are a good deal more than this, but owing to the wide distribution of orders and the fact that the Canadian Pacific manufactures a large proportion of its own equipment it is very difficult to get exact data as to the new work that has been filed. One thing is certain, and that is that the Grand Trunk Pacific, the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian Northern are all building new equipment, and preparing to place orders for more, both in passenger and freight cars, as well as locomotives. And it is not the habit of those at the head of these great systems to prepare for future business until they can see that it is coming, so that the railway arrangements at present under way give a fair presentment that the men who are watching business conditions as experts are looking for an awakening that will mean extra business for the railroads and everybody else.

A PERTINENT QUESTION

The course pursued by the late provincial government in its encouragement of the development of the Gloucester county iron deposits will bear fruit of great value to the province. It is perfectly clear from the statements made last week by Mr. Drummond, of the Canadian Iron Corporation, that the industry to be developed near Bathurst will prove of great benefit to that part of the province. At the time the late government was lending encouragement to the work of prospecting and development the opponents made light of the matter, and professed to regard it as a political expedient. The result has proved the wisdom of the course pursued by the government. There is iron in Gloucester. It will be developed, and will be made the basis of a great industry. What is the present provincial government doing to encourage the development of the natural resources of the province?

Emperor William takes his medicine with a good grace. The last dose was administered on Saturday, when Chancellor von Buelow handed to him a copy of the speech he was to make at the centennial of the formation of the Berlin city council. The Kaiser read it without comment.

Westmorland county will have a very lively Scott Act campaign. The friends of prohibition will not be disposed at this time to set back the clock, especially since they are asking for a provincial act.

The Shah of Persia has decided not to give the people a constitution. The people may take it, nevertheless. This is not likely to be a very good winter for auto-rats, even in the east.

Andrew Carnegie favors a lower tariff in the United States. It was not always thus with Andrew.

With scarlet fever and an election campaign the people of Northumberland county have more than their share of heat.

You Take No Risk In Buying

Clothing at Harvey's

The writer was selling to the mother of a large family of boys on Saturday who have grown to manhood wearing clothing from this store. He remarked to her: "You have been buying here ever since we first opened." "Yes," said the mother, "and the clothing has always given satisfaction, and our boys say it fits better than clothing sold elsewhere." You'll say so, too, if you try.

LOVE'S OFFERING

If life were a rosebud,
Delighted with dew,
I would pluck it, my darling
And give it to you.

If love were a jewel
That money could buy,
I would give thee a casket
No queen could defy.

But love is not purchased
In whole or in part;
So I've nothing to give thee
But love, and my heart.

Rosebuds may wither,
And jewels are vain,
But on to eternity
Love shall remain.

A CHILD'S TRAGEDY.

Ann came in from the country on her fifth birthday to visit her cousin May. At eight they were put to bed. As an hour passed when heart-breaking sobs were heard from the children's bedroom.

"What is the matter, children?" asked May's mother, entering the dark room. From under the bedclothes Ann sobbed out: "May won't give me any of her peanuts." "May has no peanuts," replied her aunt. "I know that," sobbed Ann, "but she said if she did have peanuts she wouldn't give me any."—The Delinquent.

JAPANESE SAW BASEBALL GAME

Count Okuma Tossed the First Ball Across the Plate at Tokio.

Tokio, Nov. 22.—In the presence of an enthusiastic crowd of more than 8,000 persons, the American baseball team, which came to Japan to play some of the Japanese university teams, opened the season today and defeated Waseda University, 5 to 0. The Waseda team played snappy ball, but did not get a man as far as second base.

Count Okuma, the sage of Waseda University, wearing the cap and coat of the American team, tossed the first ball across the plate. After the game the American players were the guests of Count Okuma at a garden party given by him in their honor.

FATHER AND DAUGHTER

DIED TOGETHER

New York, Nov. 22.—Lying side by side on the floor of the kitchen of their apartment in the Bronx were found today, the bodies of Chas. A. Walters, an elderly veteran of the Civil War and his daughter Emma, a spinster seventy years old. The room was filled with gas. All the coals of the gas stove had been turned on, so that it is certain that either the father or daughter committed suicide and possibly both did.

Mr. Walters, who was a member of Glass post No. 284, of the G. A. R., was 75 years old. He and his daughter lived together many years.

Jones-Prior

Captain Ernest Rae Jones, of the Cheshire Regiment, fifth son of Simon Jones, of this city, was married on Nov. 10 in Lichfield cathedral, England, to Miss Esmé Prior, daughter of the late Major-General Hale Prior, of Berry Hill, Lichfield. The ceremony was conducted by Canon Mortimer, assisted by the Rev. Monque Harvey, the Rev. E. Bradley, and the Rev. H. Langham Muriel. General Upton Prior, uncle of the bride, gave her away, and Captain Stephen, of the Cheshire Regiment, was best man.

The bridesmaids—Miss Smyth, Miss Horne, Miss Violet Matthews, Miss Hunter, Miss Elsie Birch, and Miss Lorna Clinton—were gowned in soft white satin trimmed with silver in Greek key pattern. There were also two train-bearers, wearing soft white satin dresses and mob caps. They carried baskets of lilies of the valley and white carnations. After the reception Captain and Mrs. Rae Jones left for Paris. The bride's going-away gown was of hussar blue cloth.

Bishop Richardson preached in Trinity church yesterday at the morning and evening services to large congregations. His homily took prayer as his subject in the morning and in the evening spoke on the parable of the leaven and the Kingdom of God.

Four of the six clergymen whom the bishop secured while in England at the pan-Anglican conference to labor in vacant parishes have arrived and entered on their duties. Rev. C. T. Matthews is in the parish of Douglas and Bright, Rev. C. W. Blackall at Oak Bay, Rev. P. J. Loseby at Burton and Rev. F. H. Thomas in Welford and Harcourt parish. The remaining two clergymen will arrive in January.

Bishop Richardson will leave on Tuesday for Andover for the induction of Rev. J. R. Hopkins.
