FINANCIAL SITUATION
IS VERY PERPLEXING

Comment of the Montreal Witness on the Conditions Which Puzzle Even the Old Heads in the Game.

(Montreal Witness).
The financial situation today is peculiar and perplexing. The money stringency alone is not the unusual feature, but the combination of unusual factors has made a position of the greatest imaginable difficulty.

Henry Clews, the financial expert, confesses he is puzzled. It is expected that the time of the year that money will rise high owing to the heavy movement of crops from the grain-growing countries, but there appears to have been greater demand on the part of the money market than has been expected.

Every year it is stated that the interior will be able to finance its own crop movement, and more money will be required for the season. The situation in this respect is very peculiar. The money market is very tight, and the price of money is high. The

ROW IN ASSYRIAN COLONY

Aired in Police Court

against him. The court said, however, that it was alleged that Thomas hit the blind Moses.

Mr. Mullin then called Chas. Thomas, who said that on Saturday evening about six o'clock he was coming near the corner of Brunswick and Erin streets, when Salem Moses and George Moses came along and they were drunk and swearing.

Salem said to him: "Why did you put Sullivan in jail?" The witness said it was for debt, whereupon George Moses said: "I'll pay you," and snatched him on the nose. Mrs.
Moses came down with a stick and hit him with it. Then Lewis and the rest of the crowd came around and they hollered "Kill him, kill him." "Job Sharpe tackled me, too," said the witness.

"Where is he?" asked the court.
"There he is out there," said Thomas, pointing to the crowd of spectators. Job Sharpe therefore ordered to take a seat on the bench. The witness said he telephoned for the police and they came. It turned out that Job Sharpe tried to assist Thomas, and he was let outside of the rail.

Michael Shiven was called as a witness, and he said he saw George Moses and Salem Moses in jail, and George Moses said: "We liked Thomas and we'll look him again."

George Moses said he and his blind brother met Charles Thomas at the corner of Brunswick and Erin streets. He said George Sullivan had been up to jail, and had got John Sullivan out of jail, who was placed in there by Charles Thomas.

The latter said: "What the hell did you do that for?" The reply was that they wanted to get Sullivan out. Thomas did not approve of that, and he grabbed the blind Moses and rushed him to the fence and knocked off his glasses. George Moses then hit Thomas twice on the face and the fight started.

Salem Moses also gave evidence as did also Salem Lewis, who said he took the blind man home, but he did not see the fight. Lewis Simon said he was not present at the fight and knew nothing about it. The police arrested him at his home yesterday morning on the charge of the assault on Thomas.

The magistrate asked the witness if they arrested Simon at the instance of Thomas, after he himself had been arrested, and they replied in the affirmative.
Mr. Mullin then said that all the arrests were irregular, as there were no warrants issued, and the fight did not take place in view of the police.

Michael George Sullivan stated that he had paid the money to get John Sullivan out of jail, and that George Moses went with him to the police station. He said he did not see the fight, but he saw the arrest of Sullivan.

The court said that Charles Thomas and George Moses would be the only ones demanded, and if they deposited $20 each for their appearance on Wednesday morning at twelve o'clock, they would be allowed to go. Thomas made his deposit, and Michael George Sullivan put up the money for George Moses.
