Diamonds

The "War" has not lessened the demand for Diamonds—the reason being, no doubt, that of all commodities "The Diamond" is affected less by business panics or depressions than any other.

It is stable. It holds its value, while other classes of merchandise suffer.

It is thus a safe investment at all times. Our prices have not advanced. We can show you some excellent values.

DANCING STOPS AT THE SAVOY

London Authorities Deal a Staggering Blow to Festivities of The Gay—Same Crowd Every Night

London, Oct. 12.—A staggering blow was dealt to the festivities of the gay elements, when the authorities stopped dancing at the Savoy Hotel. It was there that the leaders of society and the most prominent Americans, as well as high military and naval officers on leave and diplomats, met nightly at supper and danced to the gay tunes of the American band.

Here youths who should be on the firing line one-stepped and fox-trotted late into the night, while notables from all parts of the world looked on. The crowd was the same night after night.

All other similar places had been closed soon after the outbreak of the war, the Savoy remaining the only lively spot in London. Complaints led to the decision to stop dancing, which is certain to wipe out the supper crowd.

With the new lighting order in effect, London's streets are pitch dark at six o'clock. There are no lights anywhere in London City.

THE LAND QUESTION

(Chatham World)

The St. John Standard expects much of the classification that Premier Clark promises to make of the Crown Lands. But most of the land has been handed over to lumber and pulp men for a long term at a nominal rental and a survey and valuation will simply serve to show how much the province has lost by the government's land policy. We know that some of the leases that were given for a bonus of $100 a mile have been sold for $1000 a mile, not far from Chatham, and it will not enrich us to learn by a survey that a great real more of the land is equally valuable and could be leased at a big price if we had it to lease.

We may learn what it is worth to the leaseholders, but that knowledge will not increase its value to the province.

We cannot hope for any settlement of the vexed question of land for settlement as the result of that classification. Government agents are sent every year to examine and report on land that is applied for by settlers and every year applicants are denied land that is good for farming and other applicants given land that is good only for timber growing.

We need go only a few miles up river for an illustration. A man has a good farm on the edge of the forest, where he makes a good living and has brought up a family of boys. The boys have applied for grants of land adjoining their father's farm, and the government agent who is sent to examine it, solemnly reports that the land is not fit for settlement purposes. Why? Because he is biased enough to think more of his theories than of the practical farming on the same kind of land? Not at all, but because he has been told that the lease to the government's agent and the is expected to report "against" giving the grants.

What is needed is not the setting apart of isolated tracts for settlement, but a policy that will enable the owner of the soil to extend the boundaries of their native hamlets.

YOUR SICK CHILD IS CONSTIPATED! LOOK AT TONGUE

If cross, feverish or bilious give "California Syrup of Figs."

No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given.

If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that it's little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without gripping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "Fruit Laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a fifty-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

ANOTHER CAUTION AGAINST EXTRAVAGANCE

London, Oct. 12.—The levying of still heavier duties on imports from the United States and other foreign countries is urged by the Post's financial editor, in discussing the problems of war finance. He regards this step as necessary in order to restrict further the use of luxuries and to force economy upon the common people.

On the assumption that the war will last for a long period and that our power over foreign exchange may tend to weaken rather than to become stronger, the Post says, "our whole policy should be in the direction of mobilizing all our available resources for offsetting adverse trade balances and checking all unnecessary imports from abroad. What has been done thus far in the taxation of such imports is quite insignificant. There must be an immediate further cutting of personal expenditures, which plays an important part in affecting the balance of payments to be made."

The Post quotes approvingly the financial expert who declares future war will not be subsidized by the banks but by the people themselves. Unless this is done he predicts the war will be followed by the greatest boom and the greatest collapse the world ever has seen, affecting alike Great Britain, the continent and the United States. It is estimated by this expert that Great Britain must add at least $8,000,000,000 more before March '13.
