FAREWELL TO BACHELOR DAYS
H. B. Tippett, who is to be one of the principals in an interesting event soon, entertained friends last evening in Fairville Hotel and the affair was greatly enjoyed. With many verses of "It's a jolly good fellow" the gathering dispersed wishing Mr. Tippett a long and happy life.

PRIVATE CURRAN IS EXPECTED TOMORROW

One of Youngest Who Went From St. John With First Contingent

PRIVATE GEO. V. CURRAN
The arrival of Pte. George V. Curran, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Curran of Paradise row tomorrow will be attended by a demonstration and reception in his home now being arranged by fellow members of St. Peter's Y. M. C. A. Pte. Curran was about the youngest of the St. John boys to leave here with the first contingent, but proved his pluck in several battles and in many trying situations along the frontier in the early part of the war. He was quite painfully injured and was in hospital for some time in England, finally being registered as unfit to return to action at the front. Pte. Curran left St. John with the Divisional Signalling Corps and was one of the first members of that body to sustain wounds in carrying on the work of the section. He wrote home telling of his wounds but said that the doctors in charge of the hospital held out hopes that he would completely recover, so that he fully expected to go back with his "pal." Later he wrote that his injuries prevented his going back, and the authorities were ordering his return to Canada to convalesce. Many friends will welcome the lad tomorrow upon his arrival. He is expected on the 9.30 p. m. train and the City Cornet Band will turn out.

EDWARD SPEIGHT ON GERMAN FARM

Mother of North End Man Receives Postal From Prisoner of War

Private Edward Speight, who went overseas with the 14th battalion and who is now a prisoner in Giessen, Germany, has sent a post card to his mother, Mrs. Ellen Speight, Main street. He says he was well and having a good time although the weather was cold. Evidently the Germans are making the prisoners pay for their keep for Private Speight says: "I am working on a farm, quite a farm, too, you bet." He sends his regards to his family and friends. Strange to say, the official card on which he writes has its directions and instructions printed in French. Private Speight was a member of the 14th Battalion.

FINED FOR SUPPLYING LIQUOR TO SOLDIER

Winslow Currie arrested a few days ago on a charge of being caught in the act of conveying liquor to a soldier in uniform, was fined $20 or two months in jail by Magistrate Ritchie in the police court this morning. The preliminary hearing against Oscar Johnson, suspected of stealing a gold-filled watch from Charles Anderson of Little River, was commenced. The plaintiff told of missing the watch and learning that the defendant visited his house he subsequently had him arrested. Police man Hogg testified about meeting the two men at the head of Waterloo street, and about arresting the defendant. At the plaintiff's wife will have to give testimony the prisoner was remanded. A Chinese, Jack Han, was fined $2 for sweeping dirt from his shop to the sidewalk. Sergeant Hastings said he was in Coburg street this morning when he noticed Han sweeping dirt and paper to the sidewalk and told him he could not do so. The Chinese, he said, refused to stop and so he reported him.

GREAT CONFERENCE OF JEWS IN CANADA IS HELD IN MONTREAL

B. L. Andur, St. John Representative, Speaks of It

ALL FOR ALLIES' VICTORY

Resolutions of Loyalty to British Sovereignty and For Success of Arms—Claims of Race in Making of Peace Terms

Bernard L. Andur, former rabbi of St. John, has returned from Montreal, where he has been attending the first Canadian Jewish conference, which took place there beginning on Nov. 14, and continuing for several days. It was attended by hundreds of delegates of practically all Jewish organizations in Canada, religious, secular, and benevolent, from the Atlantic to the Pacific and thousands from Montreal and neighboring cities. Many prominent Gentiles also were present. Mr. Andur was the delegate to represent St. John's Jewish community, consisting of two congregations, The Hebrew Sheltering and Immigration Aid Society, The Daughters of Israel, (Benevolent), and The Hebrew Ladies Aid Society. The conference was the most brilliant affair of its nature ever held in the city of Montreal. The Canadian government was represented by Hon. J. McEwen, the solicitor general. He was accorded a magnificent and cordial reception. The city of Montreal also was represented. The following resolutions were passed:

(1) That this conference of representatives of the Jews of Canada desires as its first act to place on record an expression of its devotion to the sovereignty of the British Empire and its unwavering loyalty to the crown.
(2) Resolved that "this conference gives expression to the earnest hope that in the gigantic struggle in which the British Empire and its allies are now engaged the champions of civilization, they will emerge victorious and will thus triumphantly vindicate the great principles of justice, liberty and equality."
(3) Resolved that this conference, recognizing the benefits of the full rights of citizenship enjoyed by our brethren together with all the people under the flag of the British Empire, voices the prayer that the time may not be far distant when our (delegates) in every land wherever they may be shall be accorded those same rights of equality and justice which are the prerogative of all mankind.

Several other resolutions were passed. Reasons for calling the conference were explained by the chairman, Clarence J. DeSola. This world, he said, was at present a people who had suffered carried disaster and ruin to some of the fairest countries of Europe. It had been the wildest of times and the most terrible of the war had taken place and the horrors they had suffered in consequence were indescribable. A time would come when the war would terminate and the belligerents would meet to arrange conditions of peace. They had been assured by the British government that one of the essential conditions of peace would be the safeguarding of the interests of all small states and the guarantee of even the weakest nation against any act of aggression or injustice in the future. Surely then a people who had suffered so much in the past as the Jews should have a special claim to be heard at the peace conference, and provision should be made that Jews should be given the privileges in all lands that other nations were given. "We can ask no more," said the speaker. "We should ask no less."

They were confident that those who would dominate would be the representatives of Britain—(delegates)—and her allies, who were fighting for justice and right, on which the whole fabric of society rested. Britain must win, for her fight was for right, and right was right.
Mr. Andur said that an executive committee of the most prominent Jews in Canada was elected to give effect to the resolutions passed and to be intrusted with all work affecting Canadian Jews and that it have power to organize form committees and appoint more executives when deemed advisable. Mr. Andur was elected on the executive for St. John.

A mass meeting was held on Sunday evening in the Hasen Avenue Synagogue where Mr. Andur gave a full report of the proceedings of the conference. Among the statistics brought before the conference by prominent authorities besides those of the enormous amount of Jews killed and wounded on the battlefield, it was said there were one million and a quarter Jewish refugees being driven, starving, it was said, through snow and rain, and fire and sword. The meeting concluded with a hope for a speedy victory for the allies.

NOBLE WORK DONE
By the sale of chances and the proceeds of a dance and social held on November 13, about $175 was realized for the relief of the Russian Jewish sufferers. This noble work is to the credit of the following young ladies, who spared no efforts to make it a success: Misses Bessie Marcus, Emily Green, Anna Gilbert, Alice Green, Rena Isaacs, Silvia Isaacs and Bessie Gilbert. The money was forwarded to the president of the relief committee in Montreal.

Passers By
are the embryo material from which a storekeeper makes customers. He writes them to stop with his windows. If he is wise he puts goods in his window which are being advertised in the daily newspapers because: People know about them, have confidence in them, have curiosity to see them, and they feel a friendly interest in the store that shows them. The passers by stop and look and their feet naturally turn towards the doorway.
