ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

TATTLE TALE CROW TELLS A SECRET.

"Here, boys," called Mister Ringtail Coon. "I think we should take extra care when we make the new school suits for the Coon boys," said Mister Snap to Nick. "Mister Ringtail Coon has always been one of my best customers and I take great pains to have his suits exactly right." "Well," said Nick to the falsymen, "I measured every inch of them as carefully as ever I could. And I'm sure they ought to look nice." "Mister Ringtail Coon was thinking about the same thing. 'It's just like boys not to want to be dressed up,' he chuckled, 'when they've been accustomed to old clothes and bare feet all summer. But when the little rascals see how nice they are going to look, they will take more pride in keeping their faces and hands clean, and their ears washed and their hair brushed. The only thing that worries me is their appetites. I can't understand why they don't eat more. But, of course, they'll look better a bit thinner. Their suits will fit all the nicer.' If he could have seen them at that minute, he wouldn't have worried a mite about their appetites. For they were in Mister Farmer's sweet-corn patch, stuffing out their sides like Christmas turkeys, so they were. "No thank you, Uncle Ring, we don't want any supper," they said again that evening. "We can't eat anything at all." "What?" cried the coon gentleman. "Not tonight, either? Why, you'll be starved. You'll get as thin as bean-poles." "He was a little bit, I mean a good bit, near-sighted, or he would have noticed they were getting as fat as butter-balls. About three days after that two neat little boxes came from 'Nancy, Nick & Company's' shop. They were all tied with string and looked too nice for anything. "Here, boys!" called Mister Ringtail Coon. "Come and try on your new suits. I'm sure you are going to look very handsome. I'm only sorry you are so thin." "All right, Uncle Ring," they called. "We're coming!" But the coon boys had gotten so fat on the sweet-corn that the coats wouldn't go half way round. And the trousers simply wouldn't button up at all. "Why, they are terrible!" exclaimed Mister Coon. "They don't fit at all. They are much too small!" "I know why," called down Tattle Tale Crow. "I've been watching, and your nephews have been stealing corn and that makes them fat!" "We're sorry, Uncle Ring," said Nick. "We'll try to keep clean and everything." "Which they did, I'm glad to say."

THE OLD HOME TOWN

They soon got that again, and their suits looked just fine. And they always remembered to wash their ears, too. (To be continued.) and spoke of the Maritime Provinces as not getting what they had been promised at Confederation. He charged that American ports were gaining at the expense of Canadian ports through diversion of freights and that great extravagance prevailed in the C. N. R. European office, the Scribner Hotel, Paris, and in the Canadian office in London. He declared the tariff was unjust and was responsible for many Canadian factories having closed and others being on half time. Mr. Hickey declared himself to be in favor of the pulpwood embargo with consideration to the small farmer who depended on his wood. The pulpwood commission he denounced as a fizzle. The stamp and sales taxes he held to be a great burden on the people. Mr. Doucet revived the tariff changes from 1877 up to the present time criticizing the present tariff. He stated that since farm tractors were placed on the free list in 1919 there were now no farm tractors made in Canada and similarly manufacturers of binder twine in Canada had dwindled. He said there was a change of sentiment sweeping over the Maritime Provinces. This was evidenced in the Halifax and Kent by-elections. He contended that in the five months he had been at Ottawa as a member of the Opposition he had done more for Kent county than the Government supporter had accomplished in three years and he intended to keep the Maritime Province viewpoint before the House. Mr. Doucet criticized the cost of administration of the Workmen's Compensation Act.

Helpful Advice to Overworked Women

DAY in and day out, week in and week out the tired, over-worked housewife and mother toils on, sweeping, dusting, cooking, cleaning and mending. Is it any wonder that after a time a weakness, such as Mrs. Chapman had, develops and the wife and mother pays a toll in physical weakness and pain for her efforts of love, the natural result of overwork?

Women who find themselves afflicted with weakness, pain, headache, backache, nervousness, irritability and melancholia will be interested in Mrs. Chapman's letter, and should realize that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is especially adapted to overcome such conditions.

Mrs. Chapman's Letter Reads as Follows:

New Albany, Ind.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a weakness which many women have from over work, and from which I suffered for quite a while. I wasn't fit to do my work and my sister advised me to take this medicine. After the first few days the pains were not so severe as they had been and after taking a few bottles I am not bothered any more. I am doing my housework every day and highly recommend the Vegetable Compound to any woman suffering from female trouble. Only yesterday a friend called me on the phone and knowing what it did for me wanted to know what to ask for at the drug store, so she meant to give it a trial."—Mrs. C. E. CHAPMAN, 1500 Elm Street, New Albany, Indiana.

Another Case of Nervous Breakdown

Maloneville, Montreal.—"I was always feeling tired and heavy, with a weakness of the back and pains in my right side, and I had a nervous breakdown. A friend was taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and she gave me half a bottle to try. It did me so much good that I have been taking it ever since whenever I feel the need. I often go a month or so without taking it, but when I feel the least headache, or any other bad feeling, I just make for that bottle. I recommend it for any female trouble, and very few of my friends are without it in their homes."—Mrs. J. CARTMILL, 301 Third Avenue, Maloneville, Quebec.

SAY MONTREAL IS NEST OF CRIME

Insurance Manager Declares It is Worst Centre in Canada.

Montreal, Sept. 16—Montreal is the worst crime centre in Canada. This is the indictment handed down today by Herbert R. Dupuis, manager of the casualty department of the Royal Insurance Company, Limited, in announcing an imminent further increase in the already high cost of burglary insurance in the province of Quebec.

The situation is so serious, from the viewpoint of insurance companies, according to Mr. Dupuis, that few companies now remain willing to assume any liability whatever.

"Notwithstanding the fact that burglary insurance rates in Montreal have been increased for the last three years and are now 25 per cent in excess of those charged in Toronto, the companies writing this class of insurance have sustained heavy losses that a further increase in rates is now contemplated in an endeavor to meet the situation," said Mr. Dupuis.

"So great have been the losses over this period that a large number of companies have discontinued entirely the writing of this class of business in this province and very few of the remaining companies are willing to assume the burglary hazard even on private residences."

"Montreal seems to be an attractive spot for 'thugs,'" continued Mr. Dupuis, "possibly because in most cases their jobs are carried out with a degree of success which perhaps could not be duplicated elsewhere. They also have a facility of disposing of their loot which is next to mysterious as insurance companies are very seldom successful in recovering any stolen property."

"It might be of interest to know that Montreal, based on insurance companies records, has the worst crime sheet in the Dominion of Canada, higher to its credit (?) more murders, burglaries and automobile thefts than any other city."

SURPRISE PARTY

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Morrison met at their home, Prospect Point, on Friday evening to tender a surprise party to their daughter, Miss Gladys Morrison, who is in the Western Union office at Sussex and is spending her vacation with her parents. The evening was very pleasantly spent with games and dancing and duty refreshments were served. Miss Morrison is being warmly greeted and was a week-end guest with friends at Quipamsis.

Rheumatism

A Remarkable Home Treatment Given By One Who Had It. In the year of 1892 I was attacked by Muscular and Sub-acute Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who are thus afflicted know, for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, but such relief as I obtained was only temporary. Finally, I found a treatment that cured me completely, and such a pitiful condition has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted, even bedridden, some of them dancing and eighty years old, and the results were the same as in my own case.

I want every sufferer from any form of Rheumatism, whether it be (swelling at the joints) rheumatism, to try the great value of my improved "Home Treatment" for its remarkable healing power. Don't send a cent simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. After you have used it and it has proven itself to be that long-sought-for means of getting rid of such forms of rheumatism, you may send the price of it, one dollar, but I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Just that fair! Why suffer any longer when relief is thus offered you free? Don't delay. Write today, Mark H. Jackson, No. 155K, Durston Bldg., Syracuse, N. Y.
