

WALTER BRINDLE DIED YESTERDAY

Manager of Seamen's Institute Will be Mourned by Many.

Walter Brindle, for the last five years manager of the Seamen's Institute in St. John, passed away at his home, 212 Britain street, last evening at 6.45 o'clock. Not in St. John alone, but in every quarter of the globe where sailors go who have visited in St. John in that time, there will be keen regret at his death. It is given to few men to win universal esteem and respect as Mr. Brindle had won it.

He was first taken on Dec. 22 with a heart attack and was a patient at the General Public Hospital for a time. He rallied and was able to return to his home but was taken to the Infirmary for an X-ray examination. He returned to his home again on Tuesday of last week and, although his health was not improving he was as bright and cheerful and full of optimism as he was at all times. His death came as a great shock to the whole community and sincere sympathy has gone out to the bereaved.

Was War Veteran.

Mr. Brindle was a native of England and his former home was in Darwen, Lancashire. He was 55 years of age and with his family he came to make his home in St. John 12 years ago. In St. John he engaged in the shoe business for a time but with the outbreak of war he was one of the first to volunteer for service. He enlisted in the Railway Construction Corps and remained in that branch throughout the war. An account of his war experiences is contained in his book, "France and Flanders," which gives an eye-witness' vivid description of the events of war and contains many narrative poems of merit.

Before coming to Canada Mr. Brindle was a contributor to several English publications. Two of his sons served overseas also and returned to Canada safely. Mr. Brindle was gassed and also suffered injury through the falling of some heavy machinery. His fatal illness was due in part to the effects of war service.

On his return to Canada he was appointed manager of the Seamen's Institute and filled that office to the greatest satisfaction of the management. The New Brunswick branch of the Navy League with which the Seamen's Institute is affiliated and H. J. Evans, the treasurer of the Institute, both spoke last night of the wonderful service which Mr. Brindle had given. They felt that it would be impossible to fill his place, his whole-hearted interest in the welfare of the sailors and in the success of the Institute had been so great.

In the influenza epidemic of 1918 Mr. Brindle lost a son and a daughter. He is survived by his wife, two sons, Norman, of North Carolina, who is in the city having been called illness, the Misses Ethel L. and Etta M. Coles, who reside at home. Miss Mary Coles, daughter of H. J. Coles, is the only grandchild. One daughter, Miss Doreen, of New York City, and one sister, Mrs. James Calder, of Fairbury, Nebraska, and had many friends in the community where she has resided for many years. The funeral will be held from her late residence.

Mrs. Daniel E. Coles.

Mrs. Rachel Coles, wife of Daniel E. Coles, of Lakewood, Loch Lomond Road, died yesterday afternoon at her home after a lingering illness. Mrs. Coles leaves, besides her husband, one son, Horace J. Coles, of 15 Hanover street, and two daughters, Miss Ethel L. and Etta M. Coles, who reside at home. Miss Mary Coles, daughter of H. J. Coles, is the only grandchild. One daughter, Miss Doreen, of New York City, and one sister, Mrs. James Calder, of Fairbury, Nebraska, and had many friends in the community where she has resided for many years. The funeral will be held from her late residence.

residence, Tuesday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, the Rev. L. J. Watson, of Silver Falls officiating.

Miss Jean MacDonald.

The death of Miss Jean MacDonald, daughter of the late Rev. J. A. MacDonald, editor-in-chief for many years of the Toronto Globe, occurred recently at Bowling Green, Virginia. Miss MacDonald had been staying at Bowling Green, and contracted pneumonia, which resulted in her death. Although born in St. Thomas, Ont., Miss MacDonald had spent the greater part of her life in Toronto and was educated at Westbourne School. She graduated from the Social Service Department of the University of Toronto in 1916 and in 1918 she accompanied her parents on a trip to Japan. Miss MacDonald is survived by her mother and two brothers.

MONTCALM BRINGS 631 PASSENGERS

Visitor Praises New British Premier—Soviet Delegation Missed Ship.

The Canadian Pacific steamer Montcalm, eight days out from Liverpool, and seven from Glasgow, arrived in port yesterday afternoon at 10.20. The ship, under the command of Mr. M. Georges Pelletier, editor of Henri Bourassa's former paper, Le Devoir, and Mrs. Pelletier, of Montreal, were passengers on the Montcalm. Mr. Pelletier returns from France where he occupied himself with acquiring the French point of view in regard to international relations and the Franco-German and Franco-English relations in particular. Mr. Pelletier asked to be excused from expressing the conclusions he had arrived at, stating that international problems, political and economic were too intricate to be summed up in a few generalities.

Lauds British Premier.

"A level-headed conservative man of simple tastes and modest manner" was the way Ramsey MacDonald, Prime Minister of Great Britain, was described by W. H. Crawford, political editor of Collier's Weekly, of New York City, and Democratic Senator of New Mexico, who returned to America on the C. P. O. S. liner Montcalm, Saturday night, after covering the British elections for his paper.

The senator said he had been the house guest of MacDonald at his Leitch home at Loughborough when the news of the Labor leader's elevation to the head of the British government was first made known. The intelligence had no visible effect on Mr. MacDonald, said the senator, and his simple demeanor and modest tastes remained unchanged.

Mr. Crawford had been to England as the guest of the Prince of Wales. Mr. Crawford is said to have been the only newspaperman to have had an interview with Lord Andrew on his holiday tour to Canada.

Among those who missed their sailing on account of the railway strike in England were the Soviet delegates who are coming to Canada to hold a party with the Dominion Government on trade with Russia. The delegation is headed by A. Yassoff. It is expected that they will arrive on the Montrose which is due later this week.

WEDDINGS

Roberts-Burns.

In the evening church last night after the ceremony a marriage service was conducted when the pastor, Rev. R. G. Fulton officiated and Miss Alice Burns, of Manchester, England, became the bride of George Valentine Roberts, president of the Wilcott Printing Company, of Montreal. The bride had arrived in St. John on the steamer Montcalm, and the bridegroom came from Montreal to meet her. The full choir of the church remained for the ceremony and sang "The Voice that Breathed o'er Eden."

Mr. Bending played the wedding march. Mr. and Mrs. Roberts after a short stay in St. John, will leave for Montreal where they will make their home. They are registered at the Royal Hotel.

MOTHER AND SON RECOVER HEALTH

Two Members of Well-known Family Praise Merits of Decco, the Famous Herbal Remedy—It Gave Them the Relief Sought Vainly for Years.

Few people seem to be immune to digestive troubles. These distressing disorders are apt to afflict any or all members of a family. A case in point is that of Dow Moore, a well-known farmer of Springfield, York County, N. B., and his mother, Mrs. Charles Moore, both of whom suffered and both of whom were relieved by the wonderful tonic and regulating properties of Decco. This is Mr. Moore's statement:

"I was a terrible sufferer from constant headaches and dyspepsia for three years. My general health was very bad. I took all kinds of medicine and treatments faithfully, but did not improve. At this time I heard Decco so highly recommended for my troubles that I decided to give it a trial. I was greatly relieved almost immediately and gradually this marvelous herb medicine has made me completely well. All my headaches, dyspepsia and constipation are cured and I owe my recovery entirely to Decco."

Incidentally, Mr. Moore gained twelve pounds in weight. Mrs. Moore's statement, which follows, is equally interesting.

"For five years I was sick and miserable. I suffered from constant headaches. There seemed to be a lump in my stomach and constipation was dreadful. I took various treatments for over two years, without relief. After taking three bottles of Decco, I was greatly improved. Now I can work all day and have no headaches. My constipation is relieved and I have no more sour stomach or heartburn. I really feel like a new being. I sleep soundly too. It was Decco that gave me back my health."

Mrs. Moore is 58 years of age; her son 31. Irrespective of age, Decco gave them equal benefit. Its corrective properties come from Nature's own herbs, roots, bark and leaves, from which it is scientifically compounded, and it acts in a natural way on all the organs of digestion. Once these are put right, everything is right.

Decco contains no mercury, potash or habit forming drugs.

Decco is being specially introduced in St. John by Ross Drug Co., 100 King St., Moore's Drug Store, 105 Prince Edward St., F. W. Munro, 357 Main St., and in West St. John by Watson R. Dunlop. It is also sold in Fairville by T. H. Wilson, and by a good druggist everywhere.

BUSY WEEK END AT THE Y.M.C.A.

The adult Bible class conducted by Rev. R. T. McKim in the Y. M. C. A. steadily growing attendance. Mr. McKim gives as a Bible study lesson, the portion of scripture that is the Sunday school lesson the next day. The school teachers have found in the class a big help. Many not teachers also attend. The class on last Saturday attracted an exceptionally large number.

The Y. M. C. A. On Saturday night two outing parties used the building as headquarters. The junior leaders' corps of the physical department had a skating party at Lily Lake returning for refreshments. The Young Men's Club left for the lake and they formed a party to go tobogganing. The toboggan party returned to the building for refreshments also. Both outings were much enjoyed. That evening also the Trail Rangers of the city churches had their monthly supper gathering at the Y. M. C. A. and about 50 members were present.

On Sunday morning the boys' service was held and Clarence McCulley, boys' work secretary, gave the address. The interdenominational game was held in the Lancaster Hospital, conducted by A. M. Gregg, general secretary. In the evening there was a large attendance at the evening sing song after the church service. Cedric Pieswilling gave three saxophone solos which were heartily enjoyed.

Says But One Power
Can Prevent War

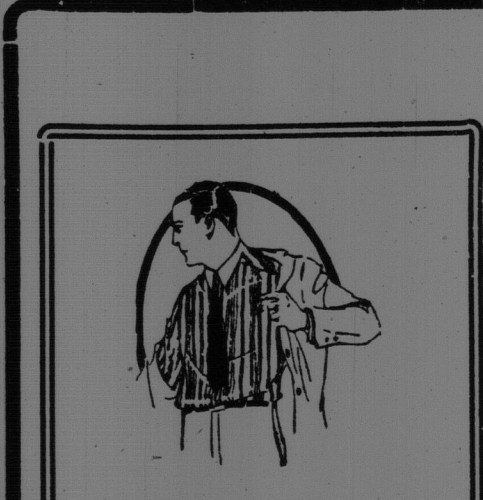

The imminence or remoteness of another great war formed the theme of the sermon by Rev. R. P. McKim, rector of St. Luke's church, last night. Mr. McKim quoted from Viscount Grey's recent speech in which he spoke of the possibility of the world being plunged into another war. He quoted various other statesmen and leaders "one of whom anticipated another war and others of whom expected future peace or advocated measures they thought would make war impossible."

Mr. McKim's definition of war was that it was a resort on the part of nations to the force of arms when diplomacy had failed. He went on to show that all around today there is war on a smaller scale. In the business world the cutting of prices made warfare or increased rents brought the parting of landlord and tenant. Crime was on the increase and there were very many accounts of holdups in larger cities. Murder cases in St. John had attained a disagreeable frequency of late. Divorce was increasingly prevalent in England, the United States and Canada. All of these things were deprecations, evidencing a determination to secure by foul means what could not be secured by fair measures, and these deprecations could as readily be stopped as the more terrible disaster of war.

There was but one Power to stay the pestilence of war, Mr. McKim declared, and that was the Prince of Peace. Individuals might not control the world at large, but they could control their own lives and hearts and by submitting to the will of God attain to His peace.

TRAIL RANGERS IN BROOKVILLE FORMED

A Trail Ranger group was organized among the boys of the Brookville Methodist Sunday school Saturday evening when they met at the home of George N. Breen, the superintendent, and were addressed by A. R. Crookshank, president of the St. John Boys' Work Board. Mr. Crookshank explained the aims and procedure of the Trail Rangers and the C. E. T. programme which they followed. The boys chose as their mentor C. Warren Anderson, a teacher in the Sunday school, and elected officers as follows: Chief Ranger, Douglas Breen; deputy chief ranger, Leslie Bassen; tally, Kenneth Pedersen; cache, Fred Perry; reporter, Gordon Perry. The group organized with about twelve members and considerable enthusiasm was displayed in planning for future activities. The members hoped to have won a number of badges before the summer and planned to take part in winter sports and other outdoor games. They also planned to help along the community effort for a new hall.

GIRL GUIDE COURSE COMES TO AN END

The very successful instruction course for Girl Guide leaders conducted last week at the Y. W. C. A. Recreation Centre was brought to a close on Saturday. Miss J. Wolton, Red Diploma holder, who came from England to conduct the course, left on Saturday for Moncton on her way to Halifax where she will conduct the next course. The leaders who came here for the course left for their homes in the province at the end of the week. On Saturday Miss Wolton was given a very

ACID IN STOMACH SOURS THE FOOD

Says Excess of Hydrochloric Acid is Cause of Indigestion.

A well-known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion are nearly always due to acidity—acid stomach—and not, as most believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and causes fermentation; then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acid fluids and gases, which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. We then get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, while it is effective, and furthermore, to continue this for one week. While relief often follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salt is used by thousands of stomach sufferers with excellent results.

1924 Modes Calls For Modart Corsetting

Straight and slenderized lines are laid down again in the fashions just evolved for coming months. That means right through the year, for nothing so radical as a change of line occurs except with the Spring Openings.

Modart Corsets keep in tune with the times in answer to demands for symmetry of effect and ease of carriage. Their very make-up ensures this—not alone in design, but in materials, the boning, the placing of elastic and lacing.

Average to Full Figure

A topless corset built for the average to full figure and heavily boned. The elastic belt banding brings the fullness below the waist and secures that evenness of line that makes such modelling necessary. No gouginess here and a drop back effect created.

Long Lines, Low Bust

A graceful model to slenderize and with plenty of fullness at hip, is cut low in front with elastic from the front to underarm, graduating to a slightly higher shoulder and back. Fullness is placed in shoulders and the back goes below waistline, allowing generously for surplus flesh here.

Average to Slender

Low through the bust and underarm, graduating to a slightly higher and very full shoulder and back. Fullness here extends below waist, while lines are generally straight, the hip is so made to take care of the figure inclined to be a little large. Elastic webbing insert at bust and across bones at back.

Without Lacing

A non-lacing model for the average to full figure for sport and athletic wear has these features. Adjustment made possible by elastic panels at side back. Maintains a flattening back effect and gives greatest amount of abdominal control possible.

And they must be fitted—that is the important part—services of duly qualified and experienced corsetiere freely at your disposal.
