COUNTERFEIT COINS.
Suspicions of Light Weight Silver Led to Capture of Pair.

London, April 20.—In another case of passing counterfeit "hime-crowns," warehouseman, and Henry Thomas Hassell, twenty-four, horsekeeper, again figured. The latter pleaded guilty. It was alleged that on January 28, Joseph walked into the shop of a baker named Howell, on Caledonia road, and asked if any change was required. He tendered Treasury notes in exchange. Mrs. Powell took the coins into the parlor, but noticed that they felt light. Her suspicions aroused, she returned the coins on the pretext that she had no paper money available. Joseph then proceeded to the shop of a dairyman, but here the proprietor "did not like the look of the money," and handed it back. Still persisting, Joseph went into the local post office, but no change was required. In the meantime, Mrs. Powell had communicated with a policeman, and the latter pulled up Joseph. The constable asked him what he had in his hand, to which Joseph replied, "Two pounds worth of silver." The constable examined it, and requested the man to accompany him to the police station. He replied, "My brother gave it to me for a quid, and he is waiting down the road for me for the rest of the change." On the way to the station, Joseph produced eight similar coins from his pocket, and handing them to the constable, remarked, "You may as well have these as well. I did not know the coins were bad." Henry was arrested later, and admitted that he had given the coins to his brother. Joseph was found not guilty, and acquitted. Henry was sentenced to eight months' hard labor.

TO MONTREAL FOR BOOZE
(Montreal Gazette)
Montreal may expect to be crowded with Toronto visitors from now on until the end of May, and for some time afterwards as a result of the Ontario referendum on Monday, which provides for prohibition in Ontario sixty days after the taking of the vote. There were in Montreal on Thursday quite a number of Toronto people of whom at least a dozen were to be noticed on St. James street. They learned of the result of the vote in Toronto last night early enough to get the night train, and arrived in Montreal for the well-defined purpose of getting as much liquor into their cellars as their means afforded before the "bone-dry law goes into effect. Some bought as much as $5,000 worth, and these were people of no particular prominence, but ordinary business men. There was no evidence in Montreal yesterday as far as could be learned that "bootleggers" were here to load up.

The liquor men of the province of Quebec, namely, the ten importers and the 25 vendors, and all their agents, have certain stocks on hand which they are naturally anxious to get rid of before May 1st, and the result of the referendum vote in Ontario will enable them to sell their stock more rapidly.

Mr. E. A. Price, Port Carling, Ont., writes: "For about a month last fall I had a bad cold and cough and a tickling in my throat. I coughed nearly all the time. I tried different remedies and cough syrups, but could get no relief. A friend advised me to use Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and before I had used two bottles, my cough was all gone, and gone for good. I have not coughed since."

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS Big New Picture

is a genuine novelty. We have come to expect great things from Doug Fairbanks; we sometimes wonder where he can possibly get any more new ideas from. Yet he comes along with a picture like this and simply carries us off our feet. "When the Clouds Roll By" is so new and original in story and action, so far away from anything that has been attempted before, that we go on record now with the prediction that every laugh-loving, thrill-loving man, woman and child in town will be talking about Fairbanks and his picture before the week is half over.
