AMERICAN DENTIST SAVED VISCOUNT GREY'S EIGHTH
Viscount Grey, who, during his recent trip to the United States, was afflicted with a severe case of becoming totally blind, was saved by a Washington dentist working in conjunction with Dr. William Holland Wilmer, the noted oculist. The British embassy Sunday announced that Dr. Arthur LeGrand Harvin performed the dental operation after Dr. Wilmer had diagnosed Viscount Grey's eye ailment as a condition resulting from affected teeth.

Although Viscount Grey had been troubled by his eyes before leaving England, it was not until after he had been in the United States some time that his condition became serious. Early in October his sight began failing rapidly.

Viscount Grey paid his first visit to the office of Dr. Harvin on Oct. 16 and at that time he could not see to read and had to be led by an attendant.

He had been two months afflicted. Once, a large upper in the right jaw—having great prongs—was shown by the X-ray to have been treated in such a way by a previous operation that necrosis of the bone had developed. This tooth was cut out, drainage introduced and later the tooth was extracted. The other tooth was not in such bad condition and was saved.

Within two weeks Viscount Grey's eyesight had improved to such an extent that he could read with greater ease than he had been able to for a long time before Christmas there remained only after the effects of the intense strain on his eyes during the previous few months.

When you do not intend to pay a bill there is nothing like being decisive in your refusal. The other day a book-
