FIFTY YEARS IN WORK OF EXMOUTH STREET S. SCHOOL.

Telegram Sent to James Myles, Now Visiting in Winnipeg, in Recognition of Jubilee.

Fifty years of faithful service in the Sunday school, an unusual record of devotion, was recognized by the Sunday school of Exmouth street Methodist church yesterday when a telegram of appreciation was ordered to be sent to James Myles of Wright street, who at present is in Winnipeg visiting his daughter, Mrs. E. R. Tennant.

Mr. Myles first took office in the school on October 7, 1868. He was elected a teacher. Since then he has filled practically all the offices of the school, acting as superintendent for many years. He still continues his connection as the teacher of one of the classes. The telegram will reach him today, on the anniversary of his first day as a teacher in the school.

On motion of Gordon Stevens, seconded by Harold Hopkins, the members of the school yesterday approved the telegram, which reads as follows:
"Exmouth street Sunday school, in regular session today, remembers October 7, 1868, when you first were elected a teacher, extends heartiest congratulations on your fifty years service, and trusts you may have many more years in the work."

FAIRVILLE MAN KILLED IN NEW YORK.

A telegram received yesterday reported the sudden death of James Hanlon by accident in New York. He was a painter and a former resident of Fairville. Mr. Hanlon visited the town of his early days only two months ago to attend the funeral of his brother, John Hanlon, a well known resident. The telegraphic news of James Hanlon's death was so meagre that relatives here are still in ignorance of the cause. However, on tonight's train James Hanlon, jr., nephew of the deceased, and John Calnan, son-in-law, will leave to attend the funeral. Mr. Hanlon was more than sixty years of age and leaves his wife and one daughter, Mrs. Calnan.

HOLLY TURNER OF THE 26TH IS BURIED NEAR MUNSTER, GERMANY

Died as Prisoner of War—Letter Comes to Mother From British Help Committee

Mrs. Letitia Turner of Rodney street, West End, has received the following letter relative to the death of her brave son, Holly Turner, whose death was recently reported:
The British Help Committee, Munster, July 22, 1918.
Dear Madam,—We very much regret to inform you that your son, Holly Turner, of the 26th New Brunswick regiment, died at the camp hospital on the 11th inst. from an abscess on the brain which had been long troubling him, the result of a bullet wound in his head received in action. This is according to the certificate of the staff doctor of the camp.

Your unfortunate son was buried at the prisoner of war cemetery, Hans Spital, near Munster, his grave being numbered V 878. The body was attended by a party of his comrades and the burial service of the Church of England was read over his grave.
Pray accept the sincere condolences of the committee on behalf of all his old comrades here on this sad bereavement. We are, Madam, with respect,
Yours faithfully,
S. BLOOMFELT,
President British Help Committee
A. E. GERLINGER,
Secretary.

Mrs. Letitia Turner, 161 Rodney St., West St. John, New Brunswick, Canada.

Private Turner was in Mexico when war broke out and rushed home and enlisted in the 26th Battalion. He was in the trenches one year and at the battle of Courcellette in 1916 was taken a prisoner by the Germans. He has been in Germany for two years. His last letter was written on June 24 and he was well at that time. He was thirty-five years of age on July 11 (the day he died). He was formerly employed by C. E. R. as an engineer.

Private Turner was a son of the late Robert Turner, well known in Clifton, and is survived by his mother, Mrs. Letitia Turner, and one daughter, Dorothy, and by two brothers, Robert and William, who are in the Canadian army. He was returned from England (No. 5 Co., C. A. S. C.), William of North York, California, and four sisters, Mrs. Joseph Stone of Millerville, Mrs. Geo. Garnett of North End, Mrs. Robert Osborne, West End, and Mrs. S. H. Morton of Fresno, California.

MISS VAN DER FLIER IN SUIT AGAINST HEARST

Dutch Lady, Visiting Here on Mission of Mercy, Takes Legal Means to Refute Statements

At the meeting held in Imperial Theatre on Sunday afternoon in the interests of Miss Hendrika Van der Flier's fund for erecting a garden village in which to repatriate Belgian widows and orphans, veiled references were made to attacks made upon the Dutch delegate by the Hearst press.

It appears that Miss Van der Flier's action pictures—which were exhibited yesterday—were purchased from a German photographer in neutral Holland and was not supported for a moment they would be shown in Eastern countries. The file was intended for German eyes in a campaign of glorification to boost the war along. So the German government and secret service thereof set out to stop the girl from the Hague in her sales for the Kaiser's victims and more especially to destroy the usefulness of the pictures she had secured.

When Miss Van der Flier reached New York the Hearst press opened a campaign. They accused her of appropriating her charitable funds to luxurious living and made other distorted statements. August Belmont, a prominent New York banker, who is treasurer of the widow and orphan fund, hotly refuted the attack, as did also Theodore Roosevelt and others.

Upon investigation, it is said, it was found that hotel bills contracted by Miss Van der Flier in their Irish fund campaign—personally paid bills—were being charged as against Miss Van der Flier, but these accusations were quickly disproved by hotel receipts and vouchers. The Hearst papers not only refused to retract but repeated the statements in Chicago, St. Louis and in California so as to forestall the Dutch philanthropist.

A New York district attorney, now seeking election, was appealed to but he declined to act and at the instance of August Belmont and other prominent New York people Miss Van der Flier has instituted suit against Hearst and the district attorney for $50,000 each. In the meantime her pictures are under care for fear of malicious damage and the Dutch girl herself is guarded by secret service men while in suspicious circles in the large cities.
