The reason why most people do not write better is because they do not know how to do so rapidly.

There is no more trouble than in crossing the street, if you have the proper instruction.

I teach that. I make a business of teaching people to write well and fast, from the start.

I teach good plain writing for every day purposes.

The charge is $4 for three months.

— A report received from Capt. Guilford states that the Grand Manan cable is in a very bad condition. Seven pieces have already been picked up, after splicing which he will be obliged to underrun the whole line to the Campobello shore. The cause of the breaks is attributed to the effects of the copper ore in the ledge on the bottom, which corrodes the wire.

Stone and all weighed only a few pounds and they were carried in a small box; but there was about $70 worth of gold in the three small lumps, the precious metal showing in nuggets all over the stone.

— An article on the pearl fishing on the different streams throughout New Brunswick has attracted some attention, and will no doubt have the tendency to start some speculators and others interested in the search for this little article. Polson's Nerviline is a combination of powerful anodynes, and it strikes at once to the nerves, soothing them and affording in one minute total relief from pain. Mothers, try it for your children's toothache. Nerviline is sold in 10 and 25 cent bottles by all druggists.

Where Am I Due Next?

HOW PROMINENT CANADIANS MANAGE TO KEEP THEIR ENGAGEMENTS.

To be a successful business man, a man of high official position, a society man, and withal a man who conforms to domestic regulations, is not an easy life. There are only twenty-four hours in a day, and nature claims at least eight of those, consequently many a popular person has to refuse the kind invitations poured in upon him. Some have the greatest trouble to remember their engagements. One official keeps his appointments upon a large black board, another scrawls upon his cuff, while others have ivory tablets, dainty calendars, and ingenious aids to remembrance.

But there are some who realize the fact that they can scarcely remember anything. They are unable to think hard without an effort. They do not sleep well and they become tired or exhausted very easily. Scores of bright minds fail in this way. How many brilliant men, once prominent in the public life of the Dominion, have now passed from view.

All these things mean something. They mean that prompt care must be taken. There is no need to despair, but there is great need of caution. Fortify the life, build up the nerves, restore the brain. Modern science has produced but one thing which will do this, Paine's Celery Compound. This remarkable preparation is not a nervine, an essence, a sarsaparilla, or any devised article, but a discovery, and it marks a distinct step in medical practice and the treatment of nervous diseases.

It has been freely admitted by the best medical talent in the Dominion that for nerve troubles, nervous exhaustion, sleeplessness, debility, dyspepsia, the disorders of old age, and even the dreaded and terrible paresis, nothing has ever been discovered that reaches the disorder and restores health equal to this discovery of Prof. Phelps. It can be used with confidence by all who are suffering from any nervous condition.

HORTON.—At Canso, Oct. 26, Joseph Horton, aged 64. His death was the death of the righteous. He was a great sufferer at times—suffered from an internal abscess. He bore his trials patiently, and exemplified in his sickness the consoling power of the Spirit. He leaves a wife and seven children to mourn their loss.

BISHOP.—In Chelsea, Mass., U. S., Oct. 5, Robert Bishop, Senr., in the 83 year of his age. He was born in Horton, N. S., August 18, A. D., 1807. He leaves three sons, one daughter and a widow, a sister of the late lamented Deacon Allan Vaughan, to mourn their loss. For several years Bros. Bishop and Vaughan, together with their families, were active workers in the Baptist church in Newcastle, Miramichi.

MILLETT.—On Oct. 18, John Millett, aged 87 years. He was remarkably active for a man of his age, and would often walk to meeting at Chester, distant seven miles from his home. He was sick of paralysis only two weeks prior to his death, and was one of the most aged, as well as an earnest member of the Baptist church at Chester. His widow, together with seven sons and three daughters, mourn their loss.

BANKS.—At Harmony, Kings Co., N.S., Oct. 14, Alexander Banks, aged 78 years. Bro. B. professed faith in Jesus some years ago, and united with the Upper Aylesford Baptist church. Later on he came to Harmony and settled, and united with the people of God in Lower Aylesford. In the early fall it became evident that his work on earth was about done. He was not alarmed. He trusted in his Saviour and remained calm in the hour of death. He leaves a wife, twelve children, forty grand children, six great-grand-children and many friends to mourn their loss.

RICKERTSON.—At Springfield, Kings Co., N. B., Oct. 13, of consumption, Mrs. Annie Rickertson, aged 36 years, leaving a husband and six children to mourn their loss, but their loss was her gain, as she died trusting in Jesus. She had been a professing Christian for some years, and had lived a consistent Christian life. Her great struggle in leaving this world was in leaving her little ones; but she was enabled through the grace of God to leave them to the care of her heavenly Father. The father and family have the sympathy of all the neighbors and acquaintances, and may God use them in answering the mother's prayers.

REED.—At her home at Billtown, Oct. 1, in the 59th year of her age, Sister Reed, relict of the late Bro. Theodore Reed. Sister Reed bore her last illness with the fortitude of a thorough Christian. She was one of those women who are always a blessing to a community. Her end was peace, and there was nothing but universal regret felt at her departure, both in the church and the neighborhood. She was baptized and became a member of the Horton Baptist church when she was eighteen years of age. She has been at Billtown over twenty years, where she was buried on the 3rd of October. A large family is left in deep sorrow. "He brought them unto their desired haven," and "there was no more sea."

GRIFFIN.—Burned to death Oct. 16, Nora Lee, aged 8 years, eldest daughter of Havelock and Jane Giffin. Amid her childish sport the summons came, her clothes caught fire and before assistance reached her, death had marked her as his victim. For ten hours she bore her intense suffering in calm and fearless composure. Her mind was perfectly clear and her voice was frequently heard as she sought to soothe the anguish of her mother. Death brought no tears, nor the grave any terror. Her conceptions of christianity were most marvellous for one of her years. She kissed them all farewell when her eyes alone were free of tears, and took her leave as if some long anticipated visit was about to be made. Her death though under such sad circumstances was fruitful in lessons for christian workers, and very consoling for her mourning relatives.

ANDERSON.—At New Germany, N. S., on the 25th ult., of inflammation of the lungs, Vernon Barber Anderson, beloved son of Rev. W. P. and Clemmie Anderson, aged eight years, three months and twenty-five days. Vernon was a bright, active boy, intelligent far beyond his years, with a mind capable of receiving new truths most rapidly. We had planned much on his education; so, though young, we were preparing to send him to Horton Academy next term. All our hopes were centered in Vernon; to say we loved our bright, happy child is cold and passionless, and yet if we worshipped him, 'twas only with the one hope of making a useful man of him to work for our adorable Redeemer. Although we had medical men and did all that could be done, he has gone from us. God took the life He gave; while we are so sad and lonely, we must remember that we have much to be thankful for. Others are being called to pass through great trials; we must expect ours, too. Pastor Williams, of Mahone Bay, preached the funeral sermon, and his kindness and sympathy, and that of all the friends of the congregation, helped us in our bereavement.
