St. John-South End.

Being exhibition week in St. John, of course our city has been in holiday attire. Visitors who have spent the week here have found plenty of amusement in theatres, concerts, conversations, and the exhibition itself; but it has left no time for many social gatherings. No less than three conversations have taken place this week. On Tuesday evening that given by the students' league of the Owen's art institution came off very successfully, and included an exhibition, sale and conversation. A magnificent collection of the work of over 100 students was displayed, including some beautiful specimens of china painting. There was a very large number present, showing how much interest is evinced by our citizens in the fine arts. Some of the members of the institution provided refreshments through the evening.

On Wednesday evening the members of the mission chapel held a social gathering in the school room adjoining the church, at which a large number of the congregation and their friends were present. Although it passed off very well, it can hardly say pleasantly, from the fact that the object was a farewell gathering for Rev. J. M. Davenport, their much loved pastor, who leaves next week for Philadelphia. An address was presented to him by Mr. Frith, on behalf of the congregation, accompanied by the gift of a very handsome stole, beautifully embroidered. After a most touching reply from Mr. Davenport, refreshments were served, and then those present adjourned to the chapel, to hear the usual services.

On Friday evening a very informal gathering was held by the officers of the 62nd fullers in their club room, Charlotte street, for the purpose of bidding farewell to their chaplain, Mr. Davenport. Officers of the battalion turned out in full force and pleasant speeches were made by many, expressing their regrets at Mr. Davenport's departure.

Mr. Davenport was also entertained on Tuesday evening by a group of friends, who were in reality a summer day could not be passed over without a visit in the country, so thought some of our people who engaged the Holy Ro and drove to Loch Lomond where they picnicked, finishing up with an informal dance. The gentlemen present provided the conveyance and the ladies refreshments. During the evening musical selections, of a very high order, were given by some of the young people. A colored gentry which added much to the enjoyment of the evening. Among those present were: Mr. D. E. Winslow, Col. and Mrs. Goldie, and the Misses Goldie, (Halifax) Miss Warner, Miss Bayard, Miss Macdonald, (Montreal) Miss Laxon, Miss MacLaren, Mr. M. B. Edwards, Mr. C. J. Coster, Mr. P. C. Wednesday evening, Sept. 16, at the beautiful home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Niles, Peabody, Mass., was the scene of a quite a large and brilliant wedding party—Pearson B. Dunham, of Lynn, formerly of St. John, N. B., and Edith A. E. Niles, being united in the holy matrimony by Rev. Geo. B. Hatch, of Lynn.

The bride party entered the reception room to the strains of "Lohengrin" wedding march, performed by Miss Lella Holder, and the beautiful but impressive marriage service that followed was a scene that will last a long time. The bride, leaning on the arm of the groom, in a gown of ivory white satin with train, trimmings of brocade and duchess lace, with tulle veil caught up tastefully, and pearl ornaments, made a charming appearance. A reception, however, and the time passed pleasantly in congratulating Mr. and Mrs. Pearson B. Dunham.

Lunch was served by Valois of Lynn. The wedding presents, many and costly, exhibited of the evening, and the time passed pleasantly in congratulating Mr. and Mrs. Pearson B. Dunham.

The Misses Tilton have gone to St. Louis, Missouri, to make their home with their sister, Mrs. Lippincott. Mr. Charles Tilton has taken their residence on Lancaster Heights, where he will make his home.
