PRESIDENT OF FRANCE WITNESS AT CAILLAUX TRIAL

MR. PAUL BOURGET, PALAIS DE JUSTICE, PRESIDENT POINCARÉ

Among the testimony at the second hearing of the murder trial of Mme. Caillaux was that of President Poincaré, whose deposition was taken by Judge Emile Forchon, the first President of the Court of Appeals. This narrated how Mr. Joseph Caillaux, then a Minister of State, had called upon President Poincaré on the day Mr. Calmette was killed and had spoken about the probable publication in the Figaro of letters between himself and Mme. Caillaux. In the course of an excited talk Mr. Caillaux exclaimed:—"If Calmette publishes the letters I will kill him!" Mr. Paul Bourget, the "Immortal," another witness, who was with Mr. Calmette in his office at the moment when Mme. Caillaux's card was brought in, then told the jury of the incident. "You will not see her," I said. "I cannot refuse to receive a woman," he replied.

Sussex Man Captures Five Young Raccoons

Sussex, July 23.—On Sunday last Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Maggs of Sussex were driving along in their auto, some five or six miles below Hampton they saw two little raccoons by the road side. Mr. Maggs stopped the car as soon as possible and went back to where he had seen them, and in the bushes alongside of the road clinging close to the trunk of a tree he discovered them. The journey for home was resumed, but the car had hardly gone three hundred yards when three more young raccoons were seen playing near the road. Mr. Maggs also captured these, and putting the five youngsters in a sack brought them safely home.

The woman of the laundry, and was in charge of the steam mangle. While putting a sheet through the mangle the corner got twisted and in trying to straighten this out Mrs. McGivery's hand was caught by the roller and was terribly burned and bruised. The casing of the cylinder of the mangle is of iron and is kept very hot by a circulation of live steam underneath it and where the hand was caught was literally cooked through before it could be freed. When the accident occurred the screams of the suffering woman at once attracted the attention of the employer, and one of the young ladies immediately threw off the belt stopping the machinery quickly or otherwise the arm would have followed through the trying ordeal, as it was fully five minutes from the time her hand was caught in the mangle until it could be extracted, and all the time the brave young woman stood her terrible suffering without making any outcry whatever after her first cry of alarm. Much sympathy is felt for the victim of the lamentable accident.

A VETERAN WHO WAS WITH LORD ROBERTS

Laid Low with Rheumatism—But Cured by "Fruit-a-tives"

Chatham, Ont., April 3rd, 1913.
"I am a veteran of the Crimean War and the Indian Mutiny, volunteering from the Royal Artillery into the Royal Engineers, and served under Lord Roberts during the Indian Mutiny, and am a pensioner of the British Government. Fierce hand-to-hand fighting and continual exposure left me a great sufferer from Rheumatism, as much so that my legs swelled up, making it impossible for me to walk."
"Fruit-a-tives." They cured me of both the Rheumatism and Constipation. In my regular employment, I walk thirty miles a day and enjoy perfect health."

FIRST-CLASS BILL AT LYRIC THEATRE

Banner Programme Yesterday Greeted With Enthusiastic Applause—Clever and Snappy Vaudeville Team.

The high standard for shows at the Lyric was again upheld yesterday when the management presented a bill, the general excellence of which would be hard to surpass. The enthusiastic applause which greeted the different numbers, conclusively proved that the patrons of this popular house were not slow in showing their appreciation.
The vaudeville team of Henry and Wood captured their successive audiences right from the start, and in songs, music and talk-pleasing specialties, took that tired feeling out of all who heard them. This team had to respond to repeated encores.
"The Wheel of Destiny," a two-part majestic drama, dealing with the workings of a secret society, abounded in sensations. This picture caught the fancy of the crowds and held them spell bound throughout.
The Weekly News was again a feature. This part of the Lyric's programme is rapidly making a high place for itself and is eagerly looked forward to each week. The pictures yesterday showed newsy events of the world.

THE MYSTERY AT UNIQUE

The Million Dollar Mystery, a story by Harold MacGrath, is a mystery, indeed, and those who were present at the Unique Theatre last evening were evidently greatly interested in this play of unusual merit, the first part of which consisted in the showing of two reels of this Thelouiser serial. There are, altogether, forty-six reels in the production.
The cast includes Florence La Badie, Marguerite Snow, Lila Chester, James Cruze, Sidney Bracy, Frank Farrington and Alfred Norton. It is a stupendous forty-six reel production, and one of the most remarkable serials ever brought to the notice of the public. For the first time the actual pictures of the mysterious life of the ocean bottom, its life and vegetation will be shown. The pictures taken under water must have cost a small fortune.

SIX VACANT SEATS IN THE SENATE NOW

Ottawa, July 27.—The death of Senator McMillan results in six vacancies in the Senate. They have been caused by the death of five senators and the absence of another for two consecutive sessions. The senator who loses his place through absence is Senator Macdonald of British Columbia. The places vacated by death are those of Sir George Ross, Senator George A. Cox, Senator Thomas Coffey, Senator Gibson and Senator McMillan.
The vacancies are not expected to be filled until just before the coming of the next session of parliament. The Liberals now have a majority of nineteen. It is believed that one of the Ontario vacancies will go to Major Beattie of London, Ont., another may go to Hon. Thomas Sproule, Speaker of the Commons.

KEEPING COOL.

KEEPING cool is not a matter of keeping still. The people who get the most enjoyment and the least discomfort out of summer days are those who go right along about their regular business and ignore the weather.
They set us a good example when they say: "Come people, we are ready to serve you even if it is hot."
The enterprise of the store that advertises for our patronage throughout the summer, as well as the rest of the year, indicates a store worth trading at.
Let us read the advertisements rather than the weather report—and let us patronize the merchants who similarly disregard the weather and who show that proper spirit of disregard by advertising continually.
