One of Canada's best makers had about 200 pairs of military boots on which the upper stock was somewhat lighter in weight than specifications called for. Rather than send them forward they were offered at a cut price, and knowing they were exceptional value we bought the lot.

We have now placed them on sale at our Three Stores at $4.85 a Pair although they are good value at regular price of $6.50.

Farewell Concert Tomorrow.

Those intending to be present at the farewell concert of the 115th Battalion band in the Imperial Theatre tomorrow night should make their reservations of seats as soon as possible. The exchange opened on Saturday in the lobby of the theatre and there has been a steady demand. Box and theatre parties are being organized by several and reservations for these have in part been made. The concert will be of a high musical standard. In addition to the band's selections there will be vocal and other instrumental features of attractive interest.

SONS OF ENGLAND CHURCH SERVICE

Rev. Mr. McPherson Preached Annual Sermon to Representative Gathering Yesterday.

The Sons of England held their annual service yesterday at the Central Baptist church. This society has a total membership in St. John of four hundred and fifty, out of which number one hundred and twenty have enlisted. The total number of members throughout the world is in the vicinity of forty thousand.

A fund amounting to $28,000 has been set aside for the relief of widows and orphans of the S. O. E. who have given their lives for the empire.

Taking for his subject, "A Britisher's Inheritance," and Psalm 136, Rev. J. D. McPherson said in part: "Members of this army are together in a common cause. They believe that life is worth living, and that the real business is to make a life, rather than make a living."

"There seems, flowing in British veins, a fraternal bond which holds. Everything in the British Empire is not ideal, there is graft and greed, and petty selfishness, but we find that these things are forgotten when a real emergency confronts us."

"Germany was much mistaken in counting on petty differences as an indication of a revolution. For when that mailed fist of unprincipled encroachment on liberty was displayed in the face of Great Britain how quickly were the petty differences forgotten and the bond of fraternity reappeared in all its majesty."

"As Britishers under the old flag what liberty we enjoy. Other lands may boast of freedom, but from the days of the Charter of English liberties no land has enjoyed the freedom that has prevailed where floated on the breeze the Union Jack."

"Britain did not hesitate when Belgium's liberty was trampled in the dust to pour her blood and best blood to check the ruthless tyrant whose iron heel was thus taking its initial step to trample on the liberty of the world and repeatedly there came from highest sources the word that there be no flag of truce until Belgium's liberty has been restored and the power of tyranny broken."

"Britain has never failed at the cost of life or money to protect and liberate her subjects when unjustly treated in any part of the world."

The reverend gentleman referred to the personal loyalty which is due to the empire for the honor of the inheritance, closing with the following phrase, "Be loyal to God, to your country and the principles of your order."

OBITUARY.

Mrs. William Marr.

On Saturday, May 27th, Mrs. William Marr, a lifelong beloved and respected resident of Millstream, Kings Co., passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. McAfee, Waterloo street. Mrs. Marr has been in failing health for some time and leaves behind her husband, three sons and four daughters, Davenport Ewing of West Virginia, James A., and John A. Ewing of Littleton, Mass and four daughters, Mrs. W. G. Dunlop and Mrs. Earl Hayes, of Calgary, Alta., Mrs. Thos. McAfee of Roxbury, Mass., also four step-children, Mrs. Holmes of Collina, Kings Co., Mrs. Saunders of St. John, Mrs. Lister of Boston, and John Marr of California.

Mrs. Emily Johnston.

Mrs. Emily Johnston, widow of John Johnston, died Friday morning in South Framingham, Mass. She was a former resident of this city, and friends will regret to learn of her death. The body will be brought here for burial, arriving on Tuesday.

James Kirkpatrick.

The death of James Kirkpatrick, of 23 Delhi street, occurred Saturday morning. He was eighty years old and leaves two sons, James and Earl, both of this city, and two daughters, Mrs. W. Horsford of this city and Miss Edith at home.

Mrs. William Watters.

The death of Mrs. William Watters of 40 Elm street occurred Saturday morning. She leaves, besides her husband, one son, Alexander of this city, two sisters, Mrs. Lena Campbell and Mrs. Lila Scott, both of this city.

James E. Fitzgerald.

John E. Fitzgerald received a telegram from New York Saturday stating that his brother, James E. Fitzgerald, died on Friday in that city, aged about sixty-nine years. He leaves his wife, formerly Miss Kate Wilson, sister of Mr. Alex. Wilson, Carleton, three daughters and one son. Three brothers and two sisters also survive: William, of Carleton; John E., of this city; P. J., of New York; Mrs. John Bradley, and Mrs. Daniel Cronin, of Boston. The deceased was born in the North End and afterwards the family removed to Carleton. While here he and his father carried on a successful sawing business. The late Mr. Fitzgerald has been forty years in New York, where he carried on a large building and contracting business.

Charles Harricks died Saturday morning at General Public Hospital, where he was operated on after being taken there on Tuesday week. He was employed of late in the Maritime Nat. Works, and was a single man. He leaves two sisters and two brothers, Henry of San Francisco, Mrs. Daniel Quinn, Dorchester, Boston; Mrs. Davis, 450, Main street, and William, who resides with her.

GARRISON PARADE WAS VERY FINE SPECTACLE

Men of Local Units Attended Church Yesterday — Siege Battery at St. David's — 140th at Queen Square and 45th at St. John's Stone—All Heard Eloquent Sermons.

"We predict for you great usefulness for Canada and the Empire. We wish you a prosperous voyage and that your further period of training may be pleasant—that you may participate in glorious victories for our arms, and we look earnestly for your safe and early return to the hearts and homes you leave behind you." Mayor Hayes to the boys of No. 7 Siege Battery, for whom the farewell church parade was arranged yesterday.

Perhaps never again will the city of St. John have the honor and pleasure of witnessing another garrison church parade like the one held yesterday morning.

Long before the hour set for the parade hundreds gathered at the head of King street in order to select some elevated position to view that inspiring procession, and by 10:30 a.m. the main streets of St. John were one swaying mass of humanity. From the head of King street down to Market Square both sides of the street were thronged.

At 10:30 a.m. the 115th Battalion took its place along the south side of King street and in two columns extended from Charlotte street down as far as German street. Every man with that keen bright look and smart appearance which has made the Canadian soldier the idol of the British Empire. Each officer commanding the respective sections stood in front of his section.

Shortly after the 140th, under command of Col. Beer, took up their position upon the north side of King street facing Col. Wedderburn's battalion, forming one long even thoroughfare of khaki.

At 10:35 a.m. Brigadier McLean, Lt. Col. Powell and Major Stetham passed up through the two columns and after viewing the Siege Battery, which was then stationed on the south side of King Square, returned to the place of inspection in front of the Royal Hotel.

At Sharp 10:40 a.m. No. 7 O. S. Siege Battery, C. E. F., headed by the drum and bugle band, and under command of Major Allen commenced upon a march, although short in length, that will be remembered by every man in the unit. Such applause, vibrating throughout the length and breadth of the street. Cheers, from the time the first foot was placed between the two columns of khaki until the help of the Lord Jesus and it would always be granted.

Siege Battery at St. David's.

No. 7 Siege Battery attended St. David's church and occupied the central front pews. The church was filled with the relatives and friends of the boys. The service was arranged as a farewell but more as a consecration. The hymns were well chosen and heartily sung and special music was rendered by the choir.

The lesson of the day was "The Call of Abraham," and the sermon text, "The Great Adventure." The text was: "Abraham, when he was called, obeyed." The preacher, Rev. J. A. MacKellan, drew a parallel between the great patriarch and the modern warrior who alike hear the call of God, "Get thee out of thy country, from thy kindred and from thy father's house." . . . and in thee shall all the families of the earth be blessed." Like the patriarch they go out not knowing whither and, like him, they go looking for the city having foundations.

The old said the preacher, comes to us as to Abraham. The ear attuned to earth hears only the siren song of ease and greed; but the ear attuned to Heaven hears the cry of need, recognizes it as the call of God, and forthwith consecrates his life to holy living and unselfish service, following the Christ the King in the quiet, yet serious, ways at home, or amidst shot and shell where God's righteousness must be vindicated and humanity redeemed from the iron heel and dead weight of militarism.

The purpose of the khaki-clad soldier and of the patriarch are alike—a city with foundation, rule of righteousness on principles eternal and divine. Today the foundations of civilization are being tested. Hearts and homes are going down in sorrow because into the foundations wood, hay and stubble were built. The substructure was sand and the tides of war sweeping it away threaten the superstructure with its labor of centuries. The European war has proved the colossal folly of militarism. Humanity is looking for a city—a civilization that hath foundations. We, too, seek a city—the city of peace built on righteousness, but until outraged humanity is vindicated and militarism forever destroyed there can be no peace worth the having. "I go," said a celebrated Frenchman to his son, "so you need never go."

The modern soldier may go with the same confident faith, who does God's bidding is surely in God's keeping. When most needed He is most near. Those who go forth to establish a new internationalism go as God's co-workers to lay the foundations of that civilization whose designer and maker is God. But,

"No easy hopes or ties
Shall bring us to our goal,
But on sacrifice
Of body, will and soul.
There's but one task for all.
For each one life to give.
Who stands if freedom fall?
Who dies if England live?"
Though all we knew depart,
The old commandments stand:
"In courage keep your heart,
In strength lift up your hand."

TEXTILE WAGE BOOST AFFECTS 400,000

Cotton Mills in Maritime Provinces Join in General Upward Movement.

An advance in wages in Canadian cotton mills, affecting thousands of operatives, has been made by the manufacturers, thus making the upward movement in textile industries general in North America. In Canada the raise averages five per cent.

The mills which granted the increase included the Cornwall and York plants in this city, St. Croix mills of Milltown, Gibson mills of Marysville, and the Canadian Colored Cotton Co's Halifax establishment. About 400,000 textile operatives in the United States and Canada benefited by the upward wage movement this spring.

The Cornwall and York mills employ 800 hands.

service at the Queen Square Methodist church yesterday. The chaplain of the battalion occupied the pulpit. Talking for the subject of his sermon, "Whosoever abideth in Him, sinneth not. Whosoever sinneth hath not seen Him neither knoweth Him," Capt. M. E. Conlon said:

"Many would have to confess that at first sight they are repelled by such words and in fact the whole chapter in which they occur. They seem too narrow, dogmatic, unpractical and absurdly ideal for a world where most men are neither black nor white but only sober gray. Yet, on closer view we shall see that this text is no mere fossil bit broken off from the dead creed of John, but a rich mine of precious and penetrating truths needed in our own age and life."

"First of all this truth flames out like pure gold through the ore. 'Sin always blinds.' It limits our vision and finally destroys the power of sight. We must remember this in face of the old pagan falsehood which still lurks in some minds that 'sowing a few wild oats' when he is young gives a man a clearer view of life and human nature. Only a painful ignorance of human nature and defiance of eternal law shows in the assumption that dallying in the primeval path will help to open a man's eyes or tasting the forbidden fruits of intemperance, impurity or peerless will enrich a man's experience. Just as soiled and grimy windows mean limited view without and dim light within, so it is when the windows of the soul are clouded with evil and sealed with sin. The lower down you are the less you see. Only those on the heights of life in its purer air have the clear far view."

"For what we see depends upon what we are, our character and dominant desires. We see with our hearts. Our eyes and senses are only the windows through which our souls peer. An evil mind and impure heart look through the eyes for like things and get a view of the world, shallow, false and foolish. Nothing is more pathetic than the wilfully sinful man's idea of God. His God becomes a distorted monster, reflecting his own image. Therefore John says if any man liveth in sin he is thereby making it impossible for him to get a clear idea or perception of God. If we want to see God or His purposes in our personal or national life we have got to renounce the selfishness, greed and impurity which blind us. 'Sin always destroys the vision of God.'"

"But if we look again at the text we see a second precious truth flashing out. The vision of God always destroys sin. If any man is still living in sin-defiled life it is because he never yet has caught a true vision of what God can do in the way of cleaning up and recreating his life. Once Christ is given full sway in one's life the seeds of sin die in his resistless radiance as microbes do in sunlight."

"For two thousand years Christendom has done little more than a 'nibbling' at the Gospel and the great war is the result. This is the full two-fold gospel in the coming year for a new Christendom."

STRIPS OF KHAKI.

Catholic members of the 115th Battalion attended quarter past eleven mass at the Cathedral under Lt. Deven. Rev. W. Duke preached the sermon. The Catholic members of the 140th under Lt. Granman also attended the Cathedral.

Lt. G. S. Grimmer, who recently returned from the firing line, has been officially transferred from the 6th Mounted Rifles to the machine gun section of the 140th Battalion.

Lt. Dowling has been transferred from C Company at Fredericton to B Company in St. John.

Private H. R. Wilcox passed away Saturday afternoon at the Military Hospital.

Lieut.-Col. Forbes, Lieut. Tomkinson and Lieut. Harrison are conducting a recruiting campaign in Richibucto and vicinity for the 145th Battalion.

The 58th Howitzer Battery will not leave Fredericton tonight for Petawawa, as expected. They will probably leave in Fredericton until June 1st.

Lieut. John S. Scott, of Fredericton, has been ordered to report to the 115th Battalion by the headquarters at Halifax. Mr. Scott recently qualified at the headquarters at Fredericton.
