MANY WOMEN ARE REGISTERING
FOR THE PRIVILEGE OF VOTING

Every Woman Should See That Her Name is on the Voters' List Before October 5—Local Council of Women Took Matter up Among Other Business at Meeting Yesterday—House Canvass Suggested.

All women in New Brunswick, who have reached the age of 21 years, are British subjects, and have had their names for six months, have the privilege of voting on provincial matters but they must register. In order to register women may obtain the necessary forms from H. A. Porter, Prince William street, Commissioner Jones at City Hall or Commissioner Fisher at City Hall. After the cards have been filled in with the necessary information they must be signed in the presence of a justice of the peace. Then any one of the revisors will receive them.

It is expected that registration booths will be opened in different parts of the city. In the meantime, however, every woman should see that her name is placed on the voters' lists before October 5.

The question of registration has nothing whatever to do with taxation. Women have the right to vote on all matters connected with provincial affairs and the selection of members for the local house.

"I saw an advertisement of a motion picture on the boardings Who Cares? Is this to be the attitude of women towards the privilege of the vote?" These were the striking words used by Mrs. Richard Hooper at a meeting of the Local Council of Women held yesterday afternoon in the King's Daughters' Guild on Chipman Hill.

The meeting was called especially to consider the question of how best the matter of registration could be dealt with by the council and in the absence of Mrs. E. Atherton Smith, the president, Mrs. Richard Hooper, Vice-president, presided. In the absence of Mrs. Estey, Miss Alice Fairweather acted as secretary.

A letter from J. A. Marvin inviting the National Council of Women to visit Moncton and its environs when assembled in convention at St. John next summer, was read and on motion, the corresponding secretary was asked to write Mr. Marvin asking for further particulars.

Mrs. Estey sent word that the grilling fountain which is to be set up in Union street will be ready in two weeks. A motion to ask Mayor Hayes that December 1st, Queen Alexandra's birthday, should be set apart as a day for the Children's Aid was moved by Mrs. David McLellan, seconded by Mrs. J. H. Frink, and passed.

Mrs. Hooper then spoke on the importance of the vote and introduced Horace A. Porter, chairman of the Registration Board. Mr. Porter explained the qualifications a woman must possess in order to register—that she must be a British subject, properly domiciled, having lived in the province six months, and twenty-one years of age. He went into details as to why the lists were not published yet of those whose names are on the assessors' lists, but stated that these lists will be out in three days. By some mistake only the men's names on the tax list were given the Board of Revisors so that the delay was caused.

PUBLIC SERVICE
EMPLOYEES' UNION

Members Last Evening Showed Appreciation of Recent Wage Raise—Heard Addresses on Labor Interests and Women Voters.

Members of the Public Service Employees' Union held a most enthusiastic meeting in Union Hall last night, when addresses were delivered by Fred A. Campbell, president of the Trades and Labor Council, and W. F. Hatheway, who spoke on labor interests, and a young lady from Westfield, who addressed the men regarding the registration of their wives and women relatives on the newly opened voters' lists.

All present showed great appreciation of the recent grant of 50 cents a day, which has been allowed all civic employees whose wages are less than $4 a day. The needs of the men drawing a high wage will be taken up at the next meeting.

Under the presidency of Fred Nicoll, several new members were admitted to the order, and the regular routine business was transacted.

ALL NEXT WEEK.
Undoubtedly the biggest event of its kind will be the City Cornet Band Fall in St. Andrew's Rink, opening next Monday evening and running all week.

Mr. Porter showed why it was necessary for women whose names are not on the assessors' lists to register and pointed out most emphatically that listing has nothing to do with taxation. He said that the N. B. Act is a little broader than the act of Nova Scotia in that the women are registered as individuals and not as the wife, daughter or sister of a man. On being questioned as to why provision had been made for booths throughout the city Mr. Porter said Dr. Roberts said he intended to have three or four booths in the city. Mr. Porter said that the matter and by Saturday announcement would be made in the papers as to the location of the booths—that it was planned to have three or at least one booth in each ward open from 3 to 5 and 7 to 9 o'clock.

A Canvass Suggested.
Mrs. Hooper said it had been suggested that a house to house canvass should be made, and Mrs. W. Edmund Flewelling speaking for the Women's Suffrage Association offered their services in any way. Other members of the council present, stated that at Main Street Baptist church, St. Peter's Church, Portland Street Methodist Church, German Street Baptist Church, and Centenary Methodist Church the women of the congregation are being registered.

Several questions were asked regarding what constituted a British subject and Mr. Porter stated that among other provisions nursing sisters, members of the C. E. F. could vote even if under age. Those with whom registration can be made at present are Horace A. Porter, Prince William street, Commissioners Jones and Fisher or the cards can be taken home, made out and signed before a properly qualified justice of the peace. Mr. Porter advised that cards should be taken around and made out at homes, then time will be saved at the booths.

Mrs. J. Verner McLellan stated that she had twenty-one women ready to go with her to register—that she had telephoned the assessors' office and been told they were too busy there and on telephoning Mr. Porter's office she had been referred to City Hall. Later she had taken a number of women to Mr. Porter's office but not as many as if there had been no delay.

Mr. Porter explained that the man to whom this duty belonged in the assessors' office was away at the time. Mrs. E. A. Young said that the mayor had told her he would give his office for a booth if necessary. Mr. Porter also said that the demand for cards was very great, that persons were taking them out in five hundred, two hundred, and one hundred lots, but that if they were not used they should be returned.

He urged an earnest registration as it would be of great assistance in making up the lists. After thanking Mr. Porter Mrs. Hooper said that all women present could be registered as they were two justices of the peace, Commissioner Jones and W. Frank Hatheway, in the chair. A number of women signed the cards and other cards which will be distributed on the West Side and in other localities.

Engineers Request
Increased Wages

Meeting of Union Held Last Evening—Employers Have Until October 1 to Reply—Claims Put Forth by Men.

At a special meeting of the International Union of Steam and Operating Engineers Local 683, last evening at the Market Building with president E. Banks in the chair, it was decided to again approach the employers on the question of increased wages. It was decided to allow until October 1, in order to give the employers a chance to reply to the union's claims to increase wages.

Early last spring the engineers sent a communication to the employers asking for $28 for 44 hours of work, time and half for overtime, excepting on Sunday, when double time would be asked. The engineers claim that their request was ignored by the employers. Now however they think something should be done in view of the high cost of living.

The union said last night that at present there were some 400 of the engineers drawing the amount asked, but the average weekly pay for $18 and $20.

It was felt that the increase demanded was quite reasonable and the employers. It has been decided that no further action will be taken by the engineers until next Wednesday evening when another meeting of the union will be held.

Celebration of Jewish New Year

Rabbi Doctor Blumberg Spoke Interestingly Last Night Regarding Education of the Children.

Rabbi Doctor Blumberg, conducting the second evening service in connection with the celebration of the Jewish New Year, touched a very important note to his congregation last night when he talked to them in the native tongue regarding the education of children.

In the opinion of the learned doctor, if all children were given the careful attention they should receive and their education properly attended to, there would be far less need for reformatories, houses of correction, prisons and other institutions of the kind, and the vast amount of money now used for building and maintaining such institutions would be used for the building of a brighter and better country through better citizenship.

Proper care of the children is the first great demand of every race, every creed, every religion, he declared, and in this regard he rebuked the Hebrew race for neglecting the good Hebrew teachings and traditions in the following of the modern arts and culture.

The public schools, he thought, were more for the commercial education of the children. There should be a greater and a broader foundation for the child to grow upon and in this regard there is nothing greater than the religious instruction that is received from the church and the Sabbath schools, culture and education, without a foundation of religious instruction, was of lessened benefit, in his estimation.

A very large congregation was present last night, and listened to the service and address, in the Yiddish language, with deep attention. Starting with the sounding of the Shofar, or ram's horn, a service will be held this morning from seven o'clock until noon, when special prayers for the retiring rulers will be given and other thank-offerings made. This evening at 8:30 the closing service of the holiday period will be held, followed by the Day of Atonement and the Feast of Tabernacles, which will be continued for eight days.

Mayor Hayes Talks
About Farming

Says More People Are Needed on the Farms—Claims it is Fine Opportunity for Returned Soldiers.

"We need more people on the farms," said Mayor Hayes yesterday. "During the war many came in from the rural districts and engaged in munition and other war work, but instead of going back, the majority of these people have remained in the cities. There are many farms in New Brunswick which are at present not being worked. Many a young man could make a good living off one of these and at the same time help living conditions in the cities.

Some people think that there is some danger of too many people getting on the farms and then prices would be too low for the farmer, but I believe that the country can accommodate many more farmers than at present and still make no great reduction in prices.

Farming gives an opportunity for work in the open and there should be a fine opportunity for the returned soldiers, who have a knowledge of farming, to settle on some of our provincial farms.

Mayor Hayes has taken a deep interest in agricultural pursuits recently. During the last few years he has done some real extensive gardening, and has first hand knowledge of the conditions in the rural districts.
