N. Y. NEGROES MEET ATTORNEY

New York — For about fifteen minutes before the train from Chattanooga bearing Samuel Liebowitz and Joseph R. Brodsky, International Labor Defense attorney, Pennsylvania Station resounded with "The Scottsboro Boys Shall Not Die."

Nearly 500 Negro and white workers, mostly from Harlem, cheered the defense lawyers as they came in sight. The line of police could keep the people off no longer when Liebowitz appeared with Brodsky and Harold Fox, his 250 lb. body guard. Liebowitz, chief counsel in the Scottsboro case and Brodsky, chief counsel of the I.L.D. were lifted to the shoulders of the workers and carried out of the terminal, while the workers shouted long live the International Labor Defense, The Scottsboro Boys Shall Not Lie.

$50,000 TUSKEGEE FIRE DESTROYS JAMES HALL

TUSKEGEE, Ala., — Tuskegee's second big fire of the year broke out Friday night, December 8 at 6 p.m. in James Hall, one of the dormitories for young women, just two months to the day after the first fire which badly damaged Duglass Hall.

As before, no one was seriously injured. Practically all occupants were at supper. The blaze was confined to the roof space above the attic, and the origin is unknown. The entire building was damaged by water. The estimated loss to the school is $50,000 which President Moton stated is covered by insurance.

WOMAN LOSES LEG ATTEMPTING TO RIDE FREIGHT TRAIN BACK TO ARK. WITH MATE

ST. LOUIS, MO., Dec. — Mrs. Perle Rucker, 19 years old, 2939 Laclede Avenue suffered the loss of one of her legs about 6 p.m. Saturday at Dupon, Ill. while attempting a freight train trip to Newport, Ark. with her husband, Therry Rucker.

In hopping a box car Mrs. Rucker fell. Wheels of the car passed over her left leg. Trainmen called an ambulance and she was rushed to St. Marys Hospital in East St. Louis where the limb was amputated. She was removed to City Hospital No. 2 about 2:15 on Sunday afternoon and doctors reported her in a serious condition from loss of blood and the severe shock of her injury.

IN HIS LOWLY MANGER BED

Once again our thoughts tend backward.

And our love afresh is wed
To the gentle child called Jesus,
In His lowly manger bed.
All about the kine are lying,
And, mayhap, the fleecy sheep,
Yet, in this o'er-crowded stable
Mary croons her babe to sleep.

There has ne'er been such another—
Virgin Mother, meek and mild;
And in all the by-gone ages
There had ne'er been such a child.
Honoured was that crude old building
More than all the inns of earth,
For, 'twas there the Virgin sheltered—
There the peerless Child had birth.

Was there e'er a scene so lowly!
Shaggy sheep and common kine
Housed within that nameless stable
With the Child who is divine!
But our hearts are filled with rapture,
And to praises we are led,
As we greet the world's Redeemer,
In His lowly manger bed.

Grand Jury Probes

Mo. Lynching

JUDGE ADVISES RETURNING OF
FIRST DEGREE MURDER INDICT-MENTS.

ST. JOSEPH, MO., Dec. 14th — Judge Joseph V. Gaddy advised a grand jury, convened here to investigate the lynching of Lloyd Warner 19 years old, to show no leniency for those involved in the mob crime. The jury was made up of bankers, insurance men, merchants, a farmer and a retired master mechanic.

"Those who committed the assault on the Buchanan county jail are equally as guilty of the lynching as are those who burned or hanged the Negro," Judge Gaddy said. He asserted that every active leader of the lynching should be indicted on charges of first degree murder, and advised the jurors to indict witnesses telling untruths on perjury charges.

About twenty witnesses were expected to be summoned and others to appear voluntarily.
