

the day, it frequently happened that only 700 men were left to guard the whole of our extensive works in "Chapman's" attack. In future our force will be increased, and the reserves will be maintained in all their integrity, so as to be ready in any emergency to support the French guard should the enemy make any serious demonstration against our lines. And here I may be permitted to offer one word on behalf of those officers and men who have not had the opportunity of sharing the honours of the campaign. It is a pity that so many officers and men are engaged in general action during this war. I am certain that there is a very general feeling in the army that there should be some distinctive decoration for "service in the trenches." Men have been decorated for gallantry, and for bravery, but no more in danger of death than if they had remained in their club card-room, but no man goes into the trenches who is not exposed to heavy fire and to continued danger. The adjutant-general's returns show that, in a fortnight we have lost nearly as many officers and men as in the regular battle, although it will be observed that the portion of officers who were killed and wounded is far smaller than it is on occasion of drawn battles. A man who has served 300 days in the trenches will have done more than if he had been in the front line of the battle. Why not let him have a decoration? It is only a bit of iron with the words "Trenches" on the reverse side, engraved upon it. The News.
Our readers will find, in our issue to-day, a summary of the news by the steamship "Canada" which left Liverpool on the 29th ultimo. The intelligence leads us to believe that the Russians are fortifying the forts on the north side of Sebastopol harbor into which they made their escape on the capture of the fortress. The allies on the other hand are not only making preparations for a campaign in the open field and sending a large force to protect Eupatoria, but they are also attempting to invest the retreat of the Russian army, and thus rendering its destruction or capitulation a work of speedy accomplishment.
LATER NEWS.
Per Steamship "Union."
THE CAZAR AT ODESSA.
We frequently receive the latest intelligence from the "Boy's Journal," published in Odessburgh. And we are again indebted to our youthful cotemporaries for the following highly interesting dispatches:—
By the arrival of the "Union," we have full particulars of the late assault and capture of Sebastopol.
A dispatch dated Sept. 16, says that the Russians are fortifying the North side of Sebastopol, and constructing new batteries.
The Czar, according to a dispatch from Odessa, is now at that place and has held a council of war.
A Berlin paper has a letter from St. Petersburg, to the 11th Sept., which admits the following:—
"We have suffered horrible loss. General Tchernoff is dead. General Tchernoff, Martineau Zenoff and Wajenkol are severely wounded. Koller is a prisoner. It is reported that General Osten Sacken had committed suicide."
The Vienna Monitor states that the Russians had attacked Kars in two columns, and that they had been repulsed, leaving several hundreds dead upon the field.
A dispatch from Vienna to the 23rd says the Allied fleets had gone to bombard Odessa. The same dispatch says that Pelissier would make an Eastern movement across the Tchernaya, and offer battle to the Russian lumens stores of military clothing had been found in Sebastopol. Accounts from the Crimea to the 18th say that three French divisions had marched to the Tchernaya, and that an action was expected.
Return of the American Exploring Expedition
DRS KANE SAFE.
ACCOUNT OF HIS SUFFERINGS IN THE NORTHERN SOLITUDES.
THE BRIG ADVANCE LOST.
THEY SPEND THE WINTER ON THE ICE.
THE MOST TERRIBLE SUFFERING.
ALL EXCEPT THREE SAVED.
New York, 13.
Great excitement was created yesterday afternoon by the announcement of the news which was first reported by the steamship Union from Havre, of the Arctic Exploring Expedition which was sent out to search for Dr. Kane and his companions, with that intrepid explorer and his brave party on board, all in good health.
The news caused a universal feeling of delight, or it was feared by many of the friends of the Expedition party that they had fallen a sacrifice to the frozen solitudes of the Northern seas.
The party was obliged to leave their largest ship the Advance in the Polar Sea. The Arctic and Release reached this port last night (Oct. 12).
The Kane Expedition lost only three men, losing their two and one-half year's journey.

Dr. Kane's account of his search for Sir John Franklin is full of interest, as well as the history of their wintering in the Arctic Sea. During the winters of 1854 and 1855 they were compelled to leave the Advance, and endeavored to meet with the Release.
Dr. Kane, with several volunteers set out on an open boat over the ice, towards Baffin's Bay, riding on a heavy gale.
During the winter they lived upon raw meat, and surrounded themselves with moss walls.
By the aid of a team of dogs Kane and his party, the Esquimaux, seventy miles.
The party suffered from scurvy and had to go through the most hardships, but are now all saved.
The trial of Dr. Kane is noticed at length in the New York Journals, and has caused general rejoicing. He has been named as Sir John Franklin. The New York Times says:—"Dr. Kane, the intrepid Arctic navigator, after having been given up as lost, has returned home, with the loss of but three men, and his whole expedition, on his brig frozen up in the ice, on the 24th of May, 1855, and then in the open sea, thirteen hundred miles to the north of Greenland. After waiting upwards of a month, a Danish ship found them there, and after subsequent delay of a fortnight they were taken on board and returned home."
Ops in Europe.
From accounts recently received from Europe it appears certain, that a considerable falling off is experienced in the returns of the crops in France and other parts of Europe. This in connection with the immense supplies going to the Crimea will have a tendency to exhaust the supplies of food, and the consequence will be a very large importation must take place. This drain has already been experienced in the American market, and if it continues, the prices, (with the large supplies of grain in America) will not fall much below the present average.
To the Editor of the "G. P. Herald."
—Sir, I have put in a corner of text number of the "Herald" the wages that are paid in the Ottawa region, this year, long lumbermen, or answer to what I hire 15 or 20 cents a day, for per month, for eight months in the place? if you can do so without inconvenience, I am respectfully,
W. H. F.
Most pleasant, Cayon.
We are not able at present, to answer queries of our correspondents, but if any of our friends on the Ottawa will make the trouble of furnishing us with the desired information, we will insert it in our next issue.
Suicide.
We read from the "Thorold Gazette" of a man named Daniel Miller, who committed suicide lately at Allanburg, by stabbing himself with a knife, in the lower part of the lungs. It appears that he had come to the place from Buffalo, where he felt a wife and three children, with whom he had not lived peaceably for many years. This he said was the cause of the commission of his crime. He also stated that he had resolved to take his life, and that he had succeeded at that time he would have attempted it again. An inquest was held, and a verdict returned to the effect that the unfortunate had committed suicide while under a fit of temporary insanity.
MOLERA IN FLORENCE.
A letter of the London Daily News states that no less than 11,000 persons are carried off in Florence, mola in the month of August. The population of the city is, on an average, 100,000, reduced to 60,000 by the mola. The Grand Duke, said to his credit, has set a noble example. Although his family has been afflicted with the mola, he has sometimes assisted in the burial of the dead. It is positively a letter that ten persons were buried alive.
Death of the Hon. Thomas McKay.
It is a painful duty to record the death of one who, for many years, occupied a prominent position, and where he has been most known, but also amongst the people of the province. The Hon. Thomas McKay breathed his last at Allanburg, on the morning of Tuesday last, and was buried on Thursday, the 1st of Sept. 1855, at the age of 79 years, and was therefore aged 59 days at the time of his death.
The weekly earnings of the Great Railway continue to increase. During the week ending September 28th, it amounted to $53,855. The earnings of the road is so great as to require immediate construction of a County Council.

We are not yet in possession of a copy of the proceedings of the County Council, although it will soon be three weeks since the meeting of that body. Can any one tell us the reason of this? We know that a motion was passed in the Council some time ago, ordering the clerk to furnish each of the papers published in the County, with a copy of the minutes. It may be that the Council has rescinded the order referred to, or the clerk may be doing as the justices he did on a former occasion, of withholding our copy, until after the proceedings were published in the Perth papers. We are always anxious to get hold of an early copy of the minutes of the Council, in order that we may be enabled to lay the same before our readers. This we have done year after year, without any charge to the county.
The following small portion of the minutes of the first sitting is copied from the "Barthurst Courier," and is all that we have yet seen of minutes of the October Session of the County Council:—
MINUTES OF OCTOBER SESSION.

Mr. Shaw gave notice that he would, during the present session, introduce a By-Law providing for the payment of such accounts as may be passed by this Council.
Mr. McDougall gave notice that he would, to-morrow move as follows:—"That the Board of Public Instruction and the Ottawa Railway Company have not advanced with the works of the Railroad according to the promises made by the said Company to this Council, and whereas the said Company have failed in paying the interest on the loan made to them by the Municipality, it is expedient to authorise the Warden of the Municipalities of Lanark and Renfrew to return the sum of twenty thousand pounds sterling of Municipal debentures belonging to these Municipalities, now lying in the Bank of Upper Canada at Brockville, to the Government."
Mr. Shaw moved, seconded by Mr. Playfair, and Resolved,—"That this Council cannot refrain from expressing their regret at the delay and pleasure at the recent receipt of the glorious news of the taking of Sebastopol, by the Allied forces, and, with a view of joining in the coming celebration, to take place in Perth, this evening, (1st October), Resolve that all the residents of the County of Perth be invited to the expense of these Municipalities, and that Mr. Kellock be requested to carry out the same, and that the Rule of Council requiring notice of Motions be suspended for such purpose."
The Council then adjourned to 9 o'clock, a. m., to-morrow.

THE NORMAL SCHOOL.

Arrival of the Canada.
Halifax, Oct. 9.
The Canada arrived at 7.30 o'clock this p. m. The Herman arrived on the 24th. Dates are to the 29th.
LATEST FROM THE CRIMEA.
Gortschakoff telegraphs the 23rd,—"The allies landed 30,000 men at Eupatoria, and they have now 30,000 on the Russian flank. The allies attacked the Russian infantry the 22nd, and the latter retired."
The 25th 31,000 Allies, detached from Eupatoria occupied the neighboring villages on the left flank of the Russians. The Russians were fortifying the north side of Sebastopol and erecting new batteries. The French were advancing cavalry and infantry towards Batai Serai. Sebastopol is to be razed and the basins filled up.
A fearful tempest had visited Sebastopol with heavy rains.
SECOND REPORT.
RADIR ROAD.
Gortschakoff reports on the 17th that the Allies had attempted nothing up to that date on the North side. They were contenting their forces between Balaklava and the Tchernaya, and constantly reconnoitering their forces between Balaklava and the Tchernaya, and constantly reconnoitering their forces between Balaklava and the Tchernaya.
Letters from the Crimea mention that the Allies were actively preparing for an attack.
From 30th 40 deserters had arrived at the Allied camp, and said that the demoralization of the Russian army was almost complete, and that such was the confusion from the first moment of the attack, that the soldiers, exhausted with fatigue, remained for 24 hours without provisions. The loss of the Russians is estimated at 18,000 men.
The correspondent of the Paris Patrie writes on the 18th,—"The Russian army has continued to fire shells at us, and it is a mistake to suppose that our armies in Sebastopol are beyond the reach of the enemy's batteries on the northern shore and on the plateau. Balls from the Constantinian beyond Streitzka Bay and they can very easily throw their projectiles into the town. As to the batteries of the other forts, some of the guns in them are so powerful that they can carry shot right over the town and do execution in the advanced siege works, but although the fire does not cease it is not very active."
The artillery and engineers in Sebastopol are everywhere at work. Fort Nicholas, which was left almost intact, has been fortified, and its cannon already reply to the enemy. Any attempt of the Russians to return to the place is wholly out of the question.
The Grand Duke Constantin arrived at Nicoloff on the 20th, and it is said the Czar will shortly visit that place to overlook the winter Crimea campaign.
A letter from Berlin dated the 23rd says:—"Various circumstances at St. Petersburg seem to indicate that Prince Gortschakoff will soon evacuate the North side of Sebastopol, these forts being only strategic points, but great preparations are making by the Russians for a winter campaign."
The Russian treasury has received large sums of money through Berlin. English war material is constantly passing through Prussia for the army.
On the 7th Sept. the Turkish troops at Constantinople intended for Asia were sent to Eupatoria.
The Anglo-Turkish contingent would go to Trebizond, and be placed under Omar Pacha. It is also announced, that considerable bodies of French troops had been sent to Eupatoria.
ASIA.
Vienna despatches say that Kars is greatly straitened for provisions, and that the garrison was eating horse flesh!
Advices from Trebizond, dated 6th Sept., announce that the Russians had abandoned Erzerum and were at Malagumia (?)
THE BALTIC.
Danzic, Friday 28th Sept.
The steamer Baldog has arrived here with the "Pressure" ship, and left for England. The weather here continues unsettled.
The Times Paris correspondent writes on the 27th that the Baltic fleet will winter at Kiel.
GREECE.
Letters from Athens state that the fall of Sebastopol had produced the greatest consternation among the partisans of Russia who were always boasting of the impossibility of the Allies succeeding.
The Ministers waited on the French and English Ambassadors to offer their warmest congratulations.
DENMARK.
The Folketing now in session at Copenhagen, has definitely approved a vote of 14 in 44, of all the proposed Constitutional changes.
NAPLES.
A circular had been given to the police authorities throughout the Kingdom of Naples, saying that although Mazze has retired from office no change will take place in the conduct of the police towards politically suspected persons. The minister of war, Prince Archibelli, who opposed the arbitrary proceedings of Mazze, had also been dismissed.
STRIA.
The Austrian government has refused the publication of the following agreement in the acknowledged official organs:—
THE AUSTRIAN CORRESPONDENCE.
The new state of things may give occasion to a diplomatic contest or sanguinary strife between Russia and the Western Powers, but it will in no way alter the mediatory attitude of Austria.
MARKETS.
From some unexplained cause the usual news and commercial summary, with circulars, &c., failed to reach us, and we consequently have been obliged to make the best selection in our power from the newspapers at our command, which will account for the meagreness of the flour market report.

LIVERPOOL PROVISION MARKET.
