Beside thy path, though none behold, Are angel shapes, the same As is the plains of Mamre old, To righteous Abraham came. They guide thy weak, descending feet,

As deeper grows the vale,
And faster dies the verdure sweet, And falls the fruitage pale.

But glorious, unseen ministers Dwell not with thee slone ; Each promise that thy spirit stire,
As deeply moves my own.
By faith is heard, in calm or storm, A voice o'er all the globe, To-day, as when the Eternal from The whirlwind answered Job :

To show, as in the time of yore, Man's weakness-his decay; And how God reigneth evermore, Though all else pass away; How strength and grandeur e'r abide In godliness and truth; Though humbled low be worldly pride,

And vanished worldly youth. To thee shall death come soft as one Who waketh man from dreams; To show, beyond the glorious sun,
Rejuvenating streams,
More precious than the fabled fount,
Once sought in southern shade,
By Mexic vale and Cuban mount,

And sun-bright everglade

WORM CANDY,

Dreadful indeed are the effects of these pernicious vermin on the constitution, destroying the appetite, vitiating the nourishing prizeiples, and their certain consequences are paleness, emaciation, a stoppage of the growth, etc., and often followed by consumption and decline. Even where werms are not discharged, this medicine acts as a gentle and safe domestic physic—clearing the passages of whatever is poxious, introducing a healthy chyle into the constitution.
