Red menace

Letter to the editor,
Shhhhh. Don't draw attention to me — my life is in danger.
I just wanted to raise the awareness of students at the U of A, who are, after all the future, about the shopping cart conspiracy rampant in Western civilization. Seriously. I mean, the goddam things are everywhere watching everybody. Have you ever noticed how much time they spend skulking in back alleys? And they congregate in shopping centres. What a perfect cover! From their vantage point in retail parking lots they can monitor all our habits vis a vis commercial spending and report back to Gorbachev and the other Commie pinko sunsabitiches. It's time to arm ourselves against the enemy. Welders in North America unite and render the shopping cart menace impotent. Scrap the suckers.

Bikes again

Dear Editor,
I've been wondering why I haven't seen any bicycle letters in The Gateway lately. I mean, I thought it was a regular feature that some dim-witted snork would write in and try to say something new and clever about two-wheeled locomotion. Doesn't anybody realize that there isn't anything new under the sun? But that doesn't mean they shouldn't try. They were always good for a laugh.

Sincerely,
Wayne Sears
