BP Canada has launched a nation-wide competition among universities to encourage research into energy conservation and the better use of energy resources.

The BP Canada Energy Research Prize is open to teams or individuals from any Canadian university. Synopses of their projects will be judged early next year by a panel to be nominated by the Royal Society of Canada.

In July, the winner will be awarded $20,000 to research the project more fully, while cash awards totalling $6,000 will be given for the top three entries.

The Canadian winner will then be entered for the BP International Energy Research Prize, in competition with projects from Austria, Belgium, Britain, Denmark, France, Germany, Greece, Holland, New Zealand, Portugal and Switzerland.

The international winners will be announced in 1982, when prizes totalling 17,000 pounds sterling ($43,000) will be awarded.

Launching the competition as part of the company's contribution to International Energy Conservation Month, Derek F. Mitchell, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of BP Canada, said: "the world urgently needs new ideas to improve the utilization of energy resources. The great value of this competition will be in helping to bring forward the fresh thinking and solid research which I am sure is waiting to be tapped in Canadian universities."

Entry forms available at the Gazette/c/o Update.

MARXIST-LENINIST FORUMS—Fourth in the fall series held each Sunday under the general theme, "Mao Zedong Thought" is an anti-Marxist, counter-revolutionary theory". This week's topic—WHAT IS ALL THE FUSS ABOUT "ACADIAN REGIONAL AUTONOMY"? This talk will expose the widespread dissemination of rabid national and social chauvinism. This is the ideology of the most reactionary sections of finance capital and the lovers of the rich and their system: the NDP, "In Struggle" and the Moscow and worker "communists". It aims to liquidate all resistance to and struggle against the rich, split the proletariat into many warring "nations" and "ethnic groups" so as to render the Canadian people completely incapable of making the rich pay for the crisis. This talk will clarify the pragmatic aims and method of opportunism, "Mao Zedong Thought", from the standpoint of Marxism-Leninism. This analysis lays bare the perfidious "contributions" of the Chinese social-imperialists and their notorious theory of "three worlds". They and their agents aspire to harness the struggles of the Quebec nation and the Acadian and other oppressed peoples for genuine democracy to the objectives of the rich, summed up in Trudeau's "national unity" fraud, Levesque's "independence" fraud and Clark's "community of communities". This chauvinist campaign can also be seen in the hysteria being whipped up over foreign students in the universities, that Canada is "the best country in the world" and the attempts to get workers to give up their wage demands as a "patriotic" act so as to "make Canadian commodities competitive on the world market." Sunday, October 28, 2:00 p.m., Room 410-412, Dalhousie SUB, sponsored by Dalhousie Student Movement.
