necessity for keeping the matter alive, they appointed this committee, as has already been mentioned, to prepare a memorandum on the subject.

In submitting this memorandum for your consideration, the committee feel that the subject is one which should appeal strongly to all who are interested in the welfare of our Dominion, and they think the facts herein contained should be sufficient to show the necessity for a beginning being made towards a geodetic survey of our country.

They earnestly ask you to do anything you can to assist the Association in bringing this matter to the notice of any who are likely to be interested in seeing this much needed work begun, all of which is respectfully submitted.
