BALLOT WON

In an interesting Debate the Macaulay Club Decided Against the Re-Establishment of Open Voting.

The Macaulay Club held a well-attended and interesting meeting in the Public Library Auditorium on Saturday evening, when one of the best debates of the season was listened to.

The president, H. W. Anderson, occupied the chair, and there were also present the secretary, Dr. Geo. Macdonald, and J. S. Lane, Edwin Bell, Chas. E. Beeston, Fred Stone, J. W. Young, F. D. Laurie, H. D. Smith, Harry Stevens, Thos. Scullard and others.

A committee, consisting of Dr. Musson, Crown Attorney H. D. Smith, F. D. Laurie and Edwin Bell, was appointed to make preliminary arrangements for the Club's annual dinner, and report.

The subject of the debate was: "Resolved that in federal, provincial elections open voting would be preferable to the ballot."

J. S. Lane led the affirmative and associated with him were H. J. Stevens, Chas. E. Beeston and F. D. Laurie.

Edwin Bell championed the negative with Fred Stone, J. W. Young and H. D. Smith.

Decision was given to the negative. Thos. Scullard, as critic, gave a capital address abounding in pertinent suggestions to the speakers.

The executive committee will meet this week to arrange the program for next Saturday's and succeeding meetings.

Liners Have Hard Time.

Crown Attorney Scores a Young Lawyer Who Had Sought to Annoy a Lady Witness.

The Crown Attorney and J. G. Kerr had a little passage at arms at the Police Court this morning. A young girl was accused of stealing money from the head dressmaker at the Gordon Store. The evidence was circumstantial. J. G. Kerr defended the girl and appealed for fair play, and urged that Otto Lee, a young man, a stranger in the city, had as much chance to capture the pocket-book as the prisoner. Mr. Kerr, in his cross-examination of the head dressmaker, had put her feelings with suggestive questions.

In reply to the defendant's lawyer's plea for fairness, the Crown Attorney said that the only time that a spirit of fairness entered into consideration of Mr. Kerr's conduct of a case was when he wanted it extended by others. The Crown Attorney had never seen a woman so brutally attacked in the witness box in his experience. And this had been done merely because he had come to court to assert her rights, and the evidence had developed that she had been paid attention by a young man.

Mrs. Kerr—Tell me what I attacked the lady?

Judge Houston—If one counsel will argue at a time, we'll get along better.

Mr. Kerr—He's not going to sling dirt at me. I won't stand for it.

The Crown Attorney then continued his arraignment, fitting in the links as best he could in the chain of circumstances furnished by the evidence.

Judge Houston reserved his decision for a week. He said that there was no doubt the money had been taken. The question was, where did it go?

BROTHER GETS ALL

Medicine Hat, N. W. T., Feb. 4.—H. W. Cresswell, of the Day-Cresswell Ranching Co., the richest rancher in the district, who died in Medicine Hat, owing to gangrene setting in after a slight accident to his foot, has left his entire estate to his brother in Seaford, Ont.

The deceased rancher was for some time a resident of the Maple City and a well known athlete. He was a valued member of the Chatham football club during the seasons of 1890-91.

DRAINAGE CASE

Drainage Referee J. E. Rankin has made an order settling the suit of Rochester Township vs. Tilbury West. This was an appeal from an assessment put on Rochester's roads and lands by the Council of the Township of Tilbury West. After the appeal was launched it was arranged between the two counsels that the assessment should be somewhat reduced and an agreement between them was prepared and by-laws passed for its execution. The agreement was submitted to the referee for confirmation by a formal order. The request was granted without costs to either party.

The publisher of the best Farmers' paper in the Maritime Provinces is writing to us states:

"I would say that I do not know of a medicine that has stood the test of time like MINARD'S LINIMENT. It has been an unfailing remedy in our household ever since I can remember, and has outlived dozens of would-be competitors and imitations."
