Had Heart Trouble and Shortness of Breath for Six Years.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS cured Mrs. K. E. Bright, Burnley, Ont. She writes: "I was greatly troubled, for six years, with my heart and shortness of breath. I could not walk eighty rods without resting four or five times in that short distance. I got so weak and thin I only weighed seventy-three pounds. I decided at last to take some of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and after taking eight boxes I gained in strength and weight, and now weigh one hundred and thirteen pounds, the most I ever weighed in my life. I feel well and can work as well as ever I did, and can heartily thank Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills for it all."

Price 50 cents per box or 3 boxes for $1.25 at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

A man's animosity towards a political opponent is sometimes so bitter that it does not cease even when the opponent is dead. A few years ago a gentleman who had figured most prominently in the history of his country suddenly came to an end of a long and useful life. On the day of the funeral one of the strongest political enemies of the deceased was asked, "Are you going to attend Mr. —'s funeral to-day?" "No," responded the distinguished gentleman, deliberately; "but (dryly) I wish you to understand I heartily approve of it."

Why are horses more spirited, more inclined to go, and in better health generally in winter? It is because cold is one of the best tonics as an invigorator of digestion, as well as of nervous energy and muscular contraction. Judge a horse by yourself. We all know the invigorating effect of a bright frosty morning, how the blood tingles and flashes through the veins, and the whole system is stimulated as with new wine. Coming out of a morning in the atmosphere pure and sparkling, one feels as if he was walking on air. It is the same with the horse. He feels good, and sometimes the most staid old Dobbin will fling his heels in the air in the very exuberance of spirits. Heat, on the other hand, takes out the tension from all the tissues, lessens the appetite, and enervates all the functions. It is depressing because the appetite and digestion are weakened. Special attention should be given the horse in winter, in view of his peculiar surroundings, so that his health may not suffer. Feed him nitrogenous food, but not too abundant of fat-producing material. Have a care to the stable. This is of the utmost importance. Keep the stable clean. None of us need be told what a heat-producer stable manure is. Heat causes the rapid escape of ammonia, which causes weakness of eyes, and is injurious to the lungs. Therefore, keep the stable well cleaned out.
