The Toledo Sugar Beet Compan has been organized with a capital stock of $400,000, every dollar of which is in sight. One of the promoters of the enterprise, Dr. Munson, says:

"In 1890, the Oxnands built their first sugar best refigery in Cheno, Cal Since that time they have built other refineries in that state, and also at Grand Island and Norfolk, Neb. That was when the government paid a any solitary article that poor miserable beet sugar made in the United States. The Oxpards now have their plants on a firm footing and the business is mak-

With the price of this great medium of public information at only 84 per year, it is simply astonishing that anyone should be found so ignorant as to question the fact of tobacco being a ceesary of life. Next thing we know somebody else will be alleging that the products of Joe Seagram, Hiram Walker and Sir John Carling are not necessaries of life either-to the Hardy-Ross temperance government.

The Montreal Gazette says a short time ago the Greeks were clamoring for war. They got it and now they are clamoring "against their king, their generals and their statesmen." This is largely a mistake. They may have a king. At least they had at the time of the last despatch from Athens, but whether he is still in the business or not we wouldn't be positive. But we're certain they are not clamoring against their generals and statesmen because they haven't any to clamor against.

The Banner alleges that tobacco is not a necessary of life. Very good, but then what is? Can the Banner name bounty of one cent a pound on all humanity consumes that is an absolute necessary of life, or that at some stage of the game has not been done without. A necessary of life is simply ing them money -witchout the aid of something that we are so accustome to we feel we wouldn't like to lose. For instance many people regard this widely read and influential family journal as the most absolutely absolute themselves to read our esteemed local contemporary if they really found they couldn't get a first clas newspaper.

Toronto had been recent that the report recommended the reinstatement of Col. Hamilton.

Hon. A. G. Blair is confined to his bed by a high fever the conf ing such treaties with Great Britain, Sir Mackenzie Bowell said he did not well see how the Home Government could approve the tariff unless the explanation of the meaning of the provisions of the tariff by Sir Richard Cartwright were accepted, or they were prepared to denounce the favored nation clause in the treaties, which prevents preferential treatment of the Mother Country. What would be the position of affairs then was quite mear. This new tariff, when adopted in the form of a bill, would repeal all other existing tariff laws. Now, if the new law was disallowed by the Imperial Government, the laws that it repealed would still be in operation, and the A careful analysis of the new tariff shows that out of 426 Rens on the du table list there are 39 1-2 increases, 40 1-2 decreases, 36 items are changed from specific or mixed to ad valorem, nearly all of these being decreases, while 308 items are unchanged. Mr. W. B. McMurrich of the Toronto branch of the Navy League, and A. J. Wickham, secretary, accompanied by Messrs Lount, Osler and Russell, M. F.'s, waited upon Mr. Laurier this morning and strongly urged that the Government should take the initiative in the furtherance of the memorial sent to the Governor-General in De-cember last asking that the Home Government be requested to adopt a comprehensive scheme for protection of inter-British trade routes by mercantile cruisers, manned and officered by a reformed royal navy reserve, which would permit the enrollment abroad of colonial seamen. It was pointed out that the Home Govern Laurier said the subject was chirely new to him, but he sympathized much with the object the deputation had in view, and would bring the matter before his colleagues for consideration.

The Liberals held their first caucus of the session this morning. Mr. Scriver, M. P. for Huntingion, presided and every Liberal M. P. as well as a majority of the Patrons, were present.

Mr. Laurier aroused a good deal of enthuslasm by his speech at the best of the property of the patrons, were present.

The special committee on the railway bills of Messra Casey and Maniean held a meeting this morning Among the railway men present were Messre, William Wainwright, assistant to the General Manager of the G. T. R., and Thomms Tait. Assistant General Manager of the C. P. R. It was the intention of the committee to hear the employes first, but 2s none of them turned up, the evidence of the employers was taken. Mr. Wainwright said that, bill or no bill, the Grand Trunk was doing the work called for. They were equipping freight cars with air brakes at a rapid rair, and already 2291 had been so equipped. Last year $40,000 was spent in raising all classes of box cars to a uniform height.

all classes of box cars to a uniform height.

Mr. Tait stated that there was a standard height for the draw bars of freight cars, but it was impossible to have the tops of loaded cars of a uniform height, owing to the varying nature of the contents. In the future he did not think there would be any inconvenience or danger to trainmen. The C.P.R. intended to put on air brakes as fast as possible. The Westinghouse Company heid all patents and if Mr. Maclean's bill compelling the equipment of freight cars with air brakes was carried it would force the railways to buy from the Westinghouse Company at their own terms. In 1895 there were 2023 engines in Canada, of which 1500 freight engines were not equipped with air brakes. To equip these would cost $750.000. There were 57,447 freight cars, to equip which would cost $4,500,000, and the companies would have to borrow for this purpose. Last year the C.P.R. equipped 1463 cars and 53 engines, and this year he had authority to equip 2000 cars and 100 engines. Mr. Tait considered the fact that the railways were making fair progressing should be sufficient for Parliament and for the

New York, April 28.—The North German Lioyd steamer Munchen, Captain Kuhlmann, which arrived this afternoon from Bremen, reports that on April 21, in latitude 46.40, longitude 31.34, he fell in with the French fishing brigantine Marie, waterlogged and in a sinking condition. The steamer launched her lifeboats and succeeded in rescuing the entire crew of twenty-three men, and brought them to this port. The Marie was bound to the fishing banks, and on April 16 was dismasted in a hurricane. The vessel also sprang a leak, which gained, in spite of the constant efforts of her crew. The brigantine was sinking when the steamer bore down to the rescue.
