REV. RALEIGH H. BISHOP

At Greenwich, this county, on Nov. 19th, at the home of his sister, Mrs. T. J. Borden, a beloved Baptist minister, Rev. Raleigh H. Bishop, passed to his heavenly home at the age of 77.

He was sick only five days; and when on the previous Sunday the illness began he was dressing to attend church in Wolfville.

Mr. Bishop was born in Halifax in 1848, and was a son of the late Jesse Lewis Bishop. Part of his boyhood was spent in Greenwich, where his father was a school master.

He was a graduate of Acadia College in 1878, being a resident student when the first college building was burned on Dec. 2, 1877, and among those who lost their personal effects in the fire.

During his active ministry of many years, he held pastorates in all three of the Maritime Provinces, the last being at Boylston, Guysboro county. In 1881 he married May Woodworth Davis, widow of Frankfort Davis, and to her three little boys, the youngest only three years old, he became such a real father that they refuse to be called step-sons.

His three sons: Horace W. Davis, of Montserrat, Ala.; Henry C. Davis, and Dr. Clarence N. Davis, both of Boston, survive to cherish and honor the memory of one whom they remember as a model father.

His three daughters, Mrs. T. J. Borden and Mrs. J. L. Read, of Greenwich; and two brothers, Rev. C. W. W. Bishop, of Chester, P. E. I., and Rev. G. O. Lloyd, of Wolfville, also survive.

Mr. Bishop has of late years been a member of the Port Williams Baptist church, and the funeral was conducted by the pastor, Rev. O. N. Chipman, assisted by Dr. A. N. Marshall and Dr. J. H. MacDonald. The music was furnished by the Port Williams church quartette.

Dr. Clarence Davis, of Boston, was present at the funeral.

His three sons: Horace W. Davis, of Montserrat, Ala.; Henry C. Davis, and Dr. Clarence N. Davis, both of Boston, survive to cherish and honor the memory of one whom they remember as a model father.

The Home - Proposed by Walter Brown and responded to by Rev. D. B. Hemenon.

The Public Schools - Proposed by Howard Margeson, and responded to by Mr. B. C. Silver.

The Ladies - Proposed by Fred Barrett, and responded to by Mrs. J. G. Elderkin.

The candidates who have been nominated for the Older Boys' Conference meet at Sackville during the Christmas holidays, made brief speeches. They are: Irvine E. Gates, Port Williams; Howard Margeson, Berwick; Fred Barrett, Windsor; Arthur Macumber, Windsor. The election is to be held December 1st.

Taylor Statten gave the good-night talk. "Tonight hundreds of boys all over the world are meeting in conferences and doing just what we are doing, thinking out the same questions and problems that we are thinking. I wish that I could take you to some of the groups in the West. Here the boys are showing a real enthusiasm, some driving for miles to attend the square meetings. Many of the scholars in the colleges who are leading their classes are Tuxis boys. Many of the Rhodes scholars at Oxford are Tuxis boys. These are those who are following the Jesus way, who are travelling the trail which Jesus travelled. If we are trying to follow Jesus we will keep our bodies clean and healthy; we will control our passions, our appetites; we will place before our minds pure and clean thoughts. Many Tuxis boys have returned to school because they thought it a sin to neglect the training of their minds. Jesus increased in wisdom. The standard is high here. The true boy must grow in his mind. He will increase in his soul. Grow in favor with God. He will have God as a friend. He will be unselfish in thinking of others. Taylor Statten's last thought was for the boys before him."

LOCAL GIRL RESIGNS POSITION IN NEW GLASGOW

(From The Eastern Chronicle of Nov. 20th.)

Miss Evelyn Woodman, who has been Victorian Order Nurse in charge of New Glasgow District, yesterday tendered her resignation to the local committee, owing to her health, which demands that she take a complete rest.

During her two years' service in New Glasgow, Miss Woodman has won a high place in general appreciation and made friends in every walk of life. Her illness is learned with the deepest regret and every hope is that she will soon be restored to full health.

The service in which she was engaged here is the most strenuous and strength-taking nature, entailing the greatest self-sacrifice. Those in unfortunate circumstances among whom she carried on her work are deeply grieved at the thought of her leaving, which is the finest tribute to the service she rendered. She goes to her home in Wolfville for a time.

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, Speaker of the Canadian House of Commons, and Hon. P. C. Larkin, Canadian High Commissioner in London, will officially represent Canada at the funeral of Queen Mother Alexandra on Friday.

HENNIGAR-EISENHAUER

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Eisenhauer, Canada, on Thursday evening, Nov. 19 at nine o'clock, when their daughter, Erna Bertha, was united in marriage to Eldon, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Ephraim Hennigar, of Greenwich Ridge. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Chipman in the presence of relatives and friends.

The bride entered the parlor on the arm of her father to the strains of Lohengrin Wedding March played by Harry Kinman, and took her place beside the groom under a beautiful arch of green with bells and roses. The bride was prettily gowned in white satin, trimmed with silver lace, with veil and orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations with maiden hair fern. She was attended by her sister Jennie, as bridesmaid, who was dressed in peach coloredorgette crepe and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations. The groom was supported by Earl Sawler, of Gasperaux.

After the ceremony a dainty luncheon was served to about one hundred guests. The groom's gift to the bride was a substantial cheque, to the bridesmaid a white ivory manicure set, to the groomsmen and pianist military brushes. The bride was a recipient of many beautiful gifts of linen, cut glass, silver and money, testifying to the popularity of the young couple.

The bride's going away dress was of blue velvet with hat to match and black sealote coat. Mr. and Mrs. Hennigar left Friday morning amid showers of confetti for Boston and other cities. On their return they will reside at Greenwich Ridge.

POTATO PRICES IN BOSTON LOWER

Over Demand Stimulated by Fear of Possible Shortage, Caused Advance

Boston, Nov. 23 - Over-demand, stimulated by fear of a possible shortage rather than an actual shortage in this market is apparently the reason for the rapid rise of potato prices, Eugene C. Hultman, chairman of the Special State Commission on the Necessaries of Life, reported today.

Mr. Hultman said that receipts from Canadian sources this November are twenty times as great as in the same period last year. He declared that the refusal of the consumer to pay the high prices demanded, coupled with the additional foreign supply, had already lowered prices about ten per cent.

"Those who are gambling on an anticipated shortage of potatoes next spring may have a rude awakening coming to them, if they sit idly by while foreign potatoes are sold in this market at very profitable prices," Mr. Hultman said.

Two buildings of the Graves & Company's cider and vinegar plant at Bridgetown were destroyed by fire at an early hour last Thursday morning, entailing a loss of about $5,000. The Annapolis Valley Cider Company's plant had a close call, receiving a bad scorching and other damage.
