NO BUSH TEAM

Will be Allowed Stanley Cup Matches.

Ottawa, Feb. 12.—It is stated on the best of authority that Stanley Cup Trustees Foran and Rose have decided to use additional discretion in future in the acceptance of Stanley cup challenges, and will make challenging teams prove their mettle against other teams before giving them dates with the holders of the trophy. The Federal League's challenge for the Stanley cup has not yet been filed, but the trustees have been requested Dr. Dave Baird, president of the Federal, to apply on their behalf for the right to meet the E. C. H. A. champions for the cup. Dr. Baird will file the challenge in a day or two, and strong efforts, it is said, are being made on behalf of the Renfrew Club.

The Renfrew club, after putting up $5,000 for a team and another $1,000 for travelling expenses and equipment are anxious to get a crack at the cup with their regular team.

Wanderers have agreed that they will not protest Pitt or Lindsay, who played with the Edmonton seven. Now, however, it looks as though Renfrew's agreement with the Wanderers may turn out wasted effort. The trustees have held several conferences recently regarding the subject.

SHORT ENDS.

Little Paragraphs of Sport From Far and Near.

New York, Feb. 12.—Johnny Coulon, of Chicago, America's bantam champion pugilist, was the victor last night over Kid Murphy, of this city, in the fifth round of what was scheduled as a ten-round bout at the Whiting A. C. At every stage of the bout, Coulon was Murphy's master, and in the fifth round sent a right to the heart and a left hook to the jaw, putting the local man out.

Toronto, Feb. 12.—Moon "Lee," captain of the Varsity intercollegiate Rugby champions last fall, and a star middle wing left for Georgetown last night to go permanently into mining and prospecting. He will be a big loss to the blue and white.

Pinehurst, N. C., Feb. 12.—Easy matches were the rule in the first round of match play in the fifth St. Valentine's golf tournament to-day. The match of the day was between W. H. Yale, of Cleveland, and G. T. Curtis, of Rochester, which Yale won on the 19th green. Walter J. Travis won by five up and four to play from J. Hains Lippincott, of Atlantic City, and Alvin Laird defeated Thomas J. Ross, of Garden City, seven up and six to play.

Waterloo, Feb. 12.—Nine of Mr. J. E. Sagram's horses which he had bought at the fall sales in Kentucky arrived here last evening. They had been detained in Kentucky owing to the quarantine regulations in force in this city. It is extremely fortunate that the regulations were lifted in time to allow them to enter Canada as six of the shipment are brood mares and due to foal shortly, thus making the progeny eligible for all the Dominion bred races.

STOP THE SHIP!

Windsor Man's Importunities Caused Delay of Big Steamer.

Windsor, Feb. 11.—John Curry, a prominent real estate agent and former banker here, endeavored to delay the departure of the steamer "Deutschland" at New York, and delayed her departure for twelve hours.

Finding his train was late, Mr. Curry telegraphed to hold the steamer fifteen minutes, which was sufficient to start the steamer away on falling tide, with Curry not on board. The steamer ran aground in the harbor, and Curry hired a tug and managed to reach the vessel, after all.

Charles Darwin.

Charles Darwin's personal evolution, is one of the most interesting aspects of this epoch-making man. In early youth he studied medicine; a little later he prepared for entrance into the ministry of the church; he ended by becoming a life-long naturalist. Twelve years younger than Lyell, he had the good fortune to become one of the latter's intimate friends, and it was largely on his advice that he worked up his vast collection of material into his "Origin of Species." A dozen years later he published his far less valuable work, "The Descent of Man," and he continued for some years longer to issue the results of his close and patient observations. His latest book, on earth worms, was published a year before his death in 1882. No scientist who is a mere observer can ever become a really great one; to be able to work incessantly as Darwin did one must have the constant intellectual stimulus afforded by the exercise of the faculty of generalization, which is the crowning stage of the process of induction; it is Darwin's glory that while he was one of the most persistent and accurate discoverers of facts, he was also one of the least dogmatic framers of theories. For the use to which the Darwinians have put his ascertained facts and the extent to which they have carried his tentative theories he is not entitled to either praise or blame.

The Town Council of the ancient English city of Chester has granted a ten-year extension of the lease of the Racecourse, which is public property, to the Chester Race Company. The company is required before the race meeting of 1910 to reconstruct certain stands and buildings at an estimated cost of £10,000. The lease, as extended, will expire in 1929. The Race Company pay the corporation a rental of one-eighth of their gross takings, and this averages £1,500 per annum.

Press notices of the Driscoll-Cross attraction in New York would indicate an even contest, but they were only boasts. They met Wednesday night, when the British boxer put it all over Cross from the start, although Cross had ten pounds the best of it in weight. Driscoll's great footwork and clever dodging were all too much for Cross' bull rushes. Cross tried hard and unavailingly to land in the main finished each round on the defensive. Driscoll's cleverness was undoubtedly a magnet, much has been said about the superb ring tactics of this smart English boxer that all the veteran ring followers were on hand to look him over. Driscoll ruled the favorite in the betting at 6 to 5, with odds of 3 to 1 offered that he would stay the limit, ten rounds. At 5 o'clock in the afternoon the men weighed in at the prescribed limit of 135 pounds. Cross just managed to tip the beam, while Driscoll weighed probably 127. It was figured when the fight began that Cross scaled 138, or possibly 140, while Driscoll could not have weighed more than 128, thereby giving at least ten pounds to the East-Isle pugilist.

CRIBBAGE.

Capt. Lundy's Beach Team Again Beats City Players.

Ten members of the Cribbage Club, in connection with the Liberal Club of this city, went to the Beach last night for a game with Capt. Lundy and his celebrated bunch of 15-two, 15-four peggers. The Beach Club won after a close contest by 19 to 16. The players and scores were:

BASKETBALL GAME WITH U. S. TEAM.

The plan for the big game at the Alexandra Rink between Oil City, of Pa., and the local champions of Canada, for next Tuesday night, opened at the Y. M. C. A. office this morning. The regular prices will be charged and skating will be on from 7:30 to 9 p. m., with 9 musical numbers. The local team will practice to-night at 7 o'clock, also will have a shooting practice Monday night. As this is the first U. S. team to play on this side since the athletic war has been on, the local team is taking no chances, and will do their best to come out victorious. Below is a newspaper clipping from an American paper which shows the superiority of the Oil City team:

"The Oil City Basketball team defeated the Seneca five in a one-sided contest at Seneca last evening, the score being 63-21 in favor of Oil City."

All those wishing to have their seats reserved can do so by calling on Y. M. C. A. office, 1575.

GRANITES' TANKARD.

Toronto Club Easily Won From Ingersoll.

Indoor Games at the Armory Rink.

Toronto, Feb. 12.—Granites defeated Ingersoll in the final game for the Ontario Tankard at the Queen City Rink yesterday afternoon by 50 to 25. The game was witnessed by many curling enthusiasts. The ice was perfect and the conditions just suited the local curlers, who almost invariably tried to draw the shot and with telling effect.

The victory of the Church Street Club was very popular. One reason was that Tom and John Rennie had at last succeeded after many disappointments, when victory seemed almost certain in capturing the greatest of all curling trophies. Other honours have fallen to their lot on many occasions and the coveted Tankard was only needed to complete a record equalled by few and surpassed by none.

The curlers and their friends were invited to the spacious upstairs Queen City Club rooms. President David Carlyle taking charge. He congratulated the contestants and handed over the tankard to President J. D. Shields, of the Granites, who expressed appreciation on behalf of his club, lauding his own players and their opponents. The two teams responded happily. Mr. Rennie told how long the trophy had dodged his efforts and he was naturally pleased to see the result. He excused his opponent on account of the idiosyncrasy of the city ice, which "borrowed" more than the sheets made on the ground.

Mr. Wilson called the finals the grandest games. He had met the best of sports in the history of contests and his ring no doubt would have fared worse, but he was given to the victor. (Laughter.) Mr. Tremble (the manager) was called upon and accepted the honor humorsly.

The visiting skips from Ingersoll were called upon and gave capable manly addresses, short and to the point. President Shields accepted the conditions and excused the "blotter." Mr. Robinson was glad to engage in the hard and skillful play with such honorable opponents. If they were sufficiently lucky to get into the finals next year he then hoped to win.

On the call of Chairman Carlyle three cheers and a tiger were given to victor and vanquished and the Tankard for 1909 was over.

MORE ABOUT I. C. A. C. AND FLANAGAN'S TEAM.

Toronto, Feb. 11.—At last Tom Flanagan's day-dream of a good clubhouse and grounds for the creature of his heart—the I. C. A. C.—is to be realized.

Now do not get it wrong here. This new Scarborough Beach stadium, which Tom Flanagan is to manage, is not an Irish-Canadian clubhouse. It is a big enterprise for the promotion of general athletics—a place where big athletic events can be properly conducted; a place where Toronto and Canadian athletes will find every convenience and facility for proper development and training; a business enterprise, which for its own advancement will encourage good, clean athletics in Toronto and Canada.

But the Irish will be on top of the heap?

Why? Principally because Tom Flanagan is the manager, and Tom and those behind him know that the "big noise" in the athletic world around here was, and now is, the Irish-Canadian Athletic Club, and about to ensure the continuance of this athletic revival "The Irish" will be fostered and kept in the position they now hold.

This is not said in disparagement of the Y. M. C. A.'s or other large clubs. The Y. M. C. A.'s, existed before the Irish were ever dreamed of, and would continue to exist and foster if the Irish were chloroformed any old night. These sports would go ahead, too, in the same old way; but when it comes to stirring up general public interest, the Irish are "it" with a capital I.

The Irish broke into the game in 1907, and though not strong numerically, Tom Flanagan, Tim O'Rourke, Andy Hiron, Ed Kerr, D. Arey Hinds, Fred Lynde, and the rest of the old brigade pulled together and forced the club into the limelight. The club lived and prospered, though little else than the enthusiasm of Flanagan and his colleagues, who rallied behind the Irish club, and the Irish people of Toronto.

MOHL IS CHESTY.

German Wrestler Issues a Bold Challenge.

Fritz Mohl, the big bowling-wrestler, must be aware of the fact that Charlie Conkle is out of the city, for he has sent the following challenge to this city from the Washington Gymnasium:

I will throw any three men in one hour (actual wrestling time), catch-as-catch-can, big or little, and no one barred. My record is well known. I came to this country with George Hackenschmidt four years ago as his wrestling partner, and I held the championship of Germany—Graeco-Roman style—for the two years previous to sailing. I am six feet tall, and wrestle at about 260 lbs. I would like to wrestle in your city. I have met all the good men—Gatch, Yankee Rogers, Beel, Landia and others—and was the only man in the country to get a decision over Gazeaux, the big Frenchman. I will wrestle for a purse, and sum, divided on percentage basis, winner taking 60 per cent or winner take all. Yours truly,

Fritz Mohl, Champion of Germany, 1901-2-3.

Mohl's challenge was telegraphed to Conkle at Buffalo last night, but as yet no reply has been received from him.

INDOOR BALL.

Two Good Games at the Armory Rink.

A large crowd was present at the Armory rink last evening, and saw two fast and exciting games in the City Indoor League.

The first game, between Dynes' Scoundrels and Nationals, resulted in a win for the Scoundrels, as usual. The Scoundrels had their regular line-up. In the field the team played listless ball, but at bat they found Jimmy Bridges for enough hits to win the game. Carey was as invincible as ever with his batters, his speed being too much for the Nationals. George Smith, behind the bat, had the misfortune to injure his knee, but he finished the game, Jimmy Bridges, for the Nationals, pitched fair ball, but the support he got was bad. The teams and scores are as follows:

Scoundrels (19)—Hennessy is, Clark, Smith, C. Backlund, G. Carey, P. MacLeod, D. Dandie, B. Barber, R. H. E.

Nationals (1)—Hughes is, Padden is, Padden, B. White, B. Sheridan, R. Bridges, B. D. MacLeod, R. McMahon, R. Bridges, R. H. E.

Score by innings: R. H. E.

Scoundrels.....2011311-9 10-2

Nationals.....0000000-1 3-3

Umpires—Hottel and Long.

The second game was better than the first. The score was close and till the last man was out the result was in doubt. Both teams put up a hard fight, but the St. Patricks won from the Victorias by a score of 10 to 7. The St. Patricks team presented a greatly improved lineup. Casey, the old stand-by, was on the sick list and was unable to play. "Chick" Sheridan and "Skirt" Barber were the opposing twirlers. With the exception of the last two innings Barber pitched a fine game, and received fair support. The teams:

St. Patricks (10)—Padden is, Backlund is, Nixon is, Smith is, B. Regan is, McGraw is, Westall is, Sheridan is, Victorias (7)—D. McLeod is, B. A. Young is, A. McLeod is, G. Adams is, J. McLeod is, Jackson is, Benzie is, Barber is, R. H. E.
