Job Printing Executed!

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

In response to my request to my readers to tell me about some of the unusual occupations at which they, or any other woman whom they know, are earning their bread and butter or even a little jam to go with bread and butter already furnished, one girl has written me a very interesting and meaty letter that I am going to devote the whole column to-day to quoting it.

She writes as follows: "While my side line is not absolutely unique, it differs from stereotypical employment in many ways.

"Three years ago, when I was living in Los Angeles, my father gave me two large Belgian rabbits. And because I am fond of animals I spent much time with them and gradually added to my stock, later investing in the new and purer breed, New Zealand Red, until at present I keep about three dozen does at work constantly.

"Of course, it is much easier to write the bare facts of the matter than it is to describe the hours I have spent and the finger nails I have completely ruined building pens. Or the tears I shed when one after another of my promising young rabbit families simply lay down and died. But after a few months' experience, I know the why and wherefore of a rabbit's demise, and it doesn't happen again if I can prevent.

"The work means perhaps two hours day of work, and many hours of interest and 'fussing,' but I know to a dollar how much I will have at the end of a month over and above expenses, and it is no inconsiderable amount for a woman to earn at home.

"Besides the financial side of the work, I have found that a healthy interest in 'live things' and the caring for those helpless, eyeless, little wrigglers, that in six weeks will develop into lively young rabbits, will do away with more troubles than one would imagine. Who could stay morose or sour when they had to scurramble wildly over fifty or a hundred small 'frys' in the run, and manage to feed and water them without breaking any little furry necks in the process.

"Then, too, every single rabbit has a personality of its own. I can turn twenty does in together and distinguish everyone and return her to her proper pen, while to the stranger there would be no difference among them.

"There is a steady demand for market stock that, so far, I have never been able to fill, for I cannot devote my time to the work as I wish I might. But for a woman who could and would work six to eight hours per day at it, there is not only money, but big money, waiting.

"With my three dozen does I clear from one to two dollars per day. What could anyone do with fifty?"

Will the young woman who took the time and trouble to contribute this interesting document, please consider herself very much thanked, both by any of my readers who may get a hint from it and by myself.

WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write to Dr. Pierce and receive free the advice of a physician of over 40 years' experience—a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter of this sort has the most careful consideration and is regarded as sacredly confidential. Many sensitively modest women write fully to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce holds that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them.

Dr. Pierce's treatment will cure you right in the privacy of your own home. His "Favorite Prescription" has cured hundreds of thousands of cases of the worst of women's ailments. It is the only medicine of its kind that is the product of a regularly graduated physician. The only one good enough that its makers dare to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper. There's no secrecy. It will bear examination. No alcohol and no habit-forming drugs are found in it. Some unscrupulous medicine dealers may offer you a substitute. Don't take it. Don't trifle with your health. Write to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, President, Buffalo, N. Y.—take the advice received and be well.

Fads and Fashions.

There is a preference for white laces this season.

It requires a perfect profile to adopt extreme coiffures.

Light, filmy laces are trimmed with fur for winter gowns.

The popularity of the one-piece gown does not abate.

More ostrich feathers are being sold than ever before.

Black velvet is paramount as trimming, while satin runs a close second.

Large colored wood buttons are seen on some of the new tailored suits.

There seems to be no cessation in the demand for aliberos and baby Irish.

Chiffon scarfs are worn as sashes with a large belt-pin and tasseled ends.

Scarfs continue in demand and will no doubt see another season of popularity.

Marie Antoinette corsage draperies are a feature of evening and day garments.

Nets are in great demand for evening dresses, yokes, sleeves and separate waists.

Embroideries done with beads are used on both afternoon and evening gowns.

Hair puffs bunched on each side of the ears broaden the face, but are quaint.

Black velvet or patent leather makes the dressiest street boot of the moment.

Shoes with slanted Spanish heels are a natural outcome of the present fashions.

Marabou trimming ornaments the sleeves of many of the latest "little dresses."

Suede leather shoes are again seen and may take for want of a more extreme style.

Raccoon stands first in the list of long-haired furs. Sables, of course, are in great demand.

Irish laces are as popular as ever and are shown in charming bands, edgings and all-overs.

Much used for simple house gowns is a soft woolen material, now called mousseline de laine.

Deadlier Torpedoes.

London, Nov. 7.—A new invention which, it is claimed, will increase enormously the effectiveness of torpedo warfare, has been tested in the great basin at Birkenhead.

By the new plan torpedoes will pierce the nets round warships as a protection, by means of a new and highly powerful explosive, instead of by the cutter with which they are at present fitted. Indeed, if the new invention is approved, these nets will be rendered obsolete.

During the test a torpedo cut clean through a net placed some distance away.

The inventor of the new device is Mr. G. S. Hazlehurst, ex-Mayor of Birkenhead.

Privileges of Empire.

May Vanish Unless Responsibilities are Faced.

London, Nov. 5.—The Times apropos of the Cape Union says: Hon. Mr. Lemieux, in his speech on Thursday night, dwelt eloquently upon the value set on the Empire by the French of Quebec. It has given them the fullest security, as he truly said, for their religion, language, traditions and all they prize in life. It will do no less for the Dutch, but it must always be remembered in Canada and South Africa, as in other parts of the Empire, that the privileges of Empire will vanish if the responsibilities are not clearly and conscientiously faced.

Indigestion & Dyspepsia

In all its Forms can be Cured. It is quite a daily occurrence to hear persons say: "Oh, what a feeling of distress I have after meals, fullness of the stomach, heaviness and headache, I feel too tired to do anything. I have no heart to exert myself and at times I care for nothing. I often have a pain in the pit of my stomach, no appetite, my heart beats rapidly on the slightest exertion. I feel just as tired when rising in the morning as when retiring to bed. My sleep is often disturbed, and I often awake with a sense of suffocation and a difficulty of again going to sleep. I have to be careful of what I eat, and my life seems a veritable burden.

Now, it seems a shame and a pity for persons to be suffering like that when it is in their power to get cured by taking a Bottle of Dr. Stafford's Prescription A. A sure cure for persons afflicted with stomach troubles. It can be obtained at

New Scholarship Scheme in Vogue.

American Girl's Two Years' Course in London.

Tall and graceful, with a personality essentially feminine and attractive, Miss Juliet S. Points was the guest of honour at a gathering of the American circle of the Lyceum Club yesterday afternoon. She has the distinction of being the first woman to win the scholarship which has been endowed by the Federation of Women's Clubs of America with the object of giving to American women the same opportunity of studying English life as the Rhodes scholarship offer to men.

Only one scholarship is yet available, but the scheme has met with the support and encouragement from the Rhodes trustees, and a sub-committee has been formed under the League of Empire, with Sir John Cockburn as chairman, to watch over the development on this side of the Atlantic.

"This scholarship, which is of the same value as those given under the Rhodes Trust, £300 a year, enables me to take a two years' post-graduate course at either Oxford, Cambridge, or London Universities," said Miss Points. "I have chosen London because sociology and economics cannot be better studied than at the London School of Economics, which is famous throughout the world. Another reason is that London is the centre of English life, and therefore must be the best place to study English personality and the English point of view.—Daily Mail, Oct. 22.

To Those Sending Christmas Presents.

Those who are planning to send Christmas packages abroad are reminded that a number of countries, such as Great Britain, Germany, British East Africa, and a great many British dependencies, will not admit packages bearing Christmas stamps if the stamps are affixed on the address side, while Portugal, Guatemala, and Uruguay will not admit packages bearing Christmas stamps at all. Every package mailed to a foreign country should bear the sender's name and address.

25 Knot Steamers.

London, Nov. 7.—The Finest News, commenting on Lord Strathcona's statement that shipbuilders were prepared to build 25-knot steamers for the Canadian service with a guaranteed cost of maintenance two-thirds less than that of the Mauretania, says that if they would also guarantee the absence of fog in the Straits of Belle Isle the deal might be considered closed.

A druggist can obtain an imitation of MINARD'S LINIMENT from a Toronto house at a very low price, and have it labelled his own product.

This greasy imitation is the poorest one we have yet seen of the many that every Tom, Dick and Harry has tried to introduce. Ask for MINARD'S and you will get it.

Smallpox Outbreak in Springhill.

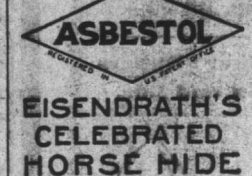

Springhill, N. S., Nov. 7.—(Special.)—The town has been thrown into consternation over a serious outbreak of small pox which has taken place among the strike breakers. Eight cases are fully developed and many suspects are being isolated. The cases are being carefully watched and isolated in the company's houses. The health officer is fully alive to the seriousness of the position. The disease was introduced by some colored people recently imported. The people of the town are necessarily alarmed over the introduction of the scourge in their midst.

Asbestol Horsehide Gloves for Men.

TAKE men who are plying their calling through storm and tempest—the crew of ships handling icy ropes, cases and all kinds of packages in all conditions of weather, many of these packages with nails and sharp edges of iron jutting out at the sides.

Picture a man with pierced and bleeding hands caused by these sharp edges.

The captain from his position on the bridge exposed to the severest cold—the railroad man at all kinds of work—the engineer handling and fitting hot steam pipes—the truckman doing rough and heavy work—the mechanic doing outside skilled labor, and you will say it is necessary for these men to protect their hands with Asbestol Horsehide Gloves.

Asbestol Gloves are made of genuine horsehide, tanned by a mineral process, which makes these gloves stand the test of heat, steam, water and washing—sewed in the strongest possible manner, perfect fitting, and made for rough, heavy and hard work.

These gloves when dirty can be washed with soap and water, can be wet through and dried in the strongest heat and will dry out absolutely as soft and pliable as when new. Made in black and yellow. Size 9, 9½, 10, 10½.

Come in and see these gloves. Prices are low for the qualities.

From Jersey City.

Mr. H. Barrett who formerly worked at R. Pennell's and afterwards at E. J. Horwood, grocers, this city, writes us from Jersey City, U. S. A. He had read in the Evening Telegram the first report of the loss of the S. S. Regulus in which in setting down the names of the crew, those of Mr. Hutchings and J. Grace were not mentioned. Young Hutchings, whom he knows well, was second steward on her when the Regulus collided with the Karema. He went to the States about two months ago. His mother and father are dead but he has a sister living at 35 Field Street, St. John's, Nfld. Up to the time that Mr. Barrett wrote the letter Hutchings' name had not appeared in the report of the passenger list, but it has been published since and he is therefore relieved of the sad duty of being the first to break the news to his friends here, as he evidently thought he would be when he asked us to publish the enclosed particulars. Mr. Barrett's many friends here in St. John's will, no doubt, be glad to hear that he is doing well and has a good position with Messrs. Butler Bros., a large wholesale house in Jersey City, where there are three other St. John's boys working, viz., S. Thompson, James Wilson and M. Murphy.

The Famous Needham Organ—Tens of thousands in use world over. Sold in almost every Cove and Hamlet in Newfoundland. Seven styles to choose from. Liberal terms. CHESLEY WOODS, Sole Agent, 140 Water St.—Nov. 21st.
