Harbor Grace Notes.

Mr. Nuuns arrived from St. John's yesterday, and is to-day doing some repairs to the organ of the Kirk. He expects to be at work for several days.

Mrs. Ambrose Pike and family leave by this afternoon's train for Sydney, where she purposes keeping a boarding house.

Mrs. R. S. Munn, sr., Miss Grace Munn and Master Blanchard Munn left by train yesterday en route to Montreal.

Mrs. R. S. Munn, jr., and two children arrived from Labrador by the S. S. Solway yesterday afternoon, and were just in time to drive to the station and bid good-bye to their relatives who were leaving for Canada.

Business at our Boot and Shoe Factories is now running, and the hands are compelled to work overtime so as to keep up with the orders.

Constable A. Greene, of Old Perham, arrived by train yesterday from St. John's, and remained yesterday and to-day visiting friends. He leaves for home this evening by train and S. S. Ethie. He was the guest of Mrs. A. Dwyer.

The scholars of Victoria St. School were photographed yesterday by Mr. T. Parsons, so as to give Master Blanchard Munn, one of their number who is leaving the country, something to remind him of Harbor Grace and his school-fellows there.

We are having our first touch of winter to-day, and the ground is covered with snow. The walking is very sloppy and disagreeable, and is quite a contrast to the pleasant days of the good old summer time.

When Mr. John E. Walker visited his farm on Sunday morning he was surprised and no doubt greatly discouraged on finding that a dog had played havoc with his feathered tribe during the night. A hen with her brood of 8 ducks were killed, the faithful old mother apparently fighting to the death for her family; two other hens and three turkeys were also found to have been torn to pieces by the dog. In a corner of the enclosure, apparently quite composed was noticed his dogship, but Mr. Walker soon produced a very useful instrument he keeps for such intruders, and sent him across the river of Styx in double quick time. He says he would like it to be understood that he is quite prepared to give up the remains of that dog to the owner, on condition that he prove his property and pay the expenses. When will these savage brutes be totally destroyed, and our people be at liberty to keep useful animals and be free from the dog ravages.

Business Changes.

Mr. John Devine has shifted his business from the north side of Water Street West to the store on Water Street East occupied formerly by Mr. Sydney Woods. The place has been beautifully done up and is a very bright and attractive store. We speak for Mr. Devine a prosperous future.

Mr. J. B. Burnstein, the well known ladies' tailor, has also changed places and is now opened up in a far more commodious establishment than heretofore. It is on Water Street, opposite M. Connors drug store, and Mr. Burnstein should here receive a liberal share of public patronage.

Messrs. Spurrell Bros. have also removed their tailoring and cleansing business from 58 New Gower Street to 365 Water Street, next to Parker & Monroe's western store. They have fitted up the establishment in fine style, and already find that their business has received a great impetus.

Special to Evening Telegram.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—A despatch from Rome states that the bombardment of Tripoli by the Italian fleet has begun. This message was received yesterday at the Italian capital at 11.30 p.m. Up to early this afternoon no confirmation of the report has been received. Though last night's advice indicated that the attack might begin to-day, a message to Italy from an Italian warship off Tripoli, under Sunday's date, quoted the Italian Consul as saying that the bombardment would begin three days after the notification to evacuate, which was given on Saturday. Another despatch to a paper in Rome from Malta last night also set forth that the bombardment would begin to-day. The Turkish Ambassador presented a note from his government to the foreign offices to-day complaining that, contrary to all international rules of warfare, the declaration of war against Turkey had been preceded by hostilities. The intervention of the Powers was asked.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 3.—Replies to the Porte appeal have been received from most of the Powers, but, as expected, they offered little satisfaction. A Lighthouse Keeper's Story.

From the light-house at Lobster Cove Head, Bonne Bay, Newfoundland, Mr. W. Young sends an experience of Zam-Buk, which should certainly act as a true beacon light, guiding all sufferers from skin disease to a safe harbor of refuge.

Mrs. Young says: "I suffered with eczema for seven years, and to my great delight Zam-Buk has cured me. The disease started on my breast, and spread until it extended over my back. The itching and burning—especially when the affected parts were warm—was terrible; and yet when the eruption was scratched or rubbed, it turned to bad sores, and caused great pain. I went to a doctor, and tried various prescriptions, but seemed to get no benefit, so tried another doctor. Again I got no relief, so tried a third doctor, and then a fourth. Although they all did their best for me I got no relief from my pain."

"Seven years is a long time to suffer, and I had got used to the thought that I never would be cured when I saw a report in 'The Family Herald' telling how beneficial Zam-Buk was in cases of skin disease. I thought there would be no harm in giving this balm a fair trial, and bought some."

"Well, from the use of the very first box I saw Zam-Buk was going to do me good. I persevered with it, and the improvement it worked in my condition, was really wonderful. It eased the irritation, stopped the pain, and the sores began to dry up and disappear. In short, I found Zam-Buk all that was claimed for it, and within a very short time it worked a complete cure in my case."

Not only for eczema, but for ulcers, abscesses, varicose veins, bad leg, poisoned wounds, cuts, cold sores, children's eruptions, burns, scalds, and all skin injuries and diseases, Zam-Buk will be found unequalled. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., St. John's, Nfld., for price. Refuse harmful substitutes and imitations.

Work of the Storm.

The gale of N. E. wind which raged all yesterday and until late last night was one of the most severe felt here for many months, and was universal, being felt all over the island and in some of the Maritime Provinces.

What intensified the severity of the weather was the big fall of snow which accompanied it and which was the earliest sign of winter witnessed here for more than 40 years. The streets were covered with 4 inches of wet snow, and as most people were unprepared for it many got wet and suffered great discomfort. Mostly all the telephone and telegraph lines were reported down yesterday evening. As few, if any of the farmers, had in their crops, potatoes, turnips, cabbage, etc., were covered with snow.

Any crafts from the Labrador and coming across the Straits—which did not make a harbor before the storm came up must have had a drubbing; and it will not be surprising if losses of vessels did occur. To the northward of St. John's a good deal of damage was done especially at Quidi Vidi where a heavy sea ran, and several flakes and stages were carried away.

Mr. W. Mallard's stage containing 20 qts. fish and Mr. Pynn's, 12, both were carried away with their contents which also included fishing gear, and the loss to both is severe. On Carter's Hill a pole containing a fire alarm box was blown down, and all over the city telegraph and telephone lines were scattered about; the lines of the electric lighting system stood the test well and not one broke. Flag poles and chimney tops were blown down in different parts of the city, and fences and trees blew down along the suburbs. In 1872 a snow storm occurred about the same date, and on October 4th, in 1881, on October 9th, 1869 there was a terrible storm of wind and snow on the Newfoundland and Labrador coasts, and during its progress Capt. William Jackman, cousin of Mr. E. M. Jackman, saved the lives of 27 persons at Spotted Islands by swimming out through the heavy sea running and returning to land sometimes with two unfortunate people in his arms. He made fourteen trips to the wreck before he had saved all.

Jumping His Bonds.
A resident of Placentia Bay who is under bonds to appear in a case now pending before the Court, was arrested yesterday by the police who say that the prisoner was trying to get away to Labrador on a schooner going there to load fish.

Home Arrived.
The S. S. Home reached Bay of Islands at 10.50 a.m. yesterday bringing 90 people who had been wrecked at Fox Harbor on McRae's schooner L. E. Young while coming home on the 24th September. The Home took them on board at Fox Harbor at 1 p.m. Saturday. The Home had a strong N. E. gale Sunday and Monday.

Broke Her Arm.
A woman named Ryan, residing at No. 24 Adelaide Street, while getting out of bed yesterday morning slipped and fell and broke her left arm above the elbow. Dr. O'Connell who was called set the broken limb and alleviated the pain the woman suffered.

Wrecked Crews.

The wrecked crews—McRae's dealers—who were coming home in the schooner J. E. Young when she was lost at Fox Harbor, arrived at Bay of Islands in the S. S. Home, Sunday, and took the incoming express for their homes in Conception Bay to-day.

Bankers Still at Work.

From recent arrivals from Labrador we learn that despite the lateness of the season that there is abundance of codfish at Bateau and Domino where a fleet of bankers are yet at work. When fine weather prevails and the men get on the grounds they take from 50 to 80 qts off their trawls. More than likely most of these boats will load before they leave the coast.

Trees Destroyed.

The storm of yesterday destroyed many of the deciduous trees in the city. A beautiful shade tree in front of Mr. Chancy's residence, Monkstown Rd., bearing full leaf that gave the wind so much effect on it had the big branches broken off and the tree made a wreck of.

Hammered Tack With Loaded Shell

New York, September 26.—Mrs. Anna Halpit took a loaded one-pound shell from the mantel in her uptown home last night to use as a hammer in driving a tack in the heel of her shoe. She struck the percussion cap in the base of the projectile, and in the explosion which followed she received injuries which probably will result in her death. The shell had been presented to her as a souvenir.

A number of the pieces of the projectile struck Mrs. Halpit in the stomach, tearing her body open. Her left hand was frightfully lacerated, while two fingers of her right hand were left hanging by shreds of flesh. The explosion was heard throughout the building and for some distance around the neighbourhood, attracting a policeman who found Mrs. Halpit's daughter endeavoring to drag her mother from the kitchen floor to a bed. The officer tore off her clothing to make tourniquets and summoned an ambulance. It was said at the hospital the woman would probably die.
