Forest Fires.

Editor Evening Telegram: Dear Sir,—The past three weeks there is scarcely a night a person takes up one or the other of the daily papers to read that he doesn't notice an item stating that there is a bush fire in this place and a forest fire in that place. It appears to be a fire here, a fire there and a fire everywhere. What has become of the authorities who are supposed to look up such matters? Are they all asleep? If so, they had better wake up and get busy. I am informed there is a law on the Statute book where it says there are heavy penalties inflicted on any person who may be discovered to have been the means of setting the forest woods on fire. If such a law exists, why not see that it is enforced? Why is it not upheld, and why do not the authorities get to work; get notices issued, have them placed in the different settlements around the island, stating the law regarding such fires, so that the inhabitants could read them? At the same time offer a big reward to the person who will give information leading to the discovery of such persons who may be caught in the act of wilfully causing these fires. Is it possible that our sports cannot go into the country for a day's trouting or other recreation without setting the woods on fire, and thereby destroy the beauties of nature besides endangering people's property? This island has lost hundreds of thousands of dollars through such neglect. I may say both on the part of the parties who are the means of causing such fires and those in authority whose duty it is to look after the same. I contend that three parts of the fires are caused through wilful neglect and the guilty parties if caught should be severely punished. I don't think there is any penalty too severe to impose on such careless persons and the railway trains are not immune from such causes. A few Sundays ago I happened to take a walk countrywards, and I noticed in two different places that the railway sleepers were burning, and in speaking to a friend he informed me there were no less than seven such fires on the road from the station to Kean's Valley. It is true they did not amount to anything, but there was a possibility of some of them becoming very serious, and then all we see of it is an item in one of the daily papers referring to the same. See what a loss it would be to Badger Brook and its surroundings if that fire which was reported to be blazing there on Saturday last had not been checked by the men employed to fight it. My contention is that there is no fines or penalties stringent enough to impose on such guilty persons, if it is possible to catch them. It is a crying disgrace to see the beauties of nature denuded through carelessness and wilful destruction. Thanking you for space, I remain, Yours sincerely, PRACTICIAN, St. John's, July 14, 1914.

Rube Benteon.

Red Mothee says: B u c k Herzog wept a big wet weep an' lost a lot o' beauty sleep before h i s team went South. His pitchin' staff was on his mind—small wonder that he stewed an' whined an' seemed down in the mouth. R u b e Benton, hurt, was out for good. The docs all said he never would be fit to play again. But fate upset the dope once more, Buck's spirits started into a soar—Rube fooled the medic men.

He started in to use his arm an' findin' that it did no harm he livened up the pace. The ol' southwing reported dead just rose up from its ol' sick bed an' kicked back into place. The season opened. Rube went in an' opened things up with a win an' he's been wining since. Ask Herzog how he pulled the stunt. Buck grins a grin an' says he'll hunt for sugar in a quince. The Rube is goin' to beat the cars an' has the other southwings all humpin' to keep pace. Buck's scoutin' 'round for more sick beds while Rube's bum arm keeps Cincy's Reds a factor in the race. A safety vault in some strong bank can't hold the crown of Eddie Plank, Waddell or Dreisgtein if this new find keeps up his stride. He's started off on one wild ride down baseball's comeback line.

To-Night's Attraction.

The principal attraction for to-night will be the "At Home" in the British Hall, which has been arranged by the promoters of the Caplin Bay Garden Party.

Owing to the many other attractions of the day the Garden Party was not the success that it might have been, and consequently a number of ladies in the city have arranged to-night's event in order to further supplement the funds.

An excellent programme of dances is being arranged and the T. A. Band will render the music for the occasion. Refreshments will be served during the evening, and an enjoyable time is assured those who attend.

WARRANTS FOR STOKERS. Warrants have been issued for the arrest of the stokers who prevented the s.s. "Prospero" from leaving here on Saturday for Sydney.

A Great Story at the Nickel.

FR. BEAUCLAIRE IMPRESSES ALL

The attendance at the Nickel Theatre last evening was the largest for some time. The building was well filled from the opening show until the final. The great attraction was the presentation of Hal Reid's masterpiece entitled "Father Beauclaire." The story is historically true as related by His Eminence Cardinal Gibbons. It tells in a most impressive manner of how Father Beauclaire, rather than betray the Confessional suffered degradation and even death itself. The acting was splendid, and the picture was very favorably commented on. It will be seen this evening for the last time, and no one should miss it. To-morrow there will be a special holiday programme in honor of the visit of the Duke of Connaught. Suitable pictures will be given. The Nickel will be the popular resort to-morrow.

Try Again.

You have, it may be, used ointments, pastes, lotions for Eczema till you begin to get tired of trying things. Well, but you should remember that science is advancing all the time, and that what was not possible yesterday can be accomplished to-day if you neglect to try Zylax—the newest and best thing that science has yet to offer for the relief and cure of Eczema and other annoying and disfiguring skin diseases—you are missing a great opportunity. It may be that it will cure you. It has cured some very bad cases. Price 50c. per box. Zylax Soap, 25c. per cake.

Fishery Reports.

Eagle Point to Mall Bay.—The total catch is 4,535 with 20 for the one trap set during the week. No dorics, skiffs or boats were out. Caplin is plentiful but the men say cod is less plentiful.

Upper Amherst Cove to Cape L'Argent.—About 60 traps, 380 dorics and skiffs and 8 large boats are fishing. The total catch is 500 quintals, 400 being taken in the traps last week. Prospects for the voyage were never worse. There is plenty of caplin and the weather is fairly good. The lobster catch is poor. The fishery outlook is very bad, in fact the hook and line men cannot get enough to supply the tables of their families.

Port Rexton to Trouty.—The total catch is 350 quintals with 30 for last week. Thirty-seven traps are in the water and 40 punts fishing. Prospects are the worst on record. One small lobster factory has done fairly well. There is plenty of caplin and fine weather for fishing. One trap has 120 quintals, another 70, a third 60, a fourth 30, two 10 each and the balance from practically nothing to 5 quintals. This is the worst fishery in fifty years, and the catch is too small to make a daily report.

Anniversary Mass.

The anniversary Requiem Mass will be celebrated at Mount-Carmel Cemetery on Sunday next. The celebrant will be Rev. Dr. Kitchin, P.P., of St. Joseph's, and Mass will begin at 10:30. Recently the Cemetery underwent wonderful improvements: the walks and entire surroundings have been beautified, whilst daily within the past few weeks crowds of people visited God's Acre for the purpose of decorating and beautifying grave plots of beloved ones.

MATCH POSTPONED.—Owing to the condition of the weather last evening the proposed football game between the Stars and Collegians had to be postponed. The game will be played at the end of the season.

Where Responsibility Lies.

No matter how large, or how small, a business may be, nobody can deny that its Office is the nerve centre of the firm. Every transaction, important or trivial, must be recorded at the Office. An order is received at the Office, its history is recorded at the Office, and finally payment is received at the Office. If the Office makes an error the firm stands the loss. That's why you must be sure that your office is modern and adequately equipped for the care of all important papers. To do this effectively you need the up-to-date equipment of the "GLOBE-WERNICKE CO." When sixty offices in St. John's have found this necessity this equipment can surely be of use to you. Mr. Berge Johnson represents this world known firm in Newfoundland.—41713

Good Teeth Test for Marriage.

Dentists as Censors of Cupid. "Many of the illnesses from which children suffer, can be traced to the bad teeth of the mother," said Dr. L. A. Hawkes, late assistant school medical officer to the London County Council, at a meeting of the Council of the Charity Organization Society, recently. "If I had my way," he added, "I would not allow a man or woman with a decayed tooth in his or her head to get married."

Regatta Notes.

The Committee were out again yesterday and met with surprising success.

The Myrtle, which received a thorough overhaul, was put in the water last evening and several crews had a spin in her.

The Mary and Shananditti were also in commission.

The Casual football team will row the Mary on Regatta Day. They are a strapping crew and are looked upon as winners.

Bob Sexton, the builder, expects to put the finishing touches to the new boat this day week.

Minard's Liniment Co., Limited.

Gentlemen.—Last August my horse was badly cut in eleven places by a barbed wire fence. Three of the cuts, (small ones) healed soon, but the others became foul and rotten, and though I tried many kinds of medicine they had no beneficial result. At last a doctor advised me to use MINARD'S LINIMENT and in four weeks time every sore was healed and the hair has grown over each one in fine condition. The Liniment is certainly wonderful in its working. JOHN R. HOLDEN, Witness, Perry Baker.

From the Invermore.

A wireless from Emily Harbour, via Battle Harbour, to the Reid Nfld. Co. yesterday afternoon stated that the Invermore was in the same position as reported on Saturday last. Since the ship struck, the sea has been very smooth and an effort to refloat her may be successful.

St. John's Gas Light Company. Dear Sir,—I have analyzed a sample of Sulphate of Ammonia made at your Works and I found 20.5 per cent of NITROGEN. Sulphates of Ammonia and Nitrate of Soda are the two principal Nitrogen manures.

Sulphate of Ammonia is less soluble than Nitrate of Soda, consequently it is a safer manure to use during a wet season.

Yours truly, D. JAMES DAVIES, B.S.C., F.C.I., Analyst and Manager.

Rigid Laws of War.

Both the United States and Mexico are signatory powers to the "convention with respect to the laws and customs of war on land," adopted at The Hague in 1899, and therefore are bound by its humane proclamations. This convention promulgated a formidable series of rules. The most important restriction which it imposes upon those engaged in war are to prohibit absolutely the following acts:

To employ poison or poisoned arms. To kill or wound treacherously individuals belonging to the hostile nations or army. To kill or wound an enemy who, having laid down arms, or having no longer means of defence, has surrendered at discretion. To declare that no quarter will be given.

To employ arms, projectiles or material of a nature to cause superfluous injury.

To make improper use of a flag of truce, the national flag or military ensigns and the enemy's uniform, as well as the distinctive badges of Geneva (red cross) convention.

To destroy or seize the enemy's property unless such destruction or seizure be imperatively demanded by the necessities of war.

To attack or bombard towns, villages, habitations or buildings which are not defended.

To pillage a town or place even when taken by assault.

To punish a spy, without trial, even if taken in the act; and a spy who, after rejoining the army to which he belongs, is subsequently captured by the enemy must be treated as a prisoner of war and incurs no responsibility for his previous acts or espionage.

To compel the population of occupied territory to take part in military operations against its own country.

To bring pressure upon the population of occupied territory to take the oath to the hostile power.

To confiscate private property.

All of these specific prohibitions are based on the declaration that "the right of belligerents to adopt means of injuring the enemy is not unlimited." Special provisions are made to compel the humane treatment of prisoners. It is also provided that advance warning must be given, wherever possible, to the peaceful inhabitants of a town before bombardment is begun. In seizure and bombardment it is also commanded that all necessary steps should be taken to spare as far as possible, edifices devoted to religion, art, science and charity, hospitals and places where the sick and wounded are collected, provided they are not used at the same time for military purposes. It is further stipulated that "family honors and rights, individual lives and private property as well as religious convictions and liberty, must be respected."
