HOW TO HAVE A SOFT, VELVET SKIN.

Use Pompeian Night Cream as directed below, and then note how your skin becomes soft and velvety. This Cold Cream will prove one of the most valuable toilet accessories you have ever used. Its continued and frequent use will prove most beneficial to dry skin.

Direction for Use.

Just try this simple treatment every night before retiring: First, coat your face thickly with Pompeian Night Cream, patting it gently into the pores. Then, with a soft cloth remove the surplus cream which will bring with it all the day's dirt and grit. Next wring out a cloth or towel in warm water and lay it on the face. Pat it gently, do not rub. Now, rinse the face with cool—not cold water. Dry without rubbing. Then again apply Pompeian Night Cream and leave it on the skin to "soak-it" through the night. "It brings beauty while you sleep." Get the habit of nightly use. Price 50c. per tin.

One Tree is Used, Five Trees Burn.

Twenty Years Will See the End of Ontario's Forests.

Port Arthur, Ont., Aug. 30. (Can. Press).—Forest fires in Ontario during the past summer have destroyed five to ten times the amount of timber put to use by all the mills in the province, declared Robson Black, manager of the Canadian Forestry Association, at the head of the lakes yesterday arranging details of a three months' campaign in Northern Ontario in the interests of fire prevention.

Mr. Black states he had the report of one company that lost 500,000 cords of pulpwood, due directly to carelessness of prospectors setting fires in the woods. One other company lost 50,000,000 feet of pine. Perhaps the most serious loss of any was that in which an Ontario firm lost in one week's fire enough pine to keep the company's mill going for 50 years.

"We have come to the point where we have got to face the cold facts with regard to forest fire prevention. At the present rate of waste the forests of Ontario will be depleted in twenty years," said Mr. Black. "If fires continue at the rate of this summer, Ontario is going to face a large exodus of population attached to the wood users. It will mean that scores of towns in the province will cease to exist as towns which are now dependent on the product of the forest for existence."

Govt. is Urged to Ask Release.

BREEDING CATTLE QUESTION SORELY EMBARRASSES BRITISH MINISTRY.

LONDON.—The British Government finds itself sorely embarrassed over the question of the import of Canadian breeding cattle. The Government considers itself pledged to Canada to remove the embargo on such cattle yet the removal is vehemently opposed by practically the unanimous opinion of British Agricultural interests. Lord Biddislee who was chairman of the Agricultural Advisory Committee appointed by the Government in connection with forthcoming Empire Conference, resigned his position because he is opposed by the Government on this matter.

Lord Allwin, a former Minister of Agriculture, also resigned from committee on same issue. Lord Allwin wrote to the Press yesterday saying that the Govt. should ask Canada to release it from its pledge which was given on a misunderstanding of British Agricultural opinion.

Sir Arthur Griffith Boscawen, who was the minister who actually gave the pledge to Canada, follows with the same suggestion that the Government should beg for release from its bond. He says: "It is clear that I was completely misinformed as to agricultural opinions of the subject of breeding cattle. Canadians have always expressed themselves as most unwilling to ask for anything which would hurt our farmers here."

Household Notes.

If you have some cold boiled potatoes on hand, heat a little bacon fat in a frying pan, chop the potatoes quite fine, add to the fat and stir well. These can be seasoned to taste, browned on both sides and folded like an omelet.

Over one-half cupful of marshmallows cut in halves, pour the juice from one can of sliced pineapple; let stand a while and just before serving add the pineapple, cut in small pieces, fold in one-half pint of cream, beaten stiff, and place in tall glasses.

Russian Colonist Revealed Fortune.

Dying Confession Led to Family Being Traced.

London, Aug. 30.—From Moscow comes reports that a Russian colonist, fatally injured in Canada, in his dying confession to a priest revealed to him that he had a fortune hidden away.

The Russian turned over this money to the priest, who forwarded it to the Vatican.

The authorities at Rome discovered the dead man's family in Russia, and sent them the money that had been left, amounting to many millions of rubles.

The family was identified through a Canadian photograph of the missing son.
