

Large as a Dollar

Were the scrofulous sores on my poor little boy, looking and disgusting. They were especially severe on his legs, back of his ears and on his head. His hair was so matted that combing was sometimes impossible. His legs were so bad that sometimes he could not sit down, and when he tried to walk his legs would crack open and the blood start. Physicians did not effect a cure. I decided to give him Hood's Sarsaparilla.

In two weeks the sores commenced to heal up, the scales came off and all over his body new and healthy flesh and skin formed. When he had taken two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla he was entirely free from sores. HARRY K. RUBY, Box 356, Columbia, Pennsylvania.

BASEBALL.

LONDON VS. DETROIT.

Splendid crowds greeted the Alerts and the ball team of the Detroit Athletic Club at Kensington Park yesterday. The day was made to order and the grounds, despite recent rains, were in the best of shape.

The less said of the morning game the better. The inane play of the Alerts was all the more regrettable and surprising considering the excellent play of which they are capable and which they exhibited in the afternoon. It was an attack of razzle-dazzles such as afflicts the local club happily only once in a lifetime. The cyclone struck them in the visitors' half of the fourth inning, when five or six hits in succession gave the D. A. C. seven runs and a big lead. After that the fielders went to pieces and played like schoolboys. Carney was put in the box in the fifth, and though hit freely and rather wild, gave indications that with practice he would develop into a good left-paw twirler. Hynd, usually a most reliable man, dropped two flies at critical moments. As will be seen, he redeemed himself in the afternoon. More than half the crowd left before the close of the game, seeing that the Alerts had no chance. The visitors played admirable ball right through, as is often the case when a team knows it is winning. Guthard pitched well. The score:

Afternoon Game. The attendance was estimated at 1,500 in the afternoon game, and a gaze over the grand stand revealed numerous faces that had witnessed the Waterloo defeat in the morning. The Alerts have many admirers who will not desert them on account of one severe thrashing. Game was called at 3 o'clock. The D. A. C. made but one change in their batting order, replacing Guthard with Palmer, their would-be star twirler. Hiscott and Quinn were the battery for the Alerts, and Sheere was in right field. The work of both teams was better than the morning game, the fielding at times being sharp and clean. The Londoners redeemed their laurels by capturing everything that would eventually tell against them while in close quarters. Hynd tallied a run in the first on a base on balls, stealing second and scoring on a wild throw of Guiney to first of Spill's hit. Hiscott added the second run in the third on another base on balls. Two passed balls advanced him to third, Palmer was wild, sending Spill and Burton to base on balls. With the bases full and two out Farnworth got in a timely hit. Hiscott tallied and Spill was caught at the plate. Three runs came in the fifth. Ducharme's error put Hynd on first. He stole second and scored on Spill's beautiful drive. Rathburn's wild throw of Player's grounder sent in Spill, and the former also toured the circuit before the ball was recovered. Spill made the last run in the ninth and his second hit off a passed ball and Guiney's error.

For the D. A. C. it looked in the first inning as it was to be a repetition of the morning game in batting and scoring. Hiscott was batted for two singles and a double and sent Miller to base on balls. Burton also added an error of a dropped foul fly. Two runs scored.

The Detroit boys had several chances of scoring up to the eighth, but sharp fielding, aided by Hiscott keeping the hits scattered, prevented them from doing so. A pretty double play retired the side in the fourth. Rathburn opened the eighth with a clean drive, and came home on Ducharme's double, the latter being left on third. Many trembled in the ninth on account of the serious ways looked. Palmer started by dropping a fly to Ball, the only catch he got in the two games. Codd, one of the best batters of their team, drove out a double to left center. Miller landed a single in Ball's territory. Codd going to third, Spill whispered a few words in Quinn's ear, and the plan was soon exposed. Spill's instructions were to allow Codd to score and catch Miller going to second, which was easily done. Rathburn ended the game by going out to Quinn.

NOTES. Barton was presented by a lady admirer with a bouquet on going to bat in the afternoon game, and then struck out.

H. Guthard, the right fielder of the D. A. C., was all over the outfield, and pulled down several long drives in the afternoon.

A small boy with a fire cracker put out Rathburn in the morning game. The urchin threw one at him while he was on first. He turned to grab the youth, Carney threw to Burton, and he was touched while back of the bag.

Rarely does one see a ball player wear glasses. Both Miller and Palmer wear them.

London had eight men left on bases and Detroit nine in the afternoon game.

Someone stated that Hynd had on a new glove in the morning game and that was the cause of dropping catches. He had the same glove on in the afternoon and gobbled in everything.

Bob Leadley looks as young as he did in 1888 and 1889. He has a capital team of ball players, who really outclass the Alerts.

Eleven men went to bat for Detroit in the fourth inning of the morning game.

Larger exits will have to be made. The small doors cause a jam, and on warm days will be annoying to a large crowd.

The umpiring in both games was satisfactory all round.

RACING IN ENGLAND. LONDON, May 24.—The Newmarket spring meeting to-day, the Bedford 2-year-old plate was won by Lady Stamford's Kirk, Connel Cox's Gallant second, James McHeron third.

THE RACE FOR THE QUEEN'S PLATE. TORONTO, May 24.—The opening of the Ontario Jockey Club meeting to-day took place under very depressing circumstances. It had been postponed from Tuesday on account of the heavy fall of rain which had converted the track into what was little better than a bog. However, the rain fell again early this morning and kept up all day, pouring in torrents during the greater part of the afternoon and all the evening. The track consequently was in miserable condition for racing. Considering the wretched weather the attendance was good. The racing was of course very poor, the horses that got the lead throwing mud heavily into the faces of the horses immediately in its rear.

The time generally was very slow. The favorites won uniformly. The time for the Queen's Plate race was slower than any time on record for the distance. It was won by Seagram's Joe Miller in 2:28. This is the fourth year in succession he has won the Queen's Plate. Last year he won with Martello in 2:14—the shortest time on record.

It was a great day for Seagram. He won three events out of six, namely, the juvenile steeplechase, the Queen's Plate, Walker cup. He got a horse second also in the trial purse stakes, the opening event.

The summaries are as follows:

First race trial, purse $400, 3 miles: M. J. Daly's (New York) br c Kanan, 3.....1 J. E. Seagram's (Waterloo) ch h Stone mason, aged.....2 V. Volair's ch a Mirage, 4.....3 Time, 1:23. Laurel, Osprey, Mack and Foam also ran.

Second race, juvenile steeplechase, 2-year-olds, 4 miles: J. E. Seagram's (Waterloo) br c Halding.....1 J. E. Seagram's (Waterloo) b c Rosemar.....2 W. Hendrie's (Hamilton) ch c Flamboro.....3 Time, 56. Rosina Yokes, Stepping Stone, Zana and Superior also ran.

Fourth race, Queen's Plate, 50 guineas, all ages, Canadian horses, $500 added by the club for the winner, 1½ miles: J. E. Seagram's br g Joe Miller.....1 T. E. Hodgson's cam Lou Daly.....2 There were 24 entries, of which only three were scratched. Besides the winners the following started: Lochinvar, Thorncliffe, Dictator, Ben Hur, Annie D, May Blossom, Merry Thought, Harry A, Lightwood, Regina, Homer, Brother Bob, Rosa Daly, Frankie C, Decent, Misfortune, Don M, Mediator.

The race was Joe Miller's from the start. He was leading before the half mile was reached, and increased his lead as the horses came into the home stretch. He finished easily, with the Vicar of Wakefield in his rear and Lou Daly three or four lengths behind. Time, 2:28.

Fifth race, Walker cup, for 2-year-olds and upwards, challenge cup, valued at $1,000, sweepstakes, 4 miles: D. Higgins' b c Major-General.....1 D. Higgins' b c Major-General.....2 Time, 2:23. Victorious, Morpheus, Coquette, Bowring and Royal George also ran.

CRICKET. THE ASYLUM CRICKETERS WIN. The Asylum Cricket Club visited Paris yesterday and played their opening game of the season with the eleven of that place. They came home as they generally do, victorious, after defeating their opponents by a score of 75 to 62 in a one inning match.
