The annual report of the grand patriarch,
D. H. Moore, referred to the steady growth of the order, which has now 69 encampments and at least 3,300 members. He then went on to say that new encampments had been opened at Blenheim, Mount Brydges and Chapleau, while an encampment at Manilla had been re-established.
A new encampment at Campbellford was being projected. He also referred to the steps taken to comply with the Ontario Act, which calls for registration of all societies which involve the insurance prin-societies which involve the insurance price iple.

Mr. M. D. Dawson, of London, the grand scribe, presented his annual report, which says: The order is flourishing in every jurisdiction where Oddfellowship is known on this continent. In many places it is becoming. The following summary from the returns give the membership and standing Dec. 31 [391]: Dec. 31, 1891:

THE PEOPLE'S FORUM.

To the Editor of the Advertisen:

A person invents a machine, leaves a drawing of it at a patent office, and, with the object of ultimately taking out a patent, makes a formal declaration before a magistrate. Is this declaration sufficient protection for one year against any other person who may want to steal the invention? An answer will oblige.

The Garbage Excitement.

Windson, Ont., July 26.—The garbage excitement has broken out afresh at Amherstburg. On Saturday and Sunday nights dumping was continued at the mouth of the river. The stuff came ashore before the residences on the river front, and the people are up in arms over the matter. They have decided to notify the Sanitary Company to quit making that point a dumping-ground, and will report the facts to the Ontario Government at Toronto and the Dominion officials at Ottawa. The United States consul at Amherstburg has also been notified that the barce and tug towing the garbage will be seized.

Little Johnny had heard the minister ex-horting his hearers to strive to enter in at the straight gate. A few moments later when the contribution box was passed around, he whispered: "Ma, are they after
