The president for the coming year at the Talbot Street Mothers' Club will be Mrs. Finley Marshall, who was elected to the office last night at the annual meeting held in the school. "Our Neighbors" was the subject of a most interesting address delivered at this meeting by Mrs. Ed. Pellow of Chsley Avenue Club, who also conductd the elections. A splendid year's work was completed by the donation f $65 towards the Children's Hospital, making the total donation of the club towards this cause $100; $5 to the Y. M. C. A. and $5 to the school milk supply. A vocal solo by Miss Lenore Mitchell brought the meeting to a close. According to W. H. This morning from all parts of the continent several members of the Order of the Soiled Shirt were assembled. Although they had freedom of speech, if they did not have any other liberty, they merely introduced themselves and waited for the court to do as he willed with them.

Earl Bender said that he had ridden from New York on an engine and thought that he was in the woods, but to his dismay found that he was in the Forest City, when he questioned the officer who arrested him. The smoke from the engine, which was heavy enough to blacken one's character, certainly made a changed man. Had it not been that his cap had protected his hair and left it blonde, the young man might have been mistaken for a colored porter by the constable.

The two gentlemen are awaiting deportation this afternoon.

John Davis followed the horses from San Diego, Cal., but did not keep in close touch with them, and so lost out at Windsor. Under the former system the owner gets what he wants, he pays for what he gets, and the contractor's fee is a direct measure of the service rendered. Our firm constructs bridges and dams also, erected the Montreal filtration plant, which is the model of the continent, and I refer the board of education or anyone to the city engineer of that city for a report on our standard of efficiency. The difference between the two tenders was not very great, and the local element prevailed, which is quite natural and to be expected. Perhaps the committee did not know that had my company been awarded the contract all local labor, sub-trades and local concerns, would be employed. All the sub-tenders, excepting that of sheet metal and terrazio, were lowest from London people, and the money would have stayed right here. There is no terrazio firm in London. Of course, the profit to the contractors would not have stayed in London."

Fifty Per Cent of Excess.

"While the committee may have felt that there is no guarantee of actual cost in our tender, we guaranteed to pay-50 per cent of any excess of the estimates, and while theoretically we might run 100 per cent over, the proof of the pudding is in our record of last year of 11 jobs, approximating $2,500,000, where the actual average cost to the owners was 102 per cent of the estimates. When his father arrived upon the lot whereupon he determined to establish a home for himself and his family, not a tree had been cut from off it.
