Gasoline Price Cuts Affect the Morning Session on Montreal Leading Issues On Wall Street.

Associated Press Despatch. New York, June 23.-Resistance was poor in the afternoon against offerings by discouraged holders and short selling, a number of leading stocks ruling a point or more below last week's close. The weakness of American Can and Baldwin has considerable bearing on the trend of other shares.

—Durin gthe morning trading slowed up in all sections of the list. Price changes were mixed. Atlantic Refining broke 5 points to 89, another new low, selling of this and other olis being influenced to some extent by amother series of gasoline price cuts. A persistent demand continued, however, for the public utilities and rails, Nickel Plate touching a new 1924 high at 90. United States Steel common and the other so-called plyotal stocks developed a reactionary tendency, but the recessions were small.
