was perfectly good.

The fruit was to have been opened when he was 21, but for easons unknown to many out-

That midnight vigil in Knox church cannot leave our mind. What had stirred that vast audience to forsake sleep and home? Why that suppressed excitement; the stern faces and not infrequent tears! Those old men bent with years and ares: women too, just as numerous and aroused; young men and maid-ens never more serious! All believed that it was the hour of doom, set by the parliament of Canada, when the church of their fathers would be taken from them and mutilated. Everything taken except that which they had struggled to save of their birthright! Wallace Nesbitt, Jr., Dies After Ten Weeks' Illness -Veteran of War.

Special to The Advertiser.

Woodstock, June 12 .- The death occurred at the Woodstock general hospital today of Wallace Nesbitt, Jun., son of E. W. Nesbitt, and one of Woodstock's best-known citizens. Mr. Nesbitt had been confined to his bed for the past ten days. Survivors are his widow and son, his father and three sisters, Miss Effie Nesbitt of Hamilton, Mrs. Heber Phillips and Mrs. Angus Heightington, both of Toronto. He was a nephew of Wallace Nesbitt, K.C., Toronto. Wallace Nesbitt was born in Woodstock in 1889. He was married to Miss Jean Logan, in Edmonton, on June 11, 1914.

He enlisted in the 64th Canadian field artillery, of Guelph, and was sent to England in charge of a draft. He went to Fran e as a lieutenant with the 18th C.F.A., B.E.F. He was badly wounded in the drive on Cambrai on October 4, 1918, and after returning to Canada, underwent two operations.

Mr. Nesbitt returned to Woodstock and became secretary-treasurer of the Eureka Planter Company. He controlled the Canadian agency for a Holland make of electric lamps, and organized the Woodstock Lamp Company. He was active in the Oxford Golf and Country club, of which he was captain of the men's team.

The funeral takes place Saturday afternoon.

WATFORD CONGREGATIONS ANNOUNCE NEW NAMES

Watford, June 12.—The three local congregations of the United church of Canada have announced their new names this week. The Congregational church, with Rev. T. D. Rayner as pastor, will be known as the Pilgrim United church, formerly Congregational.

The Methodist church, with Rev. S. J. Thompson as pastor, decided to adopt the name Erie street United church; while the Presbyterian church with Rev. H. V. Workman as pastor, has announced itself as the Presbyterian United church.

Special inaugural services as congregations of the United church of Canada, will be held in each of these churches on Sunday.

A delicious supper was served by the hostess to guests numbering about 22, who came from Thames-ford Thorndale and London. Piano solos were given by Miss Janet Ramsay.
