INSPECTION OF IMPORTED NURSERY STOCK

On September 1st the new regulations, under the Destructive Insect and Pest Act, issued by the Department of Agriculture go into effect, mandating all plants for ornamental purposes or propagation, such as trees, shrubs, vines, bulbs, perennials, and except seeds, will be required to secure a permit before the shipments are brought into Canada.

Importations of nursery stock must be inspected before leaving the country, and a certificate of inspection must accompany the invoice. Importations from countries other than the United States can enter Canada only through the ports of St. John, N. B., Montreal, Que., Niagara Falls, Ont., and Vancouver, B. C. At these ports the shipments will be inspected, or in the case of large consignments they may be permitted to proceed to destination for inspection. The importation of certain plants has been prohibited on account of insect pests or plant diseases. Persons intending to bring in nursery stock from the United States or other countries, are advised to write for information to the Secretary, Destructive Insect and Pest Act Advisory Board, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Baby's Own Tablets Of Great Value

Mrs. Hermadine Chagnon, Ste. Theodose, Que., writes: "Baby's Own Tablets have been of great value to me in keeping my little one well and I would not be without them." Thousands of other mothers say the same thing. They have learned by actual experience the value of the Tablets in regulating the bowels and stomach; banishing constipation and indigestion; breaking up colds and simple fevers; and keeping the baby free from the many simple ailments of childhood. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

REMINISCENCES OF BRIDGETOWN IN THE DAYS GONE BY

I may mention Chas. H. Easson and I cannot help paying a tribute to Maurice Calnek, son of Bernard Calnek, of Granville Centre. He was a Prix Chevalier, honest as the day, he neither drank nor smoked, and was a brilliant conversationalist, so that he was much sought after wherever he went. He studied medicine in New York and then went to Costa Rica as doctor on a steamer which was owned by the millionaire, Miner C. Keith, a nephew of Henry and John Melgass, of Peruvian fame. They built the railway over the Andes. He settled in Costa Rica, where he was one of the first physicians, but his health had been undermined by yellow fever, and malaria fever, of which he eventually died. He was generous to a fault, but anything like trickery made him like a wild bull.

Besides the Shipley there was a genial lawyer Timothy Ravelle whom everybody liked, and his equally popular brother-in-law, James H. Thorne. I had nearly forgotten Dr. Forsythe, a good man whose acts of kindness I can never forget.

The above is reproduced in this issue on account of an unfortunate misplacement of a few lines in last issue which rather mixed some characteristics of the persons described.

The painter uses for a foil to his brilliant colours more sombre pigments to bring out the former. So will I before I throw upon the screen my last garish picture, at once calm the eye and enhance the glory of every picture by using the pale grey of the Quaker garb.

I described in a former letter the excellence of the Colonial House, and I wish to emphasize even more that account and if possible add to it.

This time, however, the waves of the sea of life cast me up bruised and cold at the foot of Mrs. Duncan's bungalow. She took me to her room and put me into a warm and comfortable bed. Mrs. Duncan is a true Christian woman, who does not worship the golden calf, but takes for her motto "Do unto others as ye would that they should do to you." She gives her own best in service for a very moderate price—and her best is upper excellent.

Now having rested the weary eye of my readers by my Quaker garb I will proceed to give them my last feature of Bridgetown.

It is a brilliant September day, and the sun bathes the streets in glory.

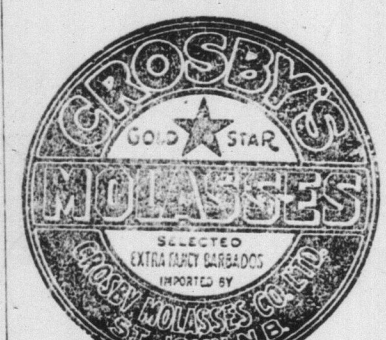

There issues from the door of the old Central Hotel, a tall, handsome, shaggy girl, dressed like the poppies of the field. She has a broad look of her face as though conscious of her beauty. She stills along like a variegated balloon, for she wears the large, striking spectacle in the brilliant sunshine that is merely toned down by the green of the trees that form an arch over her head which is so characteristic of Elmhurst. Any one seeing her could have imagined that she was ancient Greek goddess, say Pallas Athene or Minerva, as she was called by the Romans about to ascend up above the skies, and watch over the Greek hosts that were besieging Troy. She floated along the streets and many admiring eyes were directed at her.

Years after I saw her again. She was keeping a liquor shop near the wharf, but had grown coarse. Her name was A. M. She is dead now. "May the Heavenly Father forgive her her frailties."

Let him who is without sin among us cast the first stone at her.

COLIN W. F. CAMPBELL.

TRY DOCTOR ONION

Few vegetables are more useful for first aid work than the much despised onion.

For hoarseness or soreness of the chest, you cannot have a better supper than boiled onions.

Raw onions, eaten at bedtime, will break up a heavy cold, they will also stimulate a tired person.

If stung in the mouth or throat by an insect, chew raw onion until the doctor comes. It is not necessary to swallow any of the onion: the juice has the soothing properties.

The onion is as valuable for outward application as it is for inward. In cases of burns, raw and pounded onions applied to the affected parts gives immediate relief.

An onion poultice relieves ulcerated throat and bronchitis. Boil a large onion until it drops to pieces. Strain and mash, then lay between soft muslin, and apply at once to the throat. To be effective, the poultice must be hot. Similar treatment is good for hoarseness and inflammation.

When swelling arises, do so with the hands under water, then you will not be troubled with stained hands, or watering eyes.

"Thank God for Tea! What did the world do without it—how did it exist? I am glad I was not born before Tea."

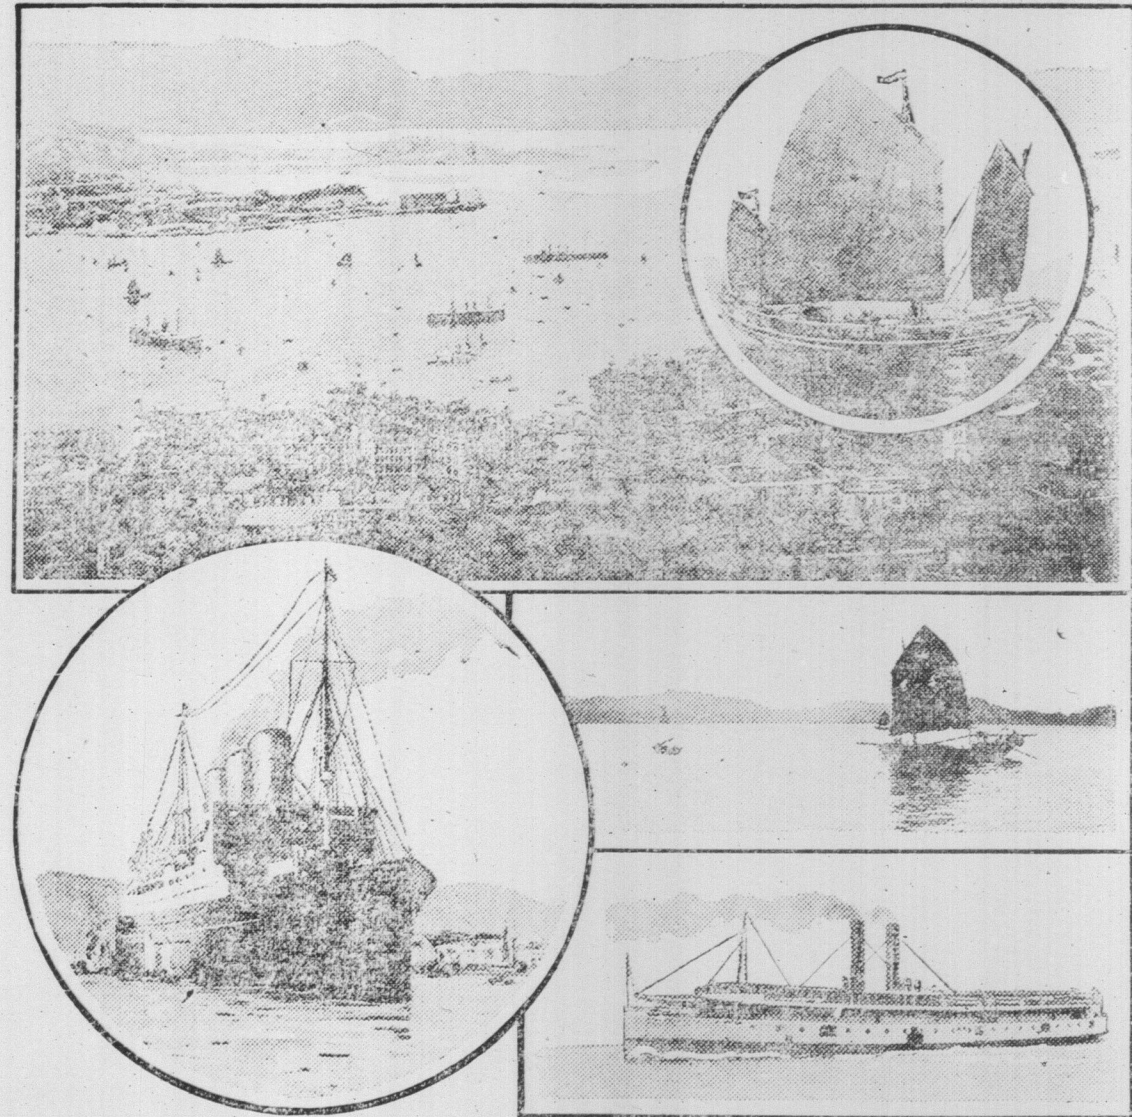

Thus wrote the brilliant Sydney Smith in the early days of the nineteenth century, and countless thousands have echoed his sentiments since. But if Sydney Smith could so enthuse over Tea as it was then, what would he say of it to-day, when science in growing and art in blending have brought your cup of Tea to such a high point of perfection.

And what would he think of to-day's cost? At an incomparably lower price you are able to enjoy Tea of a deliciousness Sydney Smith never knew or imagined.

Indigenous to Old Cathay

(Above) Steamer going from the East, and, inset, a picturesque freight junk. (Circle) C.P.S.S. "Empress of Canada" in Hong Kong harbor. (Right) A sunset view of Hong Kong harbor, and below, one of the palatial river steamers which ply between that port and Canton.

When you make your trip to the Far East, in which China must be embraced, you will be sure to visit Hong Kong and Canton, for both places are renowned in poetry and prose the world over. You cannot, very well, call at Hong Kong without "making your number" at Canton, for the places are only eighty miles distant from each other.

The Canadian Pacific "Empresses" call at Hong Kong and from there you can proceed to Canton by either train or river steamer. Those in the "know" usually go by train and return by steamer, or vice versa. By the train you will be able to focus your eyes on southern China inland scenery and village life. By the steamer you go up or down the Canton river. Both journeys are interesting; but the run on the Canton river will be more enjoyed. A number of the Canton river steamers, as well as being large, fast and spacious vessels, will take a lot of beating as regards accommodation, table and general service. There is at all times plenty of excellent company on board—visitors like yourself, and European residents in various parts of Asia—in whom you will discover charming and instructive companions.

There will be so much to attract your attention in Hong Kong that your heart's desire will be to "just see every place of interest at one time." As your steamer glides into the magnificent harbour hundreds of Chinese junks will be thrust upon your view, under sail, tacking, "going about" and at anchor. They are all picturesque to a degree, with their rich brown sails, peculiar rig—strictly indigenous to Old Cathay—and their hulls with an eye on the port and starboard sides of the bow, for, as the Chinese will explain to you, "Suppose no got eye, no can see."

Stretched before you, as your steamer passes to her wharf at Kowloon, is the noble Praya—now named Connaught Road—or waterfront. The denizens of Shanghai call their waterfront, The Bund. Part of the Praya, to the left, is land reclaimed from the sea. Splendid buildings, with their tiers of terraces, have been erected upon it, among which is that of the Hong Kong Club, one of the most luxurious social institutions in the world.

NOVA SCOTIA LED IN APPLE PRODUCTION

The following is contained in the weekly supplement of the Agricultural and Industrial Progress in Canada:

Halifax—Nova Scotia occupied the premier position in the Dominion as an apple producing province last year, according to figures made public by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics while British Columbia was second and Ontario third. Nova Scotia produced last year 1,881,000 barrels; British Columbia, 1,000,000; Ontario, 809,000; Quebec, 112,000, and New Brunswick 25,000. The total production for the Dominion last year is placed at 3,825,000, as compared with 4,046,000 in 1921.

Fredericton.—The first shipment of seed potatoes this year from New Brunswick to Bermuda, left last week. For several years New Brunswick has been furnishing some quantities of seed potatoes to Bermuda, where there is a demand for northern grown seed stock which is available for the crop that is grown especially for the Christmas market in England.

INCREASE IN IMMIGRATION

Open Door Policy Will Prevail For Those Classes of Immigrants Likely to Succeed.

Ottawa.—A statement of immigration policy was issued by Hon. J. A. Robb, Minister of the Department.

"With the certainty of a beautiful harvest, which in Western Canada exceeds that of any previous year, and the prospects of better times returning, not only for farming but also for other industries," says the statement, "plans are being laid for next season, in the expectation that immigration to Canada will show a marked increase."
