A pleasant feature of the evening was the distribution of gifts in the shape of Christmas bricks by Santa Claus; and then Santa Claus had a case of very handsome pipes presented to him by the members of the choir, in appreciation of his valuable services in the past as choirmaster.

In addition to the memorial which has been erected in British Columbia to Bishop Hills, a handsome monument has been erected over his grave in the churchyard of Parham, Suffolk. The cross is of pure white marble, and the following is the inscription underneath the sculptured roses which adorn the cross:

"Sacred to the loved and honored Memory of the Right Rev. Bishop Hills, D.D.. Bishop of British Columbia, 1859-1885. Born 1816. Entered into rest December 10th, 1895. Requiescat in pace."

The late Bishop's diaries, which teem with interesting details of the Oxford movement, and of his work and adventures in British Columbia, have been left by will to his nephew, and will in course of time be published.

THE GROWTH OF THE CHURCH IN THE WEST.

Western churchmen are proud of their venerable archbishop, and well may they be so when they think of the wondrous extension of the episcopate in this great western land, which owes so much to his whole-souled devotion, unbounded energy, and unassuming self-denial. We give the following table to show the development of the church since he came to the Red River in 1865, and was the only bishop save one west of Fort Garry. Rupert's Land became a diocese in 1849, under its first bishop, Dr. D. Anderson. Bishop Anderson was succeeded by Dr. Robert Machray in 1865.
